

HIGHBROW/LOWBROW

The Emergence of Cultural Hierarchy in America

Lawrence W. Levine

"Highbrow/Lowbrow provides just the kind of balanced, historically informed assessment that can be of immediate value at a time when appeals to eternal truth fly thick and fast." —Walter Kendrick

Village Voice Literary Supplement
£19.95 cloth ISBN: 0 674 39076 8

GEORGE WASHINGTON SLEPT HERE

Colonial Revivals and American Culture, 1876-1986

Karal Ann Marling

"This book...concerns the role of that on-again, off-again colonial revival in popular culture from 1876 until the present. Marling's discussion demonstrates her skill at interweaving words and images, books and the bizarre detritus from our commercialization of the past that stand (or perhaps languish) in need of explication."

—Michael Kammen,
New York Times Book Review
£31.95 cloth ISBN: 0 674 34951 2

THE LETTERS OF HENRY ADAMS

Volumes IV-VI, 1892-1918

Edited by J.C. Levenson, Ernest Samuels, Charles Vandersee and Viola Hopkins Winner

"The letters in themselves—gracefully mixing intimate with public affairs, the profound with the hilarious, filled with humor, pathos, learning, esoterica, gossip and insider state secrets, and exploding with fury, frustration and contempt over the stupidity of his times—are an invaluable contribution to American literature and the intellectual history of the period."

—C. Vann Woodward,
Washington Post
£120.00, 3-volume set
ISBN: 0 674 52686 4

PARTY CAMPAIGNING IN THE 1980S

Paul S. Herrson

"[This] excellent study provides a wealth of information about the greatly enlarged activities of national party committees in congressional elections in the 1980s [and] contributes significantly to a realistic understanding of late-twentieth-century American politics."

—Leon D. Epstein
University of Wisconsin
£19.95 cloth ISBN: 0 674 65525 7

FRANKLIN OF PHILADELPHIA

Esmond Wright

"An account that, offering balanced judgement and genuine, if critical, admiration, demands immediate admission into the front rank of Franklin literature." —Peter Marshall, Times Higher Education Supplement

£10.50 paper ISBN: 0 674 31810 2

HIGHER LEARNING

Derek Bok

President of Harvard University

"The book is full of wisdom, based on broad experience and also upon substantial knowledge of research literature...[Bok] lays out a balanced assessment of the problems and achievements of American higher education." —Wilbert J. McKeachie, Change

£7.25 paper ISBN: 0 674 39176 4

Harvard University Press

126 Buckingham Palace Road,
London SW1W 9SD

YALE UNIVERSITY PRESS
23 Pond Street
London NW3 2PN

The CIA and American Democracy

RHODRI JEFFREYS-JONES

In this comprehensive history of the Central Intelligence Agency — the first to be based on verifiable documents and on substantial scholarly sources — Jeffreys-Jones provides a probing account of the CIA's shifting relationships with the American public, Congress, and presidents, contending that the successes of the CIA have depended as much on its power to persuade policymakers in Washington as on the quality of its analyses. 336pp. £17.50

Political Ambition

Who Decides to Run for Congress?

LINDA L. FOWLER and ROBERT D. McCLURE

How do politicians decide whether or not to run for Congress? What is involved in the winnowing process that dictates, months before the election, the choices available to voters on the ballot? By uncovering the hidden obstacles that line the road to Washington, Fowler and McClure reveal why only the most ambitious men and women complete the journey. 264pp. £20.00

At the Margins

Presidential Leadership of Congress GEORGE C. EDWARDS III

In this book Edwards seeks a deeper understanding of the relationship between the president and Congress, exploring how and under what conditions presidents lead Congress, what one can reasonably expect of them, and how one should evaluate their performance. He makes a persuasive case for his thesis that presidential leadership of Congress is typically at the margins, not the core, of policymaking. 256pp. £20.00

Belonging to America

Equal Citizenship and the Constitution KENNETH L. KARST

In this lively and original book, a leading constitutional law scholar shows how American law has both reflected and defined what it means to be an American, to "belong to America." 304pp. £24.00

Bicameral Politics

Conference Committees in Congress

LAWRENCE D. LONGLEY and WALTER J. OLESZEK

Foreword by Richard F. Fenno, Jr.

