By RENÉ GUÉNON

Translated from the French by ARTHUR OSBORNE

8vo, cloth, pp. 170. Price 6s.

"René Guénon is one of the few writers of our time whose work is really of importance . . . he stands for the primacy of pure metaphysics over all other forms of knowledge, and presents himself as the exponent of a major tradition of thought predominantly Eastern, but shared in the Middle Ages by the scholastics of the West . . . clearly Guénon's position is not that of Christian orthodoxy, but many, perhaps most, of his theses are, in fact, better in accord with authentic Thomist doctrine than are many opinions of devout but ill-instructed Christians. This in itself is a reinforcement of his arguments."—The Weekly Review.

As owing to the war the Society has lost temporarily the subscriptions of its continental members and the sale of its publications to continental booksellers, it is the earnest hope of the Council that members in the British Empire, the United States, and elsewhere will assist towards the maintenance of this Journal by the recruitment of new members, the prompt payment of annual subscriptions and if possible by donations.

All Members who pay the full subscription of £3 3s. whether living in Great Britain or abroad are styled “Fellows of the Royal Asiatic Society”.

Control of paper and labour has necessitated reduction in the size of the Journal and postponement in printing a list of Fellows and Members.
