

PURDUE UNIVERSITY PRESS

CENTRAL EUROPEAN SERIES

STAGING THE PAST

edited by Maria Bucur and Nancy M. Wingfield

This volume contains three sections of essays that examine the role of commemoration and public celebrations in the creation of a national identity in Habsburg lands. It also seeks to engage historians of culture and of nationalism in other geographic fields as well as colleagues who work on Habsburg Central Europe, but write about nationalism from different vantage points.

ARISTOCRATIC REDOUBT

The Austro-Hungarian Foreign Office on the Eve of the First World War

by William D. Godsey

This book is a study of the nobility who served in the foreign office prior to World War I. Following the lead of historians who are reexamining preindustrial elites in England and Germany, Godsey deals with such facets of aristocratic life as education, wealth, religion, and ethnicity. He contends that although the pre-war aristocracy has been stereotyped as frivolous and decadent, the Austro-Hungarian nobility, and thus the monarchy, in fact had great staying power.

ALBANIA AT WAR, 1939–1945

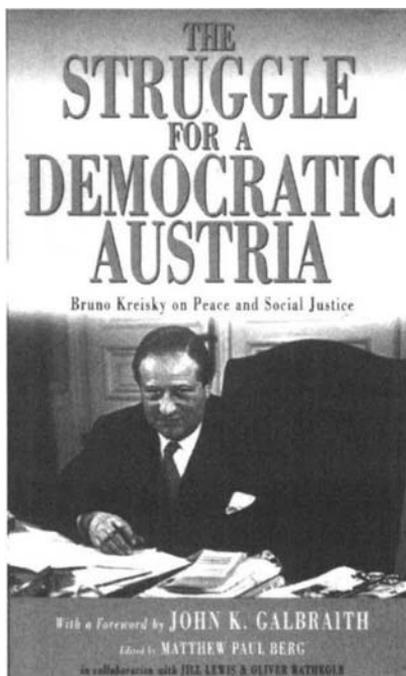

by Bernd Fischer

The Second World War in Europe has generated more literature than perhaps any other event in modern history. Albania at War reviews the most important developments in Albania from the Italian invasion of the country in 1939 to the accession to power of the Albanian Communist Party and the establishment of a "people's democracy" in 1946.

THE STRUGGLE FOR A DEMOCRATIC AUSTRIA

Bruno Kreisky on Peace and Social Justice

Edited by Matthew Paul Berg in collaboration with Jill Lewis and Oliver Rathkolb. Translated by Helen Atkins and Matthew Paul Berg. With a Foreword by John K. Galbraith

Bruno Kreisky (1911-1990) is undoubtedly the most prominent and influential politician to emerge in postwar Austria. For some thirty years, he helped to shape his country's politics and raise its status in the world.

This annotated volume gives a fascinating insight into Kreisky's life and his many activities. He lets us participate in the big decisions in which he was involved and shares his encounters with other world leaders of this time.

FROM WORLD WAR TO WALDHEIM

Culture and Politics in Austria and the United States

Edited by David F. Good and Ruth Wodak

The growing internationalization of the world poses a fundamental question, i.e., through what mechanisms does culture diffuse across political boundaries and what is the role of politics in shaping this diffusion? This volume offers some answers through the case study of the relationship between two quite different states during the Cold War era—Austria, a small neutral country, and the United States, the reigning superpower.

AUSTRIAN WOMEN IN THE NINETEENTH AND TWENTIETH CENTURIES

Cross-disciplinary Perspectives

Edited by David F. Good, Margarete Grandner, and Mary Jo Maynes

"The theoretical and historical framework of this ... essay collection offers significant reference points whereby scholars can make further comparisons, contrasts, and associations. The volume thus helps explore the rich contributions that German women have made through the written word."

ANNOUNCES A NEW SERIES:

Austrian History, Culture, and Society

In the past, Austria was the center of a large multinational and multiethnic empire, the second-largest state in Europe and the heart of cultural development, particularly in music. At the turn of the last century, it gave birth to modern psychology, philosophy, economics, and music. In the contemporary world, Austria has played a key role between Eastern and Western Europe; serves as a model of a democratic society and of a successful economy; participates fully in the new European Union and works with its old dominions and neighbors in East-Central Europe helping them in their renaissance. In also faces many of the problems of the modern period: ethnic antagonisms, questions of women's and immigrants' rights, and the possible loss of economic and political sovereignty in the new unified Europe. This series is drawn from many of these rich aspects of Austrian life and history.

Working Papers in Austrian Studies

The Center for Austrian Studies serves scholars who study the politics, society, economy, and culture of modern Austria and of Habsburg Central Europe. It encourages comparative studies involving Austria or the Habsburg lands and other European states, stimulates discussion in the field, and provides a vehicle for circulating work in progress. It is open to all papers prior to final publication but gives priority to papers by affiliates of the Center and scholars who have given seminars or attended conferences at the Center. If you would like to have a paper considered for inclusion in the series, please contact Gerhard H. Weiss or Daniel Pinkerton at the Center for Austrian Studies.
