

Getting Work

Philadelphia, 1840–1950
WALTER LICHT

How did working people find jobs in the past? How has the process changed over time for various groups of job seekers? Walter Licht uses intensive primary source research on a major industrial city for a period of over one hundred years to tackle these questions. He looks at when and how young people secured first jobs, the influence of agencies on the hiring process, schools and work, apprenticeship programs, unions, the role of firms in structuring work opportunities, the state as employer and as shaper of employment conditions, and the problem of losing work—the job search as a seemingly perpetual activity.

$39.95 cloth

Harvard University Press

Cambridge, MA 02138 (617) 495-2480

Capitalism on the Frontier

Billings and the Yellowstone Valley in the Nineteenth Century
Carroll Van West

“This impressive study should attract a wide readership among those interested in community history on the frontier, economic development in the American West, and Montana’s history in the nineteenth century.”—Clyde Milner II, Editor, Western Historical Quarterly.
$37.50 cloth

“N”

University of Nebraska Press 901 N 17 • Lincoln, NE 68588-0520 • 800-755-1105

American Economic Growth and Standards of Living before the Civil War

Edited by Robert E. Gallman and John Joseph Wallis

This benchmark volume examines the effects of early industrialization on standards of living and demonstrates that while the antebellum economy grew at a dramatic rate, not all aspects of the standard of living improved.

Cloth $70.00 416 pages

An NBER Conference Report

From Market-Places to a Market Economy

The Transformation of Rural Massachusetts, 1750-1850

Winifred Barr Rothenberg

A pioneering work that documents the emergence of a market economy in preindustrial Massachusetts and its consequences for productivity growth.

"A superb demonstration of the use of empirical data and economic analysis to study the mentalité of New England farmers."—Stanley L. Engerman, University of Rochester

Cloth $37.50 296 pages

Now In Paper

Making America Corporate, 1870-1920

Olivier Zunz

Zunz examines how the growth of corporations changed the middle class and why so many Americans became involved in creating our modern work culture.

"An absolutely essential addition to the bookshelf of any scholar interested in the 'organizational synthesis' and twentieth-century middle-class America."—Louis Galambos, Technology and Culture

Paper $12.95 278 pages
26 halftones, 1 map

Chicago

THE UNIVERSITY
OF CHICAGO PRESS
5801 S. Ellis Ave., Chicago, IL 60637

A. P. GIANNINI
AND THE BANK OF AMERICA

By Gerald D. Nash

Volume 5 in The

Oklahoma Western Biographies

This fast-paced biography of Bank of America founder A. P. Giannini affords an intriguing glimpse into the life of one of the world's most creative bankers. Throughout his career, Giannini fought and cajoled bank regulators to expand bank services to working people throughout the American West and, eventually, the whole United States.

$24.95

BANKING IN THE AMERICAN WEST

From the Gold Rush to Deregulation

By Lynne Pierson Doti and Larry Schweikart

In this first comprehensive overview of western banking history and trends, the authors explore the roles of entrepreneurs, the effects of regulation, and the interaction between bankers and communities in promoting economic growth.

$38.50

Write for FREE catalogs.

University of Oklahoma Press

Dept. MAN6
1005 Asp Ave.
Norman, OK 73019-0445
Add: $1.50 Post/hand.
Accept: MC/Visa/AE/Checks.

Columbus-America

Discovery Group

Announces

The First Annual

William Lewis Herndon

Award

for Original Research on

The Sinking of the

S.S. Central America

September 12, 1857

- Papers will focus on the economic issues related to the sinking
- All papers must be previously unpublished
- Award - $1000.00
- Collaborative efforts welcomed
- Juried by Noted Historians
- Submit papers by August 1, 1993

For more information & entry rules
please contact:

History Department
Columbus-America Discovery Group
433 W. Sixth Avenue
Columbus, Ohio 43201

Economically Speaking

Making a Market

The Institutional Transformation of an African Society

Jean Ensminger

Economists have devoted considerable effort to explaining how a market economy functions, but they have given a good deal less attention to explaining how a market economy is formed. In this book, Jean Ensminger analyzes the process by which the market was introduced into the economy of a group of Kenyan pastoralists. She employs neoinstitutional economic analysis in order to assess the impact of new market institutions on production and distribution, with particular emphasis on the effect of institutions on decreasing transaction costs over time.

Political Economy of Institutions and Decisions

42060-1 Hardcover $49.95

Structural Change in the UK Economy

Ciaran Driver and Paul Dunne

This book consists of a number of applied studies of structural change in the UK in the 1970s and 1980s. Several dimensions of structural change are considered— industrial change, regional change and changes in the distribution of firm size, focusing on the role of small firms in the economy. The book is intended to provide policy debate by facilitating an informed discussion of recent economic history.

Cambridge Department of Applied Economics Occasional Papers 58

41569-1 Hardcover about $59.95

Public Choice Analysis in Historical Perspective

Alan Peacock, Editor

Alan Peacock poses the question of whether the history of economic thought is an essential part of the training of scholars concerned with the study of public finance. He contends that the perspective gained by studying the origins of public choice analysis can offer an important stimulus to scientific progress.

43007-0 Hardcover $44.95

The Estates of the English Crown, 1558–1640

R. W. Hoyle, Editor

This collection of essays is the first comprehensive account of the estates of the English kings and queens and their management. The book covers both national and local issues and will be of interest both to those interested in the successes and failures of government in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and with change in the countryside.

