

Technological change: The tripartite response, 1982-85

This volume brings together in-depth studies of how employment might change in the future, on the major provisions of leading collective agreements, and on the active steps taken by the employers' and workers' organisations to offset the negative impact of technology on the labour force and to provide a safe work environment. National and international perspective is given to the key issues treated in each chapter, with reports on particular countries being followed by more general international reports.

International conflicts of labour law: A survey of the law applicable to the international employment relation

By Felice Morgenstern

The movement of workers from one country to another and the operations of companies in countries other than those in which they were established, are matters that raise questions regarding the law to be applied to individual and collective labour relations. In this comparative survey, the author analyses the approaches to such questions under various legal systems and illustrates the practical implications.

Year Book of Labour Statistics, 1985

Forty-fifth issue

Since its first edition in 1935-36, the Year Book of Labour Statistics has established itself as the world's foremost work of statistical reference on labour questions, bringing together in systematic form a mass of data from authoritative sources of information in some 180 countries. This new 45th edition includes 42 tables corresponding to nine major substantive chapters. The data presented usually cover the last ten years.
