1. Four parts of the Proceedings are issued each year.

2. Communications for the Proceedings should be sent to The Librarian, Cambridge Philosophical Society, Free School Lane, Cambridge. Papers by Fellows and Associates of the Society should be communicated directly by the author. Other papers must be communicated by a Fellow, who in doing so should give his opinion on the suitability of the paper for publication.

3. Papers occupying more than twenty pages of print can only very rarely be accepted.

4. It is recommended that each paper be prefaced by a short abstract. Copies of a Guide for the Preparation of Synopses, prepared by the Abstracting Services Consultative Committee and issued by the Royal Society, may be obtained from the Librarian.

5. Drawings for illustration and diagrams should be on a large scale and on smooth white Bristol board in Indian ink.

6. References should be listed at the end of each paper. World List abbreviations for titles of journals should be used and first and last page numbers given where relevant.

7. Authors are particularly requested to prepare their manuscripts in a form suitable for printing, with adequate margins. A pamphlet on the preparation of papers may be obtained from the Librarian. If a large number of corrections are required in the proofs, the Council reserves the right to make a charge towards the cost.

8. Authors may receive, on request, fifty offprints of a paper in the Proceedings without charge.

RUSSIAN REVIEW OF BIOLOGY

Biologists in English-speaking countries are, in general, unfamiliar with biological research and opinion in the U.S.S.R. The new Journal Russian Review of Biology, a translation of Uspekhi Sovremennoi Biologii (Advances in Contemporary Biology issued six times a year by the Academy of Sciences of the U.S.S.R.), aims at filling this gap. As well as original papers there are reviews of both Eastern and Western literature, and it is therefore a unique opportunity of studying Soviet reactions to all contemporary problems of biology.

The English version is being published for the Institute of Biology as part of the programme of the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research for translating major Soviet scientific periodicals and will appear issue for issue following the Russian edition.

Russian Review of Biology will be published six times a year, commencing with the translating of Volume 48, No. 1 (July–August 1959). Three Nos. complete a Volume.

Contents of First Issue English Edition

- A. N. STUDITSKII: Lenin's 'Materialism and empirio-criticism' and Soviet materialist biology.
N. V. BOGOYAVLENSKAYA and V. S. TONGUR: Polynucleotide phosphorylase.
V. S. ASATIANI: The use of enzymes to investigate biological material.
L. A. TIUNOV: The basic properties of xanthine oxidase.
P. A. PODRABINEK: Contemporary views on the mechanism of the erythrocyte sedimentation reaction.
M. HASEK: Modifications of the immunological reaction in embryos and newborn animals.

Current Events

- KH. S. KOSHTOYANTS: The work of the Cambridge biologists.

Initial subscription (for the first nine issues—Volume 48, Nos. 1, 2 and 3 of 1959 and six issues of 1960) £9 (U.S.A. and Canada $30)