Until now, it has been fair to describe conference committee politics as the most important and least known aspect of congressional politics. With the publication of Bicameral Politics, this crucial area of House-Senate interrelationships is finally illuminated. 400pp. Cloth £40.00 Paper £12.95

Moneygripe's Apprentice

The Personal Narrative of Samuel Seabury III

edited by ROBERT BRUCE MULLIN

Seabury's poignant and humorous autobiography provides an insightful look at the social and religious worlds of early nineteenth-century America.

152pp. Illus. £17.50

The American Ezra Pound

WENDY STALLART FLORY

This new book, a breakthrough in Pound scholarship, examines the poet's motives, goals, and changing states of mind, to reveal the individual behind the caricature, thus making possible a reassessment of his poetic achievement. 272pp. £20.00

Fiction and Historical Consciousness

The American Romance Tradition

EMILY MILLER BUDICK

Offering new and provocative readings of works by a range of writers including Melville, Scott Fitzgerald, Hemingway, Faulkner and Updike, Budick contends that writers of American historical romance combine a heightened sense of their own authorial subjectivity with an equally powerful insistence on specified settings in place and time. 264pp. £22.50

The Rise of American Air Power

The Creation of Armageddon

MICHAEL S. SHERRY

"A big, heroic and chilling story, and Michael Sherry tells it with style, controlled passion, and analytical sophistication. This book is the best kind of strategic history."

— International Affairs

448pp. 25 illus. Now in paper, £11.95

American Silhouettes

Rhetorical Identities of the Founders

ALBERT FURTWANGLER

"Leaves the reader much better sensitised to the mind, prose, and political effect of Franklin and John Adams and their most eminent contemporaries up through John Marshall." — American Literature

176pp. Illus. Now in paper, £7.95

Made in America

Science, Technology, and American Modernist Poets

LISA M. STEINMAN

An absorbing examination of the poetry and poetics of William Carlos Williams, Marianne Moore and Wallace Stevens — three American modernists who concerned themselves with defining the place of poetry in the machine age.

233pp. Now in paper, £8.95

Cambridge

Desire and Love in Henry James

A Study of the Late Novels

DAVID McWHIRTER

David McWhirter argues that Henry James's last three novels – usually seen as a homogeneous phase in his career – embody a radical refashioning of James's vision. He provides an important re-reading of James's late novels, challenging prevailing views of the 'major phase' as a life-denying retreat into a refined but sterile art.

£25.00 net 0 521 35328 9 240 pp.

Reminiscence and Re-Creation in Contemporary American Fiction

STACEY OLSTER

This book argues that the experience of Communism was instrumental in shaping the historical perspective of novelists who began writing after the Second World War. Stacey Olster focuses on Norman Mailer, Thomas Pynchon, John Barth, Robert Coover, and E. L. Doctorow, showing how their perspective changed in the 1950s when they were forced to acknowledge the failure of the Communist ideal in Russia.

£25.00 net 0 521 36383 7 232 pp.

Now in paperback

Writing the South

Ideas of an American Region

RICHARD GRAY

This book provides a major reassessment of an American region and a regional consciousness. Concentrating on moments of crisis in Southern history, as well as on major literary figures, Richard Gray describes how generations of Southerners have been engaged in 'writing the South'.

'Humane and learned, informed and analytical, Writing the South is a most impressive addition to cultural enquiry.'

The Listener

£12.95 net Pb 0 521 37997 0 352 pp.

Cambridge Studies in American Literature and Culture

Winner of the C. Hughes Holman Award for the Society of Southern Literature, 1986

Now in paperback

The Divided Mind

Ideology and Imagination in America, 1898-1917

PETER CONN

'An extraordinarily intelligent addition to an understanding of American Society past and present. The Divided Mind deserves the undivided attention of its readers, and Peter Conn deserves applause for his unerring sense of organisation and his nearly uncanny perception of the American scene.'

Modern Fiction Studies

£10.95 net Pb 0 521 36868 5 368 pp.

