

Society for Public Administration and the committee on Comparative Politics of the Social Science Research Council, will hold an international conference at the Rockefeller Foundation's Villa Serbelloni, at Lake Como, July 17-22. The conference will deal with theoretical problems in administrative reform in developing states. The conference has been organized by Ralph Braibanti, Chairman of the Commonwealth-Studies Studies Center at Duke University and Joseph La Palombara and Fred Riggs, Honorary Chairman and presiding officer will be A. R. Cornelius, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pakistan. Among political scientists reading papers or serving as discussants will be Carl J. Friedrich, Joseph La Palombara, W. H. Morris-Jones, Giovanni Sartori, Michel Crozier, Jose Abueva,

Harold Lasswell, Brian Chapman, Ralph Braibanti, A. W. Singham, J. J. Spengler, Taylor Cole, W. J. M. Mackenzie, Fred W. Riggs, Samuel E. Finer, John D. Montgomery, Dwight Waldo, G. S. Sharma and Lucian Pye.

The Association for the Study of Negro Life and History will hold its Fifty-second Annual Meeting at the Voyager Inn, Greensboro, North Carolina on October 12-15, 1967. The Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina is the host institution. Those interested in proposing papers, or sessions, or other participation should contact the program chairman, Walter Fisher, Morgan State College, Coldspring Lane and Hillen Road, Baltimore, Maryland 21212.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

The Escuela Latinoamericana de Ciencia Política y Administración Pública, located in Santiago, Chile, and supported by the Inter-Development Bank, UNESCO and the Ford Foundation, is training young faculty members from all over Latin America in modern political analysis, with particular emphasis on problems of methodology for empirical research. The director of the school is Horacio H. Godoy of Argentina. James W. Prothro, University of North Carolina and Robert L. Ayres, of the same institution, are currently visiting professor and assistant professor respectively in the school. Other U. S. professors who have joined the staff for varying periods are Arpad von Lazar, Vanderbilt University and Harold D. Lasswell of Yale.

Political scientists at the six New England state universities are collaborating in a comparative study of legislative behavior in New England. The study is sponsored by the New England Center for Continuing Education under the direction of Robert B. Dishman, assisted by Robert E. Craig, both of the University of New Hampshire. Participating are Karl A. Bosworth, Alvin E. Dozeman, I. Ridgway Davis and Everett Ladd from the University of Connecticut; Eugene Mawhinney, Dana R. Baggett, and Paul Dunham, University of Maine; George Goodwin, Jr., William C. Havard, Glen Gordon and David R. Mayhew, University of Massachusetts; Robert E. Spencer and John O. Stitely, University of Rhode Island; Rolf Haugin, Andrew E. Nuquist and Henry Brubaker, University of Vermont; Shirley Clark, Joseph P. Ford and Lawrence O'Connell, University of New Hampshire.

Applications are now being accepted for Fulbright-Hays appointments for university lecturing and advanced research abroad during 1968-69. It is expected that specialists in political science will receive appointments in about twenty countries. Under the Fulbright program, such specialists have this year been serving as lecturers in Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, France, Germany, India, Italy, Japan, Korea, the Netherlands, Peru, and the Philippines, and they have in recent years held awards for research in Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, India, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, and the Philippines.

The basic application requirements are: U. S. citizenship; a doctoral degree or equivalent status for research; college or university teaching experience for lecturing appointments; in some cases, proficiency in a foreign language.

For lecturing awards under the 1968-69 program, application before May 1, 1967 is strongly recommended. The deadline for research applications is June 1, 1967.

Application forms, a list of openings in political science, and details on the terms of awards for particular countries are available from the Committee on International Exchange of Persons, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D. C. 20418.

Upon the invitation of the Political Science Department of the University of Illinois, 80 Illinois political scientists met on the Urbana campus of the University of Illinois on October 29, 1966, to discuss matters of current and common interest.

A summer seminar on cross-national urban politics, sponsored by the Comparative Urban Studies Committee of the Comparative Administration Group, The American Society for Public Administration, will be held at the University of North Carolina, July 19 to August 17. Frederic N.

Cleaveland and Robert T. Daland, UNC, will direct the seminar. Other participants will be Robert Alford, University of Wisconsin; Daniel Grant, Vanderbilt; William J. Hanna, American University; James Goyot, UCLA; Francine Rabinovitz, University of Florida; Frank Sherwood, University of Southern California; and Deil Wright, University of Iowa.

The Institute of Urban Research of the University of Connecticut has received a grant from the Municipal League to study the effects of reapportionment in Connecticut. Four political scientists, all from the University, will be associated with the study. They are Karl A. Bosworth, I. Ridgway Davis, Everett C. Ladd, Jr. and Alvin Dozeman.