Contributors: Madeleine Gray, Graham Haslam, R. W. Hoyle, Peter Large, Joan Thirsk, David Thomas

36082-X Hardcover $79.95

White-Collar Crime in Modern England

Financial Fraud and Business Morality, 1845–1929

George Robb

This is a vivid and lucid account of “white-collar” crime in England from the Victorian period to the early twentieth century. The book explains how business crimes were perpetrated and how others attempted to prevent such crimes. Many stories of famous, or infamous, white-collar criminals are told, and parallels are drawn with contemporary problems of white-collar crime in Britain.

41234-X Hardcover $54.95

Glaxo: A History to 1962

R. P. T. Davenport-Hines and Judy Slinn

Glaxo is the world’s second largest pharmaceutical multinational. This study of the company, from its beginnings to 1962, is based on unprecedented and unparalleled archival access to the company records. It gives a detailed account of the global operations of Glaxo, and describes not only the evolution of this international business, but studies its research and development programmes, its products, and its marketing and management.

41539-X Hardcover $110.00

Economically Speaking

A Distinctive Industrialization

Cotton in Barcelona, 1728–1832

J. K. J. Thomson

This is a study of the development of the early history of Barcelona's cotton industry. It offers both a specialized industrial history and an interpretation of major issues relating to the industrialization of Catalonia and of Europe as a whole. The major issues discussed—the causes of the increase during these years in industrial investment and the links between “proto-industrialization” and industrialization proper—have been discussed theoretically but rarely tested against historical experience.

39482-1 Hardcover $89.95

Britain in the International Economy, 1870–1939

S. N. Broadberry and N. F. R. Crafts, Editors

This book examines the insights that Keynesian macroeconomics offers into the economic history of the prewar British economy. It adopts a modern economic approach to issues such as unemployment, the price level and exchange rates in the period 1870–1939, making use of the latest advances in time series analysis and macroeconomics.

Contributors: B. H. Sadler, S. N. Broadberry, N. F. R. Crafts, T. C. Mills, B. Eichengreen, F. Capie, T. J. Hatton, N. Blake, G. E. Wood, P. Cottrell, C. K. Harley, M. Thomas, I. Gazeley, P. Rice, J. Redmond, M. P. Taylor
41859-3 Hardcover $64.95

The Cambridge Social History of Britain, 1750–1950

Volumes 1, 2 and 3

F. M. L. Thompson, Editor

“These unique, comprehensive, collaborative volumes offer compelling evidence of the richness and vitality of British social history some three decades after its emergence in the later 1950s and early 1960s. In many ways the 22 essays written by scholars at institutions throughout Great Britain constitute a persuasive commentary on the current healthy status of the field.”

—Social Science Quarterly

43813-6 Paper Set $69.95

The Spread of Economic Ideas

David Colander and A. W. Coats, Editors

“Overall, the book is stimulating and worth reading... the editors deserve credit for stimulating a lively debate about current and future directions of the profession.”

—Robert I. Larman,

Journal of Economic Literature

Contributors: A. W. Coats, David Colander, Robert W. Clower, Robert M. Solow, Charles P. Kindleberger, Colin Day, David Warsh, Donald S. Lamm, William J. Barber, James K. Galbraith, Joseph J. Minarik, Craufurd D. Goodwin, James A. Smith, Daniel H. Newton and Gordon Tullock
36233-4 Hardcover $44.95 / 44650-3 Paper $15.95

The Industrial Revolution and British Society

Patrick O'Brien and Roland Quinault, Editors

A distinguished international team of contributors focuses on topics currently at the very center of scholarly interest in an original survey of the principal economic and social aspects of the British Industrial Revolution during the 18th and early 19th centuries.

Contributors: Patrick O'Brien, Duncan Bytbell, Gary Hawke, Alan D. Gilbert, Thomas Laqueur, David Philips, Eric Richards, John Stevenson, G. N. von Tunzelmann, Eric Jones
43154-9 Hardcover $59.95 / 43744-X Paper $16.95

London in the Age of Industrialisation

Entrepreneurs, Labour Force and Living Conditions 1700–1850

L. D. Schwartz

Dr. Schwartz offers a full-length analysis of the working population of London and the effects of the industrial revolution on it, as well as a look at changes to the economy and the social structure of the city.

Cambridge Studies in Population, Economy and Society in Past Time 19
40365-0 Hardcover $54.95

Available in bookstores or from

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

40 West 20th Street, New York, NY 10011-4211
Call toll-free 800-872-7423
MasterCard/VISA accepted. Prices subject to change.

Seducing the French

The Dilemma of Americanization
By RICHARD F. KUISEL
Kuisel explores France's response to American influence after World War II. In analyzing early French resistance and then the gradual adaptation to all things American that evolved by the mid-1980s, he offers an intriguing study of national identity and the protection of cultural boundaries.

£19.95 cloth
illustrated

Sugar and the Origins of Modern Philippine Society

By JOHN A. LARKIN
The sugar industry has been a vital part of the economic and social life of modern Philippine society. Larkin examines how both the Filipino people and colonizing forces participated in this industry and how two types of society emerged: one based on plantation agriculture, the other on tenant farming.

£32.50 cloth
illustrated

Phone orders
(+243) 829121

Oil and Revolution in Mexico

By JONATHAN C. BROWN

Anyone contemplating the consequences of foreign investment in Latin America will profit from this book. As Brown shows, the dynamic growth of the Mexican oil industry resulted from both the domination of foreign capital and Mexico's own economic restructuring, conditions similar to those being adopted today.

£26.50 cloth
illustrated

JOURNALS LIBRARY
CHADWICK CAMPUS

FOR REFERENCE
ONLY

Bolton Institute of Higher Education

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA PRESS

BERKELEY LOS ANGELES NEW YORK LONDON

1893  1993