Cambridge Studies in American Literature and Culture

Cambridge
University Press

The Edinburgh Building, Cambridge CB2 2RU

Cambridge

The Last of the Fathers

James Madison and the Republican Legacy

DREW R. MCCOY

James Madison survived longer than any other member of the most remarkable generation of political leaders in American history. In this book Drew McCoy tells the poignant story of Madison's reckoning, during his later years, with the legacy of his generation's spectacular, if profoundly flawed, political achievement.

£30.00 net 0 521 36407 9 401 pp.

Americans and their Forests

A Historical Geography

MICHAEL WILLIAMS

This magisterial and unprecedented book tells of the meaning of the forest in American history and culture, describes and analyses the clearing and use of the forest from pre-European times to the present, and traces the subsequent regrowth of the forest since the middle of the twentieth century.

£40.00 net 0 521 33247 8 620 pp.

Studies in Environment and History

Poverty, Ethnicity and the American City 1840-1925

Changing Conceptions of the Slum and the Ghetto

DAVID WARD

This book examines the relationships between migrants and the inner city from an explicitly geographic perspective during the period of mass immigration to the United States until the introduction of immigration restrictions in 1923-4.

£27.50 net Hc 0 521 25783 2 278 pp.

£9.95 net Pb 0 521 27711 6

Cambridge Studies in Historical Geography 13

Now in paperback

A Final Promise

The Campaign to Assimilate the Indians, 1880-1920

FREDERICK E. HOXIE

'This important and intellectually challenging book presents changes in the goals of federal Indian policy in the context of scientific thought during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.'

Journal of American History

£10.95 net Pb 0 521 37987 3 384 pp.

Cambridge
University Press

The Edinburgh Building, Cambridge CB2 2RU

Cambridge

That Noble Dream

The 'Objectivity Question' and the American Historical Profession

PETER NOVICK

From the outset the historical profession in America held 'objectivity' as one of its highest ideals. Peter Novick focuses on the way in which objectivity has been elaborated, modified, challenged and defended.

£35.00 net Hc 0 521 34328 3 500 pp.

£12.50 net Pb 0 521 35745 4

Ideas in Context

Published with the support of the Exxon Education Foundation

Ethnic Differences

Schooling and Social Structure among the Irish, Italians, Jews, and Blacks in an American City 1880-1935

JOEL PERLMANN

Drawing on new evidence from school records, census manuscripts, city directories and other sources, this book examines the extent to which differing school patterns among the ethnic groups accounted for differing career patterns and reconsiders the relationship between ethnicity and social class.

£30.00 net 0 521 35093 X 336 pp.

Science and Corporate Strategy

Du Pont R&D, 1902-1980

DAVID A. HOUNSHELL and JOHN KENLY SMITH, Jr.

This is the first comprehensive, critical study of research in a large American corporation. It not only describes the development of famous Du Pont products such as neoprene, nylon, and Kevlar, but it also explains the central role that research and development have played in the Corporation.

£27.50 net 0 521 32767 9 768 pp.

From Monopoly to Competition

The Transformation of Alcoa, 1888-1986

GEORGE DAVID SMITH

This study presents Alcoa's history, from its beginnings as a speculative venture seeking to exploit an untested technology, through its rise to become the most successful monopoly in American history.

£30.00 net 0 521 35261 4 576 pp.

Irish-American Trade, 1660-1783

THOMAS M. TRUXES

An important contribution to the new history of colonial British America and revisionist history, this book refutes well-established myths depicting Irish involvement in transatlantic trade as subordinate to narrow British interests.

£30.00 net 0 521 35373 4 849 pp.

Cambridge
University Press

The Edinburgh Building, Cambridge CB2 2RU

Cambridge

Five titles now in paperback

Worlds Apart

The Market and the Theater in Anglo-American Thought, 1550-1750

JEAN-CHRISTOPHE AGNEW

Professor Agnew illuminates one of the most fascinating chapters in the formations of Anglo-American market culture, tracing the history of our concepts of the marketplace and the theatre and how they are bound together.

£9.95 net Pb 0 521 37910 5 288 pp.

