Publication Policy

Law & Social Inquiry is published quarterly for the American Bar Foundation by Wiley Periodicals, Inc., Commerce Place, 350 Main St., Malden, MA 02148-5020; Tel: 781 388 8200; Fax: 781 388 8210.

The purpose of Law & Social Inquiry is to promote research and writing dedicated to the study of law, legal institutions, legal processes and individuals' interactions with legal systems, undertaken from a socio-legal perspective. The editors invite the submission of manuscripts that make original contributions to the understanding of sociolegal processes. Law & Social Inquiry considers both empirical analyses and theoretical studies without restriction as to time or place. Law & Social Inquiry embraces the broad range of perspectives and methodologies current in contemporary social science and humanities disciplines.

Law & Social Inquiry is a refereed journal that practices double-blind peer review. Manuscripts deemed appropriate for the journal are evaluated by two or more referees with expertise in the relevant subject matter and methodology. Manuscripts are rendered anonymous prior to review; referees are not identified to authors.

The American Bar Foundation (ABF) is an independent, nonprofit national research institute committed to objective empirical research on law and legal institutions. The Foundation's program of sociolegal research is conducted by an interdisciplinary staff of Research Fellows trained in such diverse fields as law, sociology, psychology, political science, economics, history, and anthropology. The American Bar Foundation is the preeminent resource for lawyers, scholars, and policy makers seeking analyses of the theory and functioning of law, legal institutions, and the legal profession. The Foundation's work is supported by the American Bar Endowment, by The Fellows of the American Bar Foundation, and by grants for particular research projects from private foundations and government agencies. The Foundation (Director