

The Peruvian Industrial Labor Force

DAVID CHAPLIN

This book is a sociological analysis of change and mobility in the labor force of thirteen of the largest textile factories in Peru. It explores demographic and social variables as possible indices of rationality in the Peruvian labor market.

“It is of general value for scholars in various disciplines who are concerned with understanding the structure of underdevelopment which now exists in many countries and the complex problems which will have to be solved before they can achieve a competitive position in the modern industrial world.”—Sillman Bradford, Hispanic American Historical Review. $9.00

Revolutionary Politics and the Cuban Working Class

MAURICE ZEITLIN

The uniqueness of this book stems from the author's ability to get into Cuba during the summer of 1962 and to conduct a series of interviews with Cuban workers on their attitudes toward the Cuban Revolution.

“. . . a really splendid job. I think it is without question one of the most important studies done on the revolution.”—Herbert L. Matthews. $8.50

Princeton University Press

Princeton, New Jersey 08540

Oxford University Press

Mexico

The Struggle for Modernity

By CHARLES C. CUMBERLAND, Michigan State University. The whole story of Mexico's journey from Aztec times to the present unfolds in this one-volume history that supplants every book in English on the history of Mexico. Professor Cumberland concentrates upon dominant social, economic, and cultural trends, relating these to political events, and in particular to the Mexican Revolution. He also probes deeply into the structure of Mexican society, emphasizing critical times of upheaval and change. A volume in the Latin American Histories series. Maps, tables. Cloth, $7.50

A Galaxy Book, GB 244, paper, $2.50

Brazil

The Land and People

By ROLLIE E. POPPINO, University of California at Davis. "This book should enjoy considerable popularity as the basic text in courses on the history of Brazil; and it also should serve importantly as supplementary reading for students in the courses in economics, geography, sociology, and political science which are devoted to Brazil and to Latin America in general."—T. LYNN SMITH, University of Florida. A volume in the Latin American Histories series. Cloth, $7.50. Paper, $2.50

Haiti and the Dominican Republic

By RAYFORD W. LOGAN. This volume compares the history of the oldest independent Negro republic with that of the Dominican Republic and provides a detailed account of United States policy toward both republics. Dr. Logan also examines economic, social, and cultural affairs; religion and voodoo; and geography and population. Published for the Royal Institute of International Affairs. $6.00

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

200 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016

Latin America

Social Structures and Political Institutions

Jacques Lambert. Translated from the original French by Helen Katel

"It is a volume of much insight and suggestion . . . a brilliant volume. Furthermore, he has written in lucid prose. A book of this quality should be made available in English."

—Woodrow Borah, in The Hispanic American Historical Review

Cloth, $10.00; CAMPUS 5, Paper, $3.25

Country Judge

A Novel of Chile

Pedro Prado. Translated and edited by Lesley Byrd Simpson

Foreword by Arturo Torres-Rioseco

Country Judge, one of the finest artistic novels in all of Spanish-American literature, is a poet's attempt to portray his beloved land. The protagonist of the novel, Esteban Solaguren, undertakes the impossible: to administer justice—without sentimentality, but with tenderness and understanding. In inevitable failure he transcends personal tragedy and soars into universals. The story is no longer a portrait of Chile, but of all humanity. $4.95

Approaches to the History of Spain

Jaime Vicens Vives. Translated by Joan Connelly

Preface by José Ferrater Mora

The late Catalan historian's synopsis of themes in Spanish history from ancient times to the outbreak of the Civil War in 1936 explores the socio-economic forces that influence political events. "The translator . . . and the publishers have performed a real service to the students of Spanish history."—Robert D. Harlan in Library Journal

$6.50

The Mexican Revolution

Federal Expenditure and Social Change Since 1910

James D. Wilkie

"[He] has devised an "Index of Poverty" which helps to determine the rate and direction of social change. The approach is unique and . . . represents perhaps the best method for examining social change in the Mexican context."—The Christian Science Monitor

$7.50

FORTHCOMING

Don José Joaquín de Mora y el Perú del Ochocientos

Luis Monguio

Morá, the Spanish writer and Liberal exile of 1823, lived in Peru and the Peru-Bolivian Confederation between 1831 and 1838. The author examines Morá's literary, philosophical, educational and political activities and influence. DECEMBER 1968 $7.00

from California

University of California Press • Berkeley 94720

Cornell University Press

PEOPLE IN RISING
NUMBERS

Human Fertility in Latin America

Sociological Perspectives

By J. MAYONE STYCOS. The population explosion has occurred with greater force in Latin America than in any other area of the world. Professor Stycos explores the reasons in research that ranges from projective testing of Haitian peasants to ecological correlations of Peruvian census data. The information and conclusions will prove invaluable to those interested in Latin America or in the problem of population control in general.

