

THE POLITICAL ECONOMY OF INTERNATIONAL CHANGE

John Gerard Ruggie, General Editor

A new series intended to elucidate patterns of change and continuity in today's world political economy as well as to contribute to ongoing theoretical debates about how to study important contemporary issues at the interface of politics and economics, national and international systems.

THE ANTINOMIES OF INTERDEPENDENCE NATIONAL WELFARE AND THE INTERNATIONAL DIVISION OF LABOR

John Gerard Ruggie, Editor. Addresses a central question for policy makers and researchers in the fields of international affairs, economics, and political economy: By means of what posture toward the international division of labor can countries best achieve significant and sustainable welfare gains for their people? "Fruitful interdisciplinary research and interaction in the social sciences have proven to be elusive goals. John Ruggie demonstrates with this volume that he is one of the very few social scientists who can bring us closer to those goals." — Carlos F. Diaz Alejandro. "A superior combination of theory and generalizations with empirical case materials." — Robert Gilpin. 520 pp., A King's Crown Paperback, $15.00; $35.00 cl

POWER AND PROTECTIONISM STRATEGIES OF THE NEWLY INDUSTRIALIZING COUNTRIES

David B. Yoffie. An innovative look at the success of the newly industrializing countries in combatting the new protectionism, especially as it is attempted in American economic policy. Based on new information released under the Freedom of Information Act and extensive interviews with government officials and business executives. 288 pp., A King's Crown Paperback, $15.00; $30.00 cl

ECONOMICS AND WORLD POWER AN ASSESSMENT OF AMERICAN DIPLOMACY SINCE 1789

William H. Becker and Samuel F. Wells, Jr., Editors. The first comprehensive analysis of the economic dimensions of American foreign policy from 1789 to the present which provides a careful analysis of the interactions among national and international economic change, domestic politics and bureaucratic interests, and ideology and the process of policymaking. 416 pp., $10.00 pa, $35.00 cl (January)

THE LIMITS OF EUROPEAN INTEGRATION

Paul Taylor. A study of the prospects of European economic integration in general and through the European Economic Community in particular, this book convincingly argues that member states have in fact displayed increasing resistance to the loss of authority to community institutions. "It is a genuinely important book, probably the most original contribution to the study of the European community in the last decade." — Donald Puchala. 320 pp., A King's Crown Paperback, $15.00; $27.50 cl

Send for our free 1983 Political Science catalog

To order send check or money order to Dept. JN at the address below, including $2.00 per order for postage and handling.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY PRESS

136 South Broadway, Irvington, NY 10533

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

CLIVE ARCHER

The first title in a new series of major importance

KEY CONCEPTS IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

A concise, lucid textbook which explains the rise of international organizations in the twentieth century and assesses their significance in the modern international political system. The concept of the international organization is defined, and ways of distinguishing the various kinds of organizations are outlined. In addition, the author's thorough review of the literature includes not only the works of the "realist," functionalist, and neo-functionalist schools, but also the less well-known Marxist and Third World perspectives.

PB $9.95

HB $24.50

160pp.

1983

• A L L E N • U N W I N • I N C •

9 Winchester Terrace
Winchester, Massachusetts 01890

20% Discount on Prepaid Orders (check, MC/VISA)

PUBLICATIONS FROM THE
UNITED NATIONS

WORLD CONCERNS AND THE UNITED NATIONS

Model Teaching Units for Primary, Secondary and Teacher Education.

Contains information that will be very useful to teachers and students. It covers United Nations activities in education, the developing United Nations community, major world changes and continuing challenges. It will help students and teachers determine what is being and can be done to assure a peaceful and more secure world.

E.83.I.12

$23.00

UNITED NATIONS
Room A-3315
New York, N.Y. 10017

PUBLICATIONS
Palais des Nations
1211 Geneva 10, Switzerland

CLOSING THE GOLD WINDOW

Domestic Politics and the End of Bretton Woods

By JOANNE GOWA. On August 15, 1971, President Richard Nixon announced that the United States would no longer convert dollars into gold or other primary reserve assets. Complementing earlier works that emphasize international political and economic factors, this new book examines the ways in which domestic influences contributed to this crucial action. (Cornell Studies in Political Economy) $12.50 paper; $27.50 cloth

GOVERNMENTS, MARKETS, AND GROWTH

Financial Systems and the Politics of Industrial Change

By JOHN ZYSMAN. The author makes a significant contribution to our understanding of critical international issues by demonstrating that there is a direct relationship between a nation's financial system and its government's ability to restart the growth engine. "Governments, Markets, and Growth is an original and important contribution to the debate about industrial policy. . . . [A] path-breaking study."—Robert Heilbroner, New School for Social Research. (Cornell Studies in Political Economy) $24.50

AMERICAN INDUSTRY IN INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

Government Policies and Corporate Strategies

Edited by JOHN ZYSMAN and LAURA TYSON. The essays in this book lead to the disturbing observation that the U.S. has had only one policy option in response to international competitive difficulties—protectionist measures. The editors argue that the government should instead arm itself with a variety of policy instruments. (Cornell Studies in Political Economy) $34.95

INTERNATIONAL REGIMES

Edited by STEPHEN D. KRASNER. Fourteen distinguished specialists in international political economy thoroughly explore the concept of international regimes—the implicit and explicit principles, norms, rules, and procedures that guide international behavior. (Cornell Studies in Political Economy) $9.95 paper; $29.95 cloth

Also of interest . . .

