Over thirty years, the T.M.C. Asser Institute has developed into a leading scientific research institute in the field of international law. It covers private international law, public international law, including international humanitarian law, the law of the European Union, the law of international commercial arbitration and increasingly, also, international economic law and the law of international commerce.

Conducting scientific research, either fundamental or applied, in the aforementioned domains, is the main activity of the Institute. In addition, the Institute organizes congresses and postgraduate courses, undertakes contract-research and operates its own publishing house.

Because of its inter-university background, the Institute often cooperates with Dutch law faculties as well as with various national and foreign institutions. The Institute organizes Asser College Europe, a project in cooperation with East and Central European countries whereby research and educational projects are organized and implemented.

GENERAL INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

1. Copyright and embargo Copyright is exclusively reserved to the author(s). Acceptance of the Editors' offer to publish implies, however, that authors agree to an embargo on publication elsewhere, either in English or another language, for a period of two years following the year of publication of the Yearbook containing the article in question. Articles should not be currently under consideration elsewhere.

2. Fees Authors will not receive a fee, but will be represented with a copy of the Yearbook containing their article, together with 25 off-prints free of charge. Any additional copies of the Yearbook and/or off-prints can be ordered and will be charged.

3. Editorial policy All papers are refereed. The Board of Editors reserves the right to suggest modifications and/or additions to the paper submitted, and further reserves the right to reject, or to revoke acceptance or to withhold publication of any paper.

4. Language Authors are requested to submit their paper in English. Papers accepted for publication may, at the discretion of the Editors, be linguistically revised.

5. Proofs The author will receive proofs for correction. Corrections should be kept to a minimum. The only corrections which should normally be necessary are those relating to type-set errors or those which take account of important material or references not previously available, or subsequent developments of notes. Substantial modifications to the text or footnotes will not be permitted, except in consultation with and with the consent of the Editors.

6. Typing The manuscript should be typed, double-spaced with wide margins, on one side of standard A4 paper. Two copies of the paper should be submitted, and one retained by the author. Pages must be consecutively numbered. The text should be divided into chapters and each chapter may be divided into sections and subsections.

Authors should carefully check for errors before submitting. Authors are responsible for accuracy of quotations, for supplying complete and correct references, and for obtaining permission where needed to cite another author's material. Authors will be asked to provide a diskette containing the final version of their paper following acceptance for publication. The author is responsible for ensuring that the final hard copy and diskette version of the manuscript are identical.

The maximum length should be 450 words per page, 35 pages, including footnotes for a full article and 20 pages, for a case note. The first page should contain: full title of the article, author(s) full name(s), affiliation, address, telephone and fax and e-mail address.
