The IAU designated the meeting as an official IAU Colloquium and provided travel funds. We are also grateful for generous financial support from the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences and from the Office of Research, Technology and Graduate Education of the University of Florida. The Department of Astronomy of the University of Florida sponsored the meeting through the effort of faculty, graduate students and staff. Dr. P. Finally, we appreciate the work of organizers of the preceding colloquia in this series that helped make the series a success.