Political scientists who have been in residence during all or part of 1966-67 at the East-West Center's Senior Specialists program in Hawaii are Remigio E. Agpalo, University of the Philippines; Narayan Deshpande, Nagpur University in India; William C. Johnstone, Jr., Johns Hopkins University; and Norman D. Palmer, University of Pennsylvania.

LUCIUS BARKER, University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee, has accepted a position as research associate to the Chancellor of the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana.

DAVID A. BINGHAM, University of Arizona, has been appointed to the Board of Directors of the Federation of Rocky Mountain States, Inc.

RALPH BRAIBANTI, Duke University, will spend part of the summer doing research at the Institute of Commonwealth Studies, London.

LOUISE BRAKEMAN, Dension University, will be director of the Regional Council Center for International Students to be held at Chatham College in Pittsburgh during the summer.

ARCHIE D. CHELSETH, formerly administrative assistant with the Association of Minnesota Counties, has been appointed by Minnesota Governor Harold LeVander to the post of research director in the Office of the Governor.

C. WALTER CLARK JR., Drake University, has been awarded a Danforth Foundation teaching grant and will be on leave, 1967-68.

RICHARD F. CRABBS is on leave from Indiana University and is serving as dean of the Faculties at the American University in Cairo for the academic years 1966-68.

JOHN P. CRECINE, University of Michigan, will be spending the 1967-68 academic year in the Economics Department, RAND Corporation, Santa Monica, California.

SAMUEL J. ELDELSVELD, University of Michigan, spent the month of February in India in connection with a research project.

W. O. FARBER, University of South Dakota, served as secretary to the NATO Parliamentarians Conference Committee on Education, Cultural Affairs and Information at its Paris meeting, November 14-18.

E. FEIT, University of Massachusetts, has been awarded a Mershon post-doctoral fellowship and will do research at the Mershon Center, Ohio State University, during 1967-68.

JOSEPH R. FISZMAN, University of Oregon, has been appointed to a three-year term to the Board of Editors of the Western Political Science Quarterly.

ALONA E. EVANS, Wellesley College, has been elected to the Board of Editors of the American Journal of International Law.

IVO K. FEIERABEND, visiting associate professor of political science, and ROSALIND L. FEIERABEND, visiting research psychologist, Washington University, St. Louis, have been awarded the 1966 sociopsychological $1000 prize of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. They have also received a research grant from the National Science Foundation.

HERBERT GARFINKEL has returned to Michigan State University from the Institute of Social Sciences at the Hague. He was a NATO visiting professor.

LAWRENCE GRAHAM is on leave from the University of Texas and is serving as a public administration advisor to the program of the Institute of Public Administration in Lima, Peru.

BARBARA B. GREEN, Wellesley College, will be on leave 1967-68. She had been named an associate of the Russian Research Center, Harvard University.

ROBERT T. GOLEMBIEWSKI, University of Georgia, has been chosen to receive the 1967 Best Book award of the American College of Hospital Administrators for his book Men, Management, and Morality.

RUFUS G. HALL, University of Oklahoma, is serving as a consultant in the Foreign Service Institute, State Department, January-August, 1967.

ILIYA F. HARIK has spent the 1966-67 year on leave from Indiana University and has conducted research at the American Research Center in Egypt, Inc., located in Cairo.

JOHN J. HOOKER, the Catholic University of America, will be on sabbatical leave during 1967-68.

NEAL D. HOUGHTON, University of Arizona, attended a planning conference in Honolulu in February to work out a program for a forthcoming conference on "Engineering and the Building of Nations" to be held at Estes Park.

GEORGE P. JAN, University of South Dakota, will do research in the Far East during the fall term, under grants from the Social Science Foundation and the Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver.

GEORGE JENKINS, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, is coordinator of the African Studies Committee at UMW.

CHARLES O. JONES, University of Arizona, has been appointed a member of the Commission on Political Activity of Government Personnel by the United States House of Representatives Speaker, John W. McCormack.

ROGER KANET, the University of Kansas, has been elected president of the Bi-State Conference for the Kansas-Missouri Area.

PAUL KELSO, University of Arizona, was on sabbatical leave during spring quarter, 1967.

EVERETT C. LADD, University of Connecticut, has received research grants from the National Science Foundation and the Social Science Research Council.

RICHARD H. LEACH, Duke University, will be on sabbatical leave during the academic year 1967-68 as a Fulbright professor at the University of Amsterdam.

CHAE JIN LEE, The University of Kansas, has received the Elizabeth M. Watkins faculty fellowship for research.

HERMAN D. LUJAN and HAROLD RIEHM, University of Kansas, have research grants from the Ford Foundation.

CHARLES B. McLANE, Dartmouth College, read a paper in October at the Institute for the Study of the Soviet Union, Munich.

DOUGLAS MENDEL, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, has been awarded a faculty research grant. He spent the summer of 1966 at Sophia University in Tokyo.

