BIOLOGICAL FOUNDATIONS AND ORIGIN OF SYNTAX

Edited by Derek Bickerton and Eörs Szathmáry

"This book continues the debate between those who see the core rules of syntax as the result of biological evolution and those who stress cultural evolution atop more general brain functions. To this reader, the chapters enriched by consideration of brain and computation swing the weight of evidence to the latter camp." — Michael Arbib, University of Southern California

HYPOTHESIS A/HYPOTHESIS B

Linguistic Explorations in Honor of David M Perlmutter

Edited by Donna B. Gerdts, John C. Moore and Maria Polinsky

Essays reflecting the influence of David M. Perlmutter, one of the era's most versatile linguists. Many of the contributions deal with the study of the world's languages, reflecting the influence of Perlmutter's cross-linguistic research and meticulous analysis of empirical data. Other topics include theoretical morphology, complex verbs, complex clauses and the nature of sign language.

THE LOCATIVE SYNTAX OF EXPERIENCERS

Idan Landau

This book offers the most comprehensive description of the syntax of psychological verbs to date, documenting their special properties in more than twenty languages. Existing accounts of psychological verbs either consider very few languages or fail to incorporate other theoretical frameworks; this study takes a broader perspective, informed by findings of four decades of research.

£38.95 • cloth • 978-0-262-01330-7

DISTRIBUTED REDUPLICATION

John Frampton

"John Frampton's Distributed Reduplication presents a totally novel account of a range of classical problems in phonology. I have learned a great deal from reading earlier versions of Frampton's book and discussing these problems with him. I expect that his book will have a significant impact not only on future work on reduplication, but will influence how research in phonology is conducted in the years to come." — Morris Halle, Department of Linguistics, MIT

WHY AGREE? WHY MOVE?

Unifying Agreement-Based and Discourse Configurational Languages

Shigeru Miyagawa

An argument that not only do movement and agreement occur in every language, they also work in tandem to imbue natural language with enormous expressive power.

Address for books for review and book reviews Dr Kerstin Hoge, Review Editor, JL, St Hilda's College, Oxford OX4 1DY, UK. kerstin.hoge@mod-lanqs.ox.ac.uk

Editorial policy The Journal of Linguistics has as its goal to publish articles that make a clear contribution to current debate in theoretical linguistics. The language of submission and publication is English.

Preparation and submission of manuscripts Manuscripts should be formatted as for A4 paper (US 11" × 8.5") with margins of at least 3 cm (1.5") on all four sides, double-spaced and with a 12 pt font. PLEASE NOTE THAT ONLY PAPERS OF NO MORE THAN 60 DOUBLE-SPACED PAGES, INCLUDING REFERENCES AND FOOTNOTES, WILL NORMALLY BE ACCEPTED. If a longer manuscript is submitted for some particular reason, the covering note must state a case for an exception to this limit.

Authors should normally submit the manuscript as a PDF file to the Managing Editor by e-mail, with the main body of the e-mail message containing (i) the name(s) of the author(s) and full contact details; (ii) the full title of the paper; (iii) an abstract of about 200 words summarising the content of the paper; (iv) a statement about the length of the paper in page numbers. The published version of an article includes an abstract; all abstracts are sent to potential referees. While the PDF format is preferred at the time of submission, authors may submit the manuscript in the DOC format. In some cases, authors may be asked to send a hard copy of the submission by post.

For the purpose of refereeing, the electronic copy of an article should be anonymous: the name(s) of the author(s) should not be included in the file and in the file's 'Properties' and, as far as possible, the author(s) should not be identifiable from the references in the text or the acknowledgements. All submitted papers will normally be read by two anonymous referees. The identity of the author(s) of a review article is revealed to the referees but the referees normally remain anonymous.

Accepted papers have to be formatted in accordance with the journal's style and submitted in a file (or files) compatible with PC/Windows XP/MS Word. The journal welcomes articles and book reviews formatted in (La)Tex.

The full set of notes for contributors is available from the journal's web page and from the Managing Editor.

Proofs will be presented as PDF files for the authors to correct. In the case of co-authored articles, the proofs will be sent to the first-named author, unless otherwise requested. Please inform the Managing Editor of any relevant changes of e-mail addresses occurring between the submission of the final version of the paper and the expected release of the proofs. The proofs should be corrected within three days of receipt and returned immediately. Detailed proofing instructions will be found with the proof.

THE LINGUISTICS ASSOCIATION OF GREAT BRITAIN

The Linguistics Association of Great Britain was founded in 1959 to promote the study of linguistics and to provide for its members both a forum for discussion and facilities for cooperation in furtherance of their interest in linguistics. The Association holds annual autumn meetings, at which original papers are presented in plenary sessions and in workshops devoted to special interests.

Persons interested in linguistics are eligible for election as members, subject to the approval of the Committee. Subscribing members may receive the Journal of Linguistics at a substantial discount. Application forms for membership may be obtained from the Membership Secretary, address as below.
