Desegregating the Altar

The Josephites and the Struggle for Black Priests

1871–1960

Stephen J. Ochs

Desegregating the Altar, an extensive study encompassing Afro-American, Roman Catholic, southern, and institutional history, explains why the Roman Catholic church failed to ordain significant numbers of black clergy until the 1930s by examining the issue through the experience of the Josephites.

The Forgotten Hermitage of Skellig Michael

WALTER HORN, JENNY WHITE MARSHALL, GRELLAN D. ROURKE

With PADDY O'LEARY and LEE SNODGRASS

This book is a dramatically told, visually stunning account of a ninth-century hermitage discovered on an island off the coast of Ireland. It is the story, pieced together from fragmentary remains, study, and conjecture, of a man's attempt to live on a tiny ledge some 700 feet above the Atlantic, alone, as close to God as possible, in what is perhaps the ne plus ultra of ecstatic monastic solitude.

The Legend of Bouvines

War, Religion, and Culture in the Middle Ages

GEORGES DUBY

Translated by Catherine Tihanyi Zentelis

In this remarkable work, Duby focuses on the battle of Bouvines and treats this dramatic event as a point of entry into medieval society and culture. He describes this major battle in vivid detail, places it within a broad political, social, and cultural context, and examines the ways in which the battle has been recreated in myths and legends, both in the Middle Ages and in modern times.

Atheism in France, 1650–1729

Volume I: The Orthodox Sources of Disbelief
Alan Charles Kors

Although most historians have sought the roots of atheism in the history of “free thought,” Alan Charles Kors contends that attacks on the existence of God were generated above all by the vitality and controversies of orthodox theistic culture itself. In this first volume of a planned two-volume inquiry into the sources and nature of atheism, he shows that orthodox teachers and apologists in seventeenth-century France were obliged by the logic of their philosophical and pedagogical systems to create many models of speculative atheism for heuristic purposes.

PRIZES OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CHURCH HISTORY

The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize

The Brewer Prize is a subsidy of $2000 to assist the author in publishing a booklength manuscript in church history. The winning manuscript shall be published in a manner acceptable to the Society. Manuscripts accepted for publication may be submitted for this award, but the winning manuscript must have printed on its title-page, "The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize Essay of the American Society of Church History." If competing works are otherwise of equal quality, preference will be given to topics relating to the history of Congregationalism. Complete manuscripts in final form must be received by William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 328 Deland Avenue, Indialantic, FL 32903, by 1 November each year, with return postage included. The award will be announced at the spring meeting of the Society.

The Philip Schaff Prize

The Schaff Prize is an award in the amount of $1000 to be paid to the author of the best book originating in the North American scholarly community which presents original research in the history of Christianity or any period thereof. Books considered for the next award must have been published during the year 1988 or 1989. Any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration for the Schaff Prize. Copies of books nominated do not have to be submitted. Titles nominated for consideration must be received by William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 328 Deland Avenue, Indialantic, FL 32903, by 1 March 1991. The prize will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in December 1991.

The Sidney E. Mead Prize

The Mead Prize is an award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best unpublished essay in any field of church history written by a doctoral candidate or recent recipient whose manuscript stems directly from doctoral research. The manuscript will be published in Church History. Entries of no more than twenty-five double-spaced pages, including double-spaced endnotes, must be submitted to Stephen J. Stein, Chair, Committee on Research, American Society of Church History, 1420 E. Maxwell Lane, Bloomington, IN 47401, by 1 July each year. The prize will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in December.

CALL FOR PAPERS

The topic of the 25-27 April 1991 meeting of the American Society of Church History will be the history of "The Christian Church and Human Rights," in observance of the 200th anniversary of the ratification of the Bill of Rights of the Constitution of the United States of America. The program committee encourages sessions representing both genders. Proposals of paper topics for consideration should be sent to James H. Smylie, Chair of the Program Committee, Union Theological Seminary, 3401 Brook Road, Richmond, VA 23227. Such proposals must be received no later than Friday, 31 August 1990.

Writings of Major Anabaptist Theologian Translated

Balthasar Hubmaier: Theologian of Anabaptism

This is the critical English-language edition of the complete writings of Balthasar Hubmaier translated by H. Wayne Pipkin and John H. Yoder. It includes introductory prefaces, extensive indices, a bibliography, illustrations, and a large foldout map.

"Hubmaier was, perhaps, the foremost theologian of 16th-century Anabaptism. He wrote by far the most helpful treatise on baptism as is true of his treatises on government, free will, heresy, and the nature of the Christian life. We are much in debt for the careful explanation he gives us of the Lord's Supper and the order of service he provided for it." —C. J. Dyck, Institute of Mennonite Studies

Volume 5 in the Classics of the Radical Reformation series which makes available in English the writings of major 16th-century radical Reformation leaders. Hard, $49.95, in Canada $61.95

THE ALBERT C. OUTLER PRIZE IN ECUMENICAL CHURCH HISTORY

The Outler Prize was established to encourage the critical study of ecumenical church history, broadly conceived, and to facilitate the publication of such studies. "Ecumenical" is to be construed as chiefly concerned with the problems of Christian unity-and-disunity (doctrinal, cultural, institutional) in any period of church history; or with interactions between Christianity and other religious movements. Works of a partisan nature are excluded. The following categories are eligible:

- a. Studies, chiefly narrative and critical, of ecumenical church history dealing with historical controversies and divisions, or with notable instances of reconciliation and consensus.
- b. Analyses of church councils, dialogues, and debates, or interactions between Christianity and other religious traditions.
- c. Biographical studies of significant leaders, or of persons whose involvement in ecumenical dialogue and action was noteworthy.
- d. Critical editions (preferably annotated) of significant ecumenical documents.
- e. Bibliographical reviews and evaluations in major areas of ecumenical church history.
- f. Pioneering studies that advance scholarly knowledge and ecumenical understanding.

The prize consists of an award of $1000 to the author and a possible grant of up to $3000 for publication (or in exceptional cases, for necessary expenses in the preparation of a book-length manuscript accepted for publication). The prize will be awarded annually, though no award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding. Complete manuscripts in final form must be received by William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 328 Deland Avenue, Indialantic, FL 32903, by 1 June. The prize will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in December.

THE JANE DEMPSEY DOUGLASS PRIZE

The Douglass Prize is an award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best unpublished essay on some aspect of the role of women in the history of Christianity. The manuscript will be published in Church History. Entries of no more than twenty-five double-spaced pages, including double-spaced endnotes, must be submitted to Stephen J. Stein, Chair, Committee on Research, American Society of Church History, 1420 E. Maxwell Lane, Bloomington, IN 47401, by 1 August each year, beginning in 1990. No award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding. The prize will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in December.
