Curbing Campaign Cash

Henry Ford, Truman Newberry, and the Politics of Progressive Reform

Paula Baker

“Scandals over money in politics are nothing new. Curbing Campaign Cash provides keen historical insight into the earliest efforts to set limits on campaign financing and how that affected one of the most controversial campaigns for the United States Senate.”—Donald A. Ritchie, author of Electing FDR: The New Deal Campaign of 1932

“A fascinating account of one of the more sensational Senate elections of the twentieth century and a crucial episode in the history of campaign finance.”—Lewis L. Gould, author of Four Hats in the Ring: The 1912 Election and the Birth of Modern American Politics

208 pages, 12 photographs, Cloth $29.95

Theodore Roosevelt and the American Political Tradition

Jean M. Yarbrough

“As biography, this extraordinary book offers a rich and compelling account of TR’s life. As intellectual history, it supplies the best treatment to date of TR’s own political thought, situating it within the framework of the various strands of progressivism. As political theory, it explores TR’s political and constitutional ideas in the light of the thought of the Founders and of Abraham Lincoln, assessing the strengths and weaknesses of TR as both a thinker and statesman. Yarbrough has pulled off the perfect intellectual trifecta.”—James W. Ceaser, author of Reconstructing America

“Roosevelt has at last received the attention of a superb analyst of his political thought.”

—Harvey C. Mansfield, author of Manliness and Machiavelli’s Virtue

400 pages, Cloth $39.95
