

67th Annual Meeting

EAAP 2016

Belfast 29 Aug - 2 Sept

SUSTAINABLE FOOD PRODUCTION:

LIVESTOCK'S KEY ROLE

WELCOME TO EUROPE'S LARGEST ANIMAL SCIENCE CONFERENCE

The UK organising committee is delighted to invite you to Belfast for the 67th Annual Meeting of EAAP.

Held at the city's Waterfront Conference Centre from 29 Aug – 2 Sept, the event will feature over 1000 presentations from speakers from around the world.

Focusing on Sustainable Food Production: Livestock's Key Role, sessions will cover topics including animal genetics, nutrition, management, health and welfare, and physiology, as well as sector-specific sessions and science relevant to industry.

Join us in Belfast for the biggest and best opportunity for industry and scientists to meet, exchange ideas and work together to implement new science for maximum impact.

British Society of Animal Science

The British Society of Animal Science aims to provide an opportunity for those with an interest in animals and animal science to exchange views, ideas and information. It is an energetic and active society with about 1000 members from over 50 countries throughout the world. Today, as ever, the Society is the natural meeting point for all of those with an interest in animal science. Its membership is drawn from research, education, advisory work, commerce and practical animal keeping.

The Society's Journal is Animal which publishes high quality fundamental and applied research and is an exciting international journal of animal bioscience. Animal publishes cutting edge research, hot topics and horizon-scanning reviews on animal-related aspects of the life sciences.

The Society organises major scientific and specialist conferences on key issues facing the science related to animals.
