Editorial Policy

Central European History publishes articles, review essays, and book reviews that range widely through the history of Germany, Austria, and other German-speaking regions of Central Europe from the medieval era to the present. All topics and approaches to history are welcome: cultural, social, political, diplomatic, intellectual, economic, and military history, as well as historiography and methodology. Contributions that treat new fields, such as post-1945 and post-1989 history, maturing fields such as gender history, and less-represented fields such as medieval history and the history of the Habsburg lands are especially desired. The journal thus aims to be the primary venue for scholarly exchange and debate among scholars of the history of Central Europe. Because space is limited, articles that have been or soon will be published elsewhere are not accepted. Manuscripts submitted to CEH should not be under consideration by another journal pending decision of the editor on publication. If it is learned that an article is under submission to another journal while being considered at CEH, consideration will cease immediately. Unsolicited book reviews are not accepted.

Manuscripts and correspondence should be directed to:

Andrew I. Port
Editor, Central European History

Email: CentralEuropeanHistory@wayne.edu

The editor prefers that manuscripts be submitted via ScholarOne (<https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/ccc>). Please take care to remove author identifying information, following the prompts in ScholarOne, to make your manuscript anonymous. The entire text of all manuscripts, including endnotes and headings, must be prepared in double-spaced typescript with generous margins to allow for copyediting. Endnotes must be numbered consecutively and should be placed in a separate section at the end of the text.

Correspondence concerning book reviews should be sent to:

Further guidelines for the preparation of manuscripts for publication in Central European History will be sent upon acceptance of materials by the editor. All materials will be edited to conform with The Chicago Manual of Style in matters regarding punctuation, capitalization, and format. The final decision on style remains with the editor.
