THE NEW ATLANTIC ORDER

THE TRANSFORMATION OF INTERNATIONAL POLITICS, 1860–1933

Patrick O. Cohrs,
Università degli Studi, Florence

“An important book that recasts debates about European and global disorder after the First World War in a longer history of Atlantic world-order making since 1860. Advancing the case that the Paris Peace Conference produced an international ‘system’ that sought to address the question of German power and its place in the world, this new history also offers insights for contemporary debates on the question of China and the prospects for regional and global order in the present disorderly context of the 21st Century.”

Patricia Clavin, author of Securing the World Economy. The Reinvention of the League of Nations, 1920–1946

STEPHEN G. RABE

THE LOST PARATROOPERS OF NORMANDY

A STORY OF RESISTANCE, COURAGE,
AND SOLIDARITY IN A FRENCH VILLAGE

“Stephen G. Rabe’s exhaustively researched work breaks the silence surrounding the heroic roles played by French men and women to assure the success of the American landings. Engagingly written, the story emphasizes the courage of both soldier and civilian in the face of SS murder and atrocity. A must-read for anyone who wishes to explore another view of the D-Day landings. Highly recommended.”

Contemporary European History covers the history of Eastern and Western Europe, including the United Kingdom, from 1918 to the present. By combining a wide geographical compass with a relatively short time span, the journal achieves both range and depth. It is open to all forms of historical enquiry – including cultural, economic, international, political and social approaches – and welcomes comparative and transnational analysis.

Submissions

Authors wishing to submit articles for publication should do so through the journal's online submissions system at <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/conteurohistory>.

Articles should normally be about 8,000 words long, not including footnotes. Review articles should not exceed 6,000 words, including footnotes. The journal also considers special issue proposals. Please contact the editors for details.

The journal is published in English, and contributions are normally submitted in that language; however, we will also consider articles submitted in other major European languages. If accepted for publication, these will be translated. All articles, including those commissioned, will be refereed.

Submission of an article will be taken to imply that it is unpublished and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. On acceptance of an article, the author will be asked to assign copyright (on certain conditions) to Cambridge University Press. An article cannot be published unless a signed copyright form is returned promptly.

Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do not hold copyright and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in their text.