NATIONS AND NATIONALISM

By ERNEST GELLNER. This thoughtful and penetrating book interprets nationalism in terms of its social roots, which it locates in industrial social organization. Gellner's analysis accounts for the contemporary strength of nationalism and explains its relative weakness in the past. $6.95 paper; $24.50 cloth

At bookstores or from

CORNELL UNIVERSITY PRESS

P.O. Box 250, Ithaca, New York 14851

New Fall Books From MIT

Essays in International Economic Theory

Volume 1: The Theory of Commercial Policy
Volume 2: International Factor
Mobility

Jagdish Bhagwati

edited by Robert C. Feenstra

Jagdish Bhagwati is widely recognized as perhaps the foremost theorist in the area of the international trade of his generation. These two volumes contain seventy of his essays chosen largely for the originality of their contribution in this area.

November Vol. 1, 592 pp. Vol. 2, 571 pp.
$45.00 each

The Multinational Corporation in the 1980s edited by Charles P. Kindleberger and David B. Audretsch

These essays address the vital question of how much of the theory of direct foreign investment, developed a decade ago, still holds in the light of the shift from fixed to flexible exchange rates, the rise of OPEC, the increasing nationalization of firms, and other changes.

384 pp. $30.00

Original in Paperback

Common Crisis

North South
Cooperation for World Recovery
The Brandt Commission

Common Crisis is a call to world government for emergency measures to halt international

Write for our current economics catalog.

Marxism, Central Planning, and the Soviet Economy

Economic Essays in Honor of Alexander Erlich

edited by Padma Desai

"This is a rich, well-edited collection of articles on centrally planned economies ranging broadly from the intricacies of Marxist theory and resource allocation analysis to the index-number theoretics of Soviet defense spending."—Herbert S. Levine, University of Pennsylvania

312 pp. $35.00

Politics and Technology in the Soviet Union

Bruce Parrott

"A very important study. Parrott demonstrates elegantly how complex and varied are the responses of the Soviet domestic system to the challenges of Western technology. This book will open up a whole new generation of analyses of the impact of the world economic system on Soviet internal politics."

—Thane Gustafson, Rand Corporation

440 pp. $45.00

economic collapse. In lucid and forceful terms it describes the crisis in trade, energy, and food, offering specific proposals for reversing these negative trends.

184 pp. $4.95

28 Carleton Street
Cambridge, MA 02142

THE MIT PRESS

Institute for International Economics

The Institute for International Economics was created in 1981 in order to provide fresh analyses of major issues in international economic policy and to suggest new approaches to dealing with the problems involved. Books and monographs published by the Institute are distributed by The MIT Press.

International Debt

Systemic Risk and Policy Response

William R. Cline

This book traces the origins of international debt and recent trends that burden it. It examines the extent of the financial system's vulnerability, and the adequacy of bank regulation and of central bank coverage for emergency lending to international banks, and reviews the prospects for orderly servicing of the debt in the next few years.

175 pp. $20.00

Trade Policy in the 1980s

edited by William R. Cline

The world trading system which has been of critical importance to both economic prosperity and political harmony throughout the postwar period now faces strains not seen since the 1930s. Essays in this book assess the trends and problems in trade policy, recommended ways of dealing with them.

714 pp. $35.00

Policy Analyses in International Economics

paperback monographs

The Exchange Rate System

John Williamson

80 pp. $6.00

Economic Sanctions in Support of Foreign Policy Goals

Gary Clyde Hufbauer

80 pp. $6.00

International Debt and the Stability of the World Economy

William R. Cline

80 pp. $6.00

The Multiple Reserve Currency System

C. Fred Bergsten and John Williamson

80 pp. $6.00

Write for our current economics catalog

28 Carleton Street, Cambridge, MA 02142

Subsidies in International Trade

Gary Clyde Hufbauer and

Joanna Shelton-Erb

Subsidies raise some of the most important and difficult issues of contemporary international economic relations. Proposals for improving the ability of the international trading system to tackle the problems subsidies pose are set forth in this book.

400 pp. $20.00

IMF Conditionality

edited by John Williamson

These contributions (including eleven country studies) assess the controversy surrounding the International Monetary Fund and provide judgments about the criteria for Fund lending which should help readers understand and analyze both its ongoing role in smoothing adjustment to international payments imbalances and its currently critical position in responding to the debt crisis.

679 pp. $30.00

Trade Policy in the 1980s

C. Fred Bergsten and William R. Cline

84 pp. $6.00

"Reciprocity"

A New Approach to World Trade Policy?

William R. Cline

42 pp. $6.00

The Lending Policies of the International Monetary Fund

John Williamson

72 pp. $6.00

Available from Books By Phone, toll free
1-800-255-2665

(in Connecticut 1-203-966-5470)

MasterCard and Visa accepted

THE MIT PRESS

AMERICAN JOURNAL OF
POLITICAL SCIENCE

Robert S. Erikson, Editor

One of the leading journals of political science in the country, publishing works in American Politics and methodology, international politics, comparative politics, and political philosophy. Journal of the Midwest Political Science Association.

RATES: Individuals - $18.00; Institutions - $36.00

Journals Department
University of Texas Press
Box 7819, Austin, TX 78712

A Journal of Political and Economic Affairs

Sponsored by the World Peace Foundation
Edited at Cornell University
Published by The MIT Press