PUBLICATIONS COMMITTEE

MR A McCLEMENTS, Retiring Editor

It is with regret that the Executive Council have accepted the resignation of Mr A McCLEMENTS from his position as one of the Technical Editors of the Journal. Mr McCLEMENTS, after giving unstintingly of his time for the past three years, now finds that the pressure of his work makes it necessary for him to hand over his Technical Editorship.

We should like to record the Association's sincere appreciation of Mr McCLEMENTS for the valuable and extensive work he put into the Technical Editorship of our Journal.

Mr D M DAVIES, of The Fairey Aviation Company, Ltd, has very kindly accepted to take Mr McCLEMENTS' place, and we record our thanks to him also.

REPRODUCTION OF JOURNALS

The Association is now reproducing the first six volumes of the Journal as published between October, 1946 and April, 1953, in the form of three bound books.

Each book will cost £5, or £15 for the set. Publication is expected during September and orders are now being accepted.

BOOK REVIEW

The Association Library has recently received a complimentary copy of the 1954 Aeroplane Directory, published by The Temple Press. This comprehensive annual reference book on British and Commonwealth Aviation will be well-known to Members. This year's volume incorporates a tab reference for the first time which greatly facilitates the use of the book. Within the Volume there are sections devoted to The Aviation Industry, Civil Ministries and Establishments, Service Aviation, Commercial Aviation, etc, and there is a section entitled "Whose Who in Aviation".

The lecture takes place on Thursday, September 9th, 1954, at 6.30 p.m. in the Ballroom Lounge of the Dorchester Hotel, Park Lane, London, W 1, prior to the Association's Annual Dinner.