JOHN NORMAN, Pace College, was appointed State Fact Finder and Mediator by the Connecticut Board of Mediation and Arbitration.

FRITZ NOVA, Villanova University, will spend a sabbatical summer teaching at the Hochschule fuer Politische Wissenschaften, Munich. Currently he is a visiting research associate at the School of International Relations, Princeton University.

THOMAS PAGE, University of Illinois-Urbana, has been elected chairman of the Advisory Board to the Illinois Department of Personnel, a bipartisan statutory body on which he serves by appointment by the Governor.

ADOLPH REED, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, has been a faculty fellow during 1966-67.

EUGENE ROSSI, Dickinson College, will replace K. R. Nilson as director of the College International Studies program in the fall.

ALAN H. SCHECHTER, Wellesley College, has received a fellowship from the National Endowment for the Arts and Humanities for research during the summer of 1967.

EDWARD V. SCHTEN, Institute of Governmental Affairs, University Extension, University of Wisconsin, is on a two-year leave of absence and is serving as an AID higher education advisor in Bogota, Colombia.

MORTON SCHWARTZ, University of California, is spending a sabbatical leave as an associate at the Russian Research Center, Harvard University.

SHELDON W. SIMON, University of Kentucky, has been awarded a summer research associateship with the Institute for Sino-Soviet Studies, George Washington University.

CURRIN V. SHIELDS has resumed his duties at the University of Arizona after a six months' sabbatical leave.

FRANK SMALLWOOD, Dartmouth College, read a paper at the annual Conference of the Canadian Federation of Mayors last June.

JOHN E. STONER, Indiana University and PHILIP C. JOHNSON, Purdue University, have received grants and contracts from the Indiana State Highway Commission and the Bureau of Public Roads to design and implement a system for reporting and analyzing highway traffic accidents by electronic data process.

EDWARD TABORSKY, University of Texas, is on spring and summer leave and is conducting research under grants from the Social Science Foundation of the University of Denver and the University Research Institute of the University of Texas.

RAYMOND TANTER, Northwestern University, has a one-year appointment as assistant director, Behavioral Sciences Division, Advanced Research Projects Agency, Washington, D. C.

JAMES E. UNDERWOOD, Union College, is in Washington, D. C. during 1966-67 as a Congressional Fellow.

GUENTER WEISSBERG, Colby College, has been appointed to the senatorial appointment commission of the state of Maine.

CLAUDE E. WELCH, SUNY at Buffalo, attended a seminar sponsored by the Institute on Man and Science in Tunisia in March. He has also been named chairman of the Committee on Africa Studies of the Council on International Studies and World Affairs.

YORK Y. WILLBERN, Indiana University, has been on leave during 1966-67. During the spring quarter he taught at the American University in Beirut.

ARTHUR M. WILSON, Dartmouth College, will be a speaker at the Second International Congress on the Enlightenment at St. Andrews Scotland, August 21-31.

DAVID ZIBLATT, Michigan State University received an award from the Western Political Science Association for the best dissertation completed in 1965 at a western University.

STAFF CHANGES

NEW APPOINTMENTS

JOEL ABERACH, assistant professor, University of Michigan.

THOMAS ANTON, joint appointment as associate professor, Department of Political Science and School of Social Work, University of Michigan; formerly of University of Chicago.

LAWRENCE R. ALSCHULER, assistant professor, University of Hawaii.

JONATHAN S. BARKER, lecturer, University of Arizona.

THOMAS A. BAYLIS, assistant professor, Duke University; formerly of the University of California at Berkeley.

JURLJ BORYS, associate professor, University of Calgary; formerly of University of Stockholm.

KARL R. BRAITHWAITE, assistant professor, Duke University; formerly of University of Wisconsin.

THOMAS W. CASSTEVENS, assistant professor, Oakland University; formerly of the Institute of Governmental Studies, University of California, Berkeley.

TEH-KUANG CHANG, assistant professor, Ball State University.

SAMUEL D. COOK, associate professor, Duke University; formerly of Atlanta University.

RICHARD C. CORTNER, associate professor, University of Arizona; formerly of University of Tennessee.

RALPH E. CRAIG, instructor, University of New Hampshire.

JOHN E. CROW, assistant professor, University of Arizona; formerly of University of Washington.

WILLIAM J. DANIELS, assistant professor, Union College.

ALFRED DIAMANT, professor, Indiana University.

DONALD E. EPSTEIN, instructor, University of Connecticut.

JAMES EISENSTEIN, assistant professor, University of Michigan.

FRANK FEIGERT, instructor, Knox College; formerly of the University of Maryland.

A. R. FIELD, assistant professor, University of Calgary; formerly of San Fernando State College.

ROY E. FELDMAN, assistant professor, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, July 1, 1967.

LEE J. FLYNN, assistant professor, Pomona College.