MODERN WAR STUDIES

To the Gates of Stalingrad

Soviet-German Combat Operations,
April–August 1942

The Stalingrad Trilogy, Volume I

David M. Glantz

with Jonathan M. House

“A magisterial new survey that draws on a wealth of previously inaccessible Red Army records and will be indispensable reading for all serious students of the battle.”

—Michael K. Jones, author of Stalingrad: How the Red Army Triumphed

“Glantz’s painstakingly researched first volume of his trilogy on the monumental battle of Stalingrad takes the reader right into the headquarters of the tactical field commanders on both sides of the line. In a way never before attempted, Glantz reveals how the battle proceeded through the step-by-step, day-by-day efforts of leaders to plan, supervise, and conduct combat operations amidst the fog of war.”—Roger R. Reese, author of Red Commanders

“Glantz is the world’s top scholar of the Soviet-German War.”
—Journal of Military History

“Indisputably the West’s foremost expert on the subject.”—The Atlantic

736 pages, 80 photographs, 87 maps, Cloth $39.95

The Social Construction of Russia's Resurgence

Aspirations, Identity, and Security Interests
Anne L. Clunan

Clunan's analysis of Russia's resurgence convincingly argues that traditional security concerns, historical aspirations, and human agency are coalescing around a new national identity and reconfigured national interests in the post-Soviet nation. Her work moves beyond balance-of-power and realist politics to posit a new, interdisciplinary theory: aspirational constructivism. $60.00 hardcover

Stalin's Police

Public Order and Mass Repression
in the USSR, 1926–1941
Paul Hagenloh

"This is an extraordinary book of cardinal importance to the history of Stalin's USSR. Based on scrupulous original research in once secret archival documents, Stalin's Police presents a magisterial and authoritative account of the struggles of Soviet leaders to control and manage their public."

—Peter Solomon, University of Toronto
$45.00 hardcover

Cities after the Fall of Communism

Reshaping Cultural Landscapes and European Identity
edited by John Czaplicka, Nida Gelazis, and Blair A. Ruble

"Speaks not only to present-day policy debates in Eastern Europe but to broader disciplinary questions about the nature of history."

—Stephen Bittner, Sonoma State University

INTRODUCING A NEW SERIES
STANFORD STUDIES ON CENTRAL AND EASTERN EUROPE

Between States
The Transylvanian Question and the European Idea during World War II

HOLLY CASE

Between States uses the story of a territorial dispute between Hungary and Romania to recast the narrative of the Second World War and how it fits into the history of Europe in the twentieth century.

“This will take a rightful place among the really important and interesting works written on East Central Europe in the last forty years.”

—John Connelly,
University of California, Berkeley
$60.00 cloth

Two Suns in the Heavens
The Sino-Soviet Struggle for Supremacy, 1962–1967

SERGEY RADCHENKO

“Making excellent use of new archival materials, Sergey Radchenko illuminates a topic that we have known only in general outlines. Two Suns in the Heavens gives us a very fine understanding of the texture of the Sino-Soviet relationship, and of its twists and turns.”

—David Holloway,
Stanford University Cold War
International History Project

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SUBMITTING MANUSCRIPTS

Manuscripts for consideration should be submitted by post or courier in three double-spaced copies. Notes and block quotations should also be double-spaced; notes should be placed at the end of the manuscript and not at the bottom of the page. Library of Congress transliteration and the Chicago Manual of Style are to be followed. Submitted manuscripts may use either the humanities style (endnotes) or the author-date-bibliography system, though accepted articles will need to be revised to conform to Slavic Review's house style. Manuscripts are sent to outside readers in anonymous form and should be prepared accordingly.

In general, articles should not exceed 8,000 words, excluding notes. Please indicate the word count on the cover page of the manuscript. Accepted manuscripts will be copyedited electronically, and authors will be asked to submit an electronic version. Submissions will not be returned.

The policy of Slavic Review is not to consider materials that have been published in any form or language or that are being considered for publication elsewhere. Slavic Review is the journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies, whose members support the journal through their dues. Slavic Review expects the authors of articles published in the journal to belong to the association.