318 pages, tables, charts, $11.00

PRIDE IN PROGRESS

Huaylas

An Andean District in Search of Progress

By PAUL L. DOUGHTY. Huaylas, Peru, is a peasant community that is successfully adapting to a developing modern economy. Professor Doughty paints a vivid picture of the Huaylinos, their culture, their economics, and their government, to show how large public works projects have played a pivotal role in stimulating community pride and enthusiasm for modernization. 328 pages, 3 maps, 6 figures, 38 tables, 23 photographs. A Cornell Study in Anthropology. $12.50

CORNELL UNIVERSITY PRESS
ITHACA, NEW YORK 14850

In Houston, Texas, the University of St. Thomas seeks:

A Latin-American humanist, PhD, with University teaching experience in Latin America, to direct a new program of Spanish-American literature and civilization. Should be able to relate her or his major field of interest to contemporary socio-economic and political change. Will have ample freedom on planning the program with the assistance of three faculty members. Excellent salary, three-year contract, allowance for library purchases, travel and research.

Please write to: John de Menil, 3363 San Felipe Road, Houston, Texas.

Cambridge Latin American Studies

Editors: DAVID JOSLIN and JOHN STREET

A new series of monographs on Latin American history, geography, economics and social studies. Each volume is a detailed study based on original research. The following have been published; others are in preparation.

1. Ideas and Politics of Chilean Independence 1803–1833

SIMON COLLIER

A survey of the political ideas and the interplay of ideas and political action during the independence period between the breakdown of the Spanish Empire in America and the stabilization of the new republic of Chile. $11.00

2. Church Wealth in Mexico

MICHAEL P. COSTELOE

A study of the Juzgado de Capellanías in the Archbishopric of Mexico, 1800–1856. The author examines the differing views of the liberals and the clergy in relation to the Juzgado, and discusses the structure and operation of the Juzgado and its relations with the state. $5.50

3. The Mexican Revolution 1910–1914 The Diplomacy of Anglo-American Conflict

PETER CALVERT

Dr Calvert examines the first three years of the revolution and the associated diplomatic conflict between Britain and the United States. The work includes the first comprehensive presentation of the British side of the conflict. $9.50

These and all other Cambridge books should be ordered from your bookseller

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

32 East 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10022

Caribbeana

1900-1965:

A Topical Bibliography

Lambros Comitas, professor of anthropology and education and director of the Center for Education in Latin America, Teachers College, Columbia University. Gathers together in a single volume complete references to over seven thousand scholarly writings published during this century and relating to the non-Hispanic areas of the Caribbean world. Included are authored books, monographs, reports, articles, and miscellaneous publications organized by topical categories and dealing with Surinam, French Guiana, and British Guiana (now Guyana) in South America; British Honduras in Central America; and all the islands of the Antilles except Haiti and the Spanish-speaking territories. The first attempt to provide comparative coverage for this increasingly significant part of the world, this work focuses on references to material on the people, their culture, and their past; health, education, and welfare; political and socioeconomic institutions; agriculture and environmental conditions; and economic and social prospects. Published by the University of Washington Press for the Research Institute for the Study of Man. 930 pp., end-paper map. $15.00

NOW BACK IN PRINT:

CHICHICASTENANGO

A Guatemalan Village by Ruth Bunzel. Classic study of a center of Indian culture in the western highlands. 464 pp. $7.95

CARIBBEAN STUDIES

A Symposium edited by Vera Rubin. Contributes to an understanding of the socio-cultural complexity of the Caribbean and its relevance to other areas with multiple traditions. 132 pp., map. $5.00

A COMMUNITY IN THE ANDES

Problems and Progress in Muquiyayyo by Richard N. Adams. "A worthwhile contribution to the study of life in the Peruvian highlands."—International Affairs. 266 pp., maps. $5.50

VILLAGE AND PLANTATION LIFE IN NORTHEASTERN BRAZIL

By Harry William Hutchinson. "A well documented description of the subunits and cultures, together with an accounting of their interpenetration that characterizes a plantation-and-service center system in this part of Brazil."—American Anthropologist. 213 pp., illus., maps. $5.00

A PRIMITIVE MEXICAN ECONOMY

By George M. Foster. A detailed survey of the basic economic patterns of the Popoluca Indians of southern Veracruz. 123 pp., illus., maps. $5.75

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON PRESS

Seattle and London

An Important New Title

by T. LYNN SMITH

COLOMBIA

Social Structure and the Process of Development

Foreword by Alberto Lleras,
Former President of Colombia

Traditional Colombian society, the result of a unique mixture of social and economic forces, is being changed by an accelerating process of development. In this volume—the first in a projected three volume series—T. Lynn Smith, using a wide variety of sources including the Census of Agriculture of 1959 and 1960, examines the most important factors influencing the transformation of Colombian society.

389 pp.

$12.50

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA PRESS

15 N.W. 15th Street

Gainesville, Florida

