

Education and the Making of Modern Iran

DAVID MENASHRI

Menashri traces the history of Iran's educational system from the departure of the first two Iranian students to Europe in 1811, through the founding of Tehran University in 1935, to the changes in educational policies enacted under the Ayatollah Khomeini. In so doing, Menashri chronicles the wider political and social history of the struggle for control of education between the ulama, or religious elite, and the state. $47.50

Reasoned Freedom

John Locke and Enlightenment

PETER A. SCHOULS

"A rare close reading of Locke's work on education, showing as well a thorough and sensitive understanding of Locke's thought on many important doctrines and issues. Schouls offers a number of new interpretations of Locke on the nature of reason, rationality, the role of the passions, freedom, and learning."—John W. Robert Maynard Hutchins

A Memoir

by MILTON MAYER

Edited by John H. Hicks

Foreword by Studs Terkel

“By far the most exciting Hutchins book ever. His style, wit, and passion—and his insight—put it into a class by itself.” —Studs Terkel

Milton Mayer, Hutchins's colleague, friend, and sidekick, gives an intimate picture of the remarkably outstanding, and fallible, man who participated in many of this century's most important social and political controversies.
