

Dale Rogers Marshall, Dean of the College, Wellesley College, Wellesley, MA 02181.

Glenn Snyder, Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, NC 27514.

Delegation From Chinese Association of Political Science Visits APSA Annual Meeting

APSA hosted a delegation from the Chinese Association of Political Science (CAPS) from August 31 to September 15. The visit by eight Chinese political scientists was the latest step in the bilateral scholarly exchange program begun in 1985. Support for the project has been provided by the Asia Foundation.

The delegation was headed by Li Shen-zhi, Executive Vice President of CAPS and Director of the Institute of American Studies in the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (CASS). Accompanying Li were Yan Jiaqi, Director of the Institute of Political Science (CASS); Qiu Xiao, Professor of Political Science, Suzhou University; Shi Xiaochong, CAPS Vice President and Professor of Political Science, East China Normal University; Wang Huning, Professor of Political Science, Fudan University; Hu Qian, Professor of International Law, Beijing University; Wang Yunkun, Secretary General of CAPS; and Zhao Bingchang, CASS Bureau of Foreign Affairs.

The delegation attended the APSA and IPSA meetings and then left Washington for visits to Atlanta where they were hosted by Dean Eleanor Main and the Department of Political Science of Emory University; to Boston where APSA President Lucian Pye guided the delegation in visits to MIT and Harvard, and where Dean Dale Rogers Marshall hosted the delegation at Wellesley College. From Boston, the group visited San Francisco where David Brady and Nina Halpern of Stanford, and Nelson Polsby and Jane Tur-biner of Berkeley organized the last leg of the delegation's visit.

Members of the Chinese Association of Political Science attend University of Chicago's reception recognizing the retirement of Tang Tsou, l. to r.: Wang Yunkun, CAPS Secretary General; Yan Jiaqi, director of the Institute of Politics; Tang Tsou; Li Shen-zhi, executive vice-president of CAPS; and Hao Yufan, APSA program interpreter.

During their visit, members of the delegation examined the nature of a research university, the relationship between research and public funding, the nature of a graduate department, and the process of faculty review and tenure. The group also considered the relationships between federal, state, and local governments, the relationship between business and government, congressional leadership, and the presidential elections.

Report of the Treasurer of the American Political Science Association, 1987-88

Nancy H. Zingale
College of St. Thomas

The Association finished 1987-88 with a surplus of $74,385, extending its string of budget surpluses to nine. Revenue increased by 3.3% over the previous year while expenditures increased by a slightly