

MA in Applied Language Studies in Education (ALSE)

KING'S College
LONDON
Founded 1829
University of London

This new modular Masters programme emphasises the language and linguistic dimension of education - from curriculum design to classroom practice, to community and environmental influences on language practices and the implications for assessment. It addresses the increasing importance, worldwide and in the UK, of a critical awareness of language use in most professions.

Modules are available in:

Assessment; Bilingualism; Discourse Analysis; Ethnography in Communication; Language Acquisition; Language and Power; Language and the Internet; Linguistics; Literacy Practices; Management; Recent Developments; Research Methods.

For further information contact:

The Admissions Office, School of Education, King's College London, Cornwall House, Waterloo Road, London SE1 8WA. Tel: 0171 872 3170, Fax: 0171 872 3182 or e-mail: lois.thorley@kcl.ac.uk

World Wide Web: <http://www.kcl.ac.uk/kis/schools/education/top.html>

Promoting excellence in teaching, learning & research

Equality of opportunity is College policy

Current research in Britain

The Centre for Information on Language Teaching and Research (CILT) collects information on current research into language teaching and research being carried out in the UK. The results of the last survey of research-in-progress are now available in the publication:

Current research into language teaching and learning in the UK (1993–1995)

Wright P (ed.) (CILT, 1996)

Price £20.00, ISBN 1 874016 61 5, 140pp

This research round-up gives an up-to-date overview of current research activity in the field of language teaching and learning. The projects listed cover all areas and sectors of education from early language learning to language learning in higher education and vocational language learning. The register also includes expert commentary on the details of research projects received, and papers spelling out the major issues and concerns for contemporary researchers in the UK and further afield.

The book contains:

- description of over 180 current research projects in the field of language teaching and learning, including bibliographic references to resulting publications and reports;
- qualitative and quantitative analysis of the survey results by leading researchers;
- details of 156 recently completed postgraduate dissertations and theses;
- papers by Professor Christopher Brumfit and Eric Hawkins on the issues and challenges facing researchers today;

and draws on the expertise of the CILT Advisory Group on Research.

A searchable database of current research projects notified to CILT is also available on the World Wide Web on the Lingu@NET: a virtual language centre site:

<http://ncet.org.uk/projects/linguanet/index.html>

CILT is keen to receive details of new projects in the field of language teaching and learning. Readers interested in having their research project included in the database of current research and in subsequent publications are invited to send for a questionnaire. Further details are available from Philippa Wright at the address on the inside front cover or from research@cilt.org.uk

Cambridge University Press

The Pitt Building
Trumpington Street
Cambridge
CB2 1RP

40 West 20th Street
New York
NY 10011-4211
USA

10 Stamford Road
Oakleigh
Melbourne 3166
Australia

Printed in Great Britain at the University Press, Cambridge

language teaching

The international abstracting journal
for language teachers and applied linguists

January 1997 Volume 30 no 1

Contents

		Page
State of the art	James A. Coleman on residence abroad within language study	1
Abstracts	Language learning and teaching – theory and practice	21
1–92
1–44	Language teaching	21
45–76	Language learning	33
77–87	Language testing	43
88–92	Teacher education	47
93–138	Related research and language study	49
93–122	Psycholinguistics	49
123–134	Sociolinguistics	58
135	Pragmatics	62
136–138	Language study	62
New books		64
List of abstractors		66
List of periodicals		67
Subject and author indexes		70

CiLT

Centre for Information on Language Teaching and Research

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

0261-4448(199701)30:1;1-2