Erratum. Please note the following changes to the October 2014 issue of PS, volume 47, issue 4: The correct e-mail address for Nicholas Goedert on page 813 is goedertn@lafayette.edu. On page 935 of that issue, the photographs for the three unnumbered middle photos were improperly captioned. The caption for the middle left photograph should read: “Traci Burch receives the Ralph J. Bunche Award for the best book, Trading Democracy, from Simon Jackman.” The dual caption for the center and middle right photographs should read: “Jane Junn (in left photo) and Natalie Masuoka (in right photo) received the Ralph J. Bunche Award for their book The Politics of Belonging: Race, Public Opinion, and Immigration from Simon Jackman.”

About APSA

Founded in 1903, the American Political Science Association is the leading professional organization for the study of political science and serves more than 15,000 members in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to expand awareness and understanding of politics.

The direct advancement of knowledge is at the core of APSA activities. We promote scholarly communication in political science through a variety of initiatives including publishing three distinguished journals: American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, and PS: Political Science and Politics.