The Fall of the House of Labor

The Workplace, the State, and American Labor Activism, 1865-1925

DAVID MONTGOMERY

'... a full-scale synthesis of working-class political and economic history ... The result is a richly detailed, subtle, sometimes difficult, and important book.'

The Times Literary Supplement

£12.95 net Pb 0 521 37982 2 494 pp.

Co-publication with the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, Paris

Between the Devil and The Deep Blue Sea

Merchant Seamen, Pirates, and the Anglo-Maritime World, 1700-1750

MARCUS REDIKER

'Good books have been written before on the history of seafaring and on the climactic years of piracy ... What distinguishes Rediker's work is his unwavering and unsentimental focus on the seaman's labour and experience.'

E. P. Thompson, The Guardian

£9.95 net Pb 0 521 37983 9 332 pp.

The Marshall Plan

America, Britain, and the Reconstruction of Western Europe, 1947-1952

MICHAEL J. HOGAN

'... it represents a prodigious effort of research ... As a detailed account of Anglo-American economic diplomacy in the early post-war era it has no rival.'

The Times Literary Supplement

£15.00 net Pb 0 521 37840 0 482 pp.

Studies in Economic History and Policy: The United States in the 20th Century

The Great Depression

Delayed Recovery and Economic Change in America, 1929-1939

MICHAEL A. BERNSTEIN

Presenting a powerful interpretation of the Depression, Professor Bernstein argues that it arose from a radical shift in the industrial composition of investment and consumer demands, and not just cyclical variation.

£9.95 net Pb 0 521 37985 7 288 pp.

Studies in Economic History and Policy: The United States in the 20th Century

Cambridge
University Press

The Edinburgh Building, Cambridge CB2 2RU

New Books From

*Looking Backward,
1988-1888
Essays on Edward Bellamy*
Edited by Daphne Patai

Edward Bellamy (1850-1898) was a cultural critic in the broadest sense of the word and his work touches on a vast range of concerns. Virtually no aspect of late nineteenth-century American life went unexplored in his utopian novels, Looking Backward, 2000-1887 and its sequel Equality, and in his extensive journalism. One hundred years after the publication of Looking Backward, Bellamy remains a controversial figure in American literary and social history. This collection of essays attests to his continued importance. April 1989, 240pp, Cloth £24.95, Paper £9.50

*Culture & Comfort
People, Parlors, & Upholstery,
1850-1930*

Katherine Grier

This work by Katherine Grier examines Victorian America's fascination with the idea of creating a parlour. Great care was taken in the upholstery and drapery of such a place so that it gave rise to comfort and refinement. Grier looks into the financial constraints upon people possessing a parlour and into the role of manufacturing which made middle-class gentility much more accessible to those lower down the socio-economic scale.

Available now, 448pp, Cloth £19.95

University of Massachusetts Press

3 Henrietta Street, Covent Garden, London WC2E 8LU

Continued from back cover

Notes and Comment

- Hawthorne and Goldsmith? British History in “Young Goodman Brown” and Biographical Stories 295

LAURA B. KENNELLY

Review Essays

- Being a Contender 299

BRIAN NEVE

- Representing the Old West in the Eighties 303

MICK GIDLEY

- Questions of Significance: Some Recent Work in O’Neill Studies 311

JEAN CHOTHIA

- Beyond Ethnicity? 315

GERT BUELENS

- Reviews 321

Journal of American Studies

- Ralph Adams Cram and the Americanization of the Middle Ages 195
MICHAEL D. CLARK
- The Faded Dream: Inequality in Northern California in the 1860s and 1870s 215
ROBERT A. BURCHELL
- “The plots of God are perfect”: Poe’s Eureka and American Creative Nihilism 235
SUSAN MANNING
- Convict Runaways in Maryland, 1745–1775 253
KENNETH MORGAN
- Ronald Reagan’s Place in History 269
DAVID MERVIN
- State of the Art
- Jazz: the Betrayed Art 287
RICHARD PALMER

Continued inside back cover

© Cambridge University Press 1989

Cambridge University Press

The Pitt Building, Trumpington Street, Cambridge CB2 1RP
32 East 57th Street, New York, NY 10022
10 Stamford Road, Oakleigh, Melbourne 3166, Australia