NEW ANTHOLOGIES

Catch the Fire!!!

A Cross-Generational Anthology of Contemporary African-American Poetry

EDITED BY DERRICK I.M. GILBERT

Introduces a new generation of African-American poets by an established generation, through the themes of family, love, the city, revolution, the body, and the soul. June Jordan, Amiri Baraka, Abiodun Oyewole, Ntozake Shange, and Sonia Sanchez discuss their own generation of poets and their thoughts about the emerging poets whose poems are presented here.

Riverhead original 336 pp. 1-57322-654-8 $12.00

¡Florricanto Si!

A Collection of U.S. Latina Poetry

EDITED BY BRYCE MILLIGAN,
MARY GUERRERO MILLIGAN,
AND ANGELA DE HOYOS

Combines the poetry of such major literary figures as Sandra Cisneros, Julia Alvarez, and Ana Castillo, with the work of a second generation of post-Chicano movement poets whose startlingly original voices are just being discovered. 304 pp.

PMLA (ISSN 0030-8129) is published six times a year, in January, March, May, September, October, and November, by the Modern Language Association of America. Membership in the association is open to persons who are professionally interested in the modern languages and literatures. Annual dues, which include subscription to PMLA, are based on members' incomes and are graduated as follows: student members (seven years maximum), $20; new regular members (first year), $35; regular members (income under $15,000), $25; regular members (income $15,000–$20,000), $40; regular members (income $20,000–$30,000), $50; regular members (income $30,000–$40,000), $65; regular members (income $40,000–$50,000), $75; regular members (income $50,000–$60,000), $85; regular members (income $60,000–$70,000), $95; regular members (income $70,000–$80,000), $105; regular members (income over $80,000), $125; joint members (two individuals sharing the same household, who receive one subscription to PMLA but two copies of all other publications), add $20 to dues category of higher-income member; foreign members, same as regular members (use the American-dollar equivalent to ascertain the dues category). Membership applications are available on request.

The subscription price of PMLA for libraries and other institutions is $108. An institutional subscription including a bound volume at the end of the year is $243, domestic and foreign. Agents deduct four percent as their fee. Single copies of the January, March, May, and October issues can be purchased for $12 each; the September (Directory) issue is $50; the November (Program) issue is $35.

Issues for the current year are available from the Member and Customer Services Office of the association (212 614-6381; membership@mla.org). Claims for undelivered issues will be honored if they are received within six months of the publication date; thereafter the single-issue price will be charged.

For information about the availability of back issues, write or call Periodicals Service Company, 11 Main Street, Germantown, NY 12526-5635 (518 537-4700; <http://www.periodicals.com>). A Statement of Editorial Policy

PMLA welcomes essays of interest to those concerned with the study of language and literature. As the publication of a large and heterogeneous association, the journal is receptive to a variety of topics, whether general or specific, and to all scholarly methods and theoretical perspectives. The ideal PMLA essay exemplifies the best of its kind, whatever the kind; addresses a significant problem; draws out clearly the implications of its findings; and engages the attention of its audience through a concise, readable presentation. Manuscripts in languages other than English are accepted for review but must be accompanied by a detailed summary in English (generally of 1,000–1,500 words) and must be translated into English if they are recommended to the Editorial Board. Articles of fewer than 2,500 words or more than 9,000 words are not considered for publication. The word count includes notes but excludes works-cited lists and translations, which should accompany foreign language quotations. The MLA urges its contributors to be sensitive to the social implications of language and to seek wording free of discriminatory overtones.

Only members of the association may submit articles to PMLA. Each article submitted is sent to at least one consultant reader and one member of the Advisory Committee. Articles recommended by these readers are then sent to the members of the Editorial Board, who meet periodically with the editor to make final decisions. Until a final decision is reached, the author's name is not made known to consultant readers, to members of the Advisory Committee and the Editorial Board, or to the editor. Because the submission of an article simultaneously to more than one refereed journal can result in duplication of the demanding task of reviewing the manuscript, it is PMLA's policy not to review articles that are under consideration by other journals. An article found to have been simultaneously submitted elsewhere will not be published in PMLA even if it has already been accepted for publication by the Editorial Board.

Submissions, prepared according to The MLA Style Manual, should be sent in duplicate and addressed to the Managing Editor, PMLA, Modern Language Association, 10 Astor Place, New York, NY 10003-6981. With each submission please include a self-addressed envelope and enough postage for both copies to be returned. Authors' names should not appear on manuscripts; instead, a cover sheet, with the author's name and address and the title of the article, should accompany each manuscript. Authors should not refer to themselves in the first person in the submitted text or notes if such references would identify them; any necessary references to the author's previous work, for example, should be in the third person.

Criticism in Translation

MLA members are invited to submit to the PMLA Editorial Board proposals for translations. Articles, as well as chapters or sections of books that can function as independent units, will be considered. The originals may be in any language. Two types of proposals are welcome: (1) significant scholarship from earlier periods that has not lost its forcefulness and whose retrieval in English in PMLA would be a noteworthy event for a broad body of readers or (2) contemporary work of sufficient weight and potential influence to merit the attention of the field as a whole.

A member who wishes to make a proposal should first ascertain that no previous English translation exists. The proposer should then provide the managing editor with the following materials: (1) a photocopy of the original essay, (2) an extended summary of the entire essay in English, (3) an introductory statement of approximately 1,000 words, prepared in accordance with MLA style, that will be published with the essay if the essay is accepted, (4) information on the copyright status of the original (if the translation is accepted for publication, the proposer will be responsible for obtaining permission to print it). In addition, if the proposer wishes to serve as translator of the essay or to designate a translator (who must also be an MLA member), a 1,000-word sample of the translation should be submitted; otherwise the Editorial Board will select a translator.

The translated essays should normally not exceed PMLA's 9,000-word limit. The Editorial Board will approve or decline the proposals, evaluate the quality of the translations, and cooperate with the proposers and translators.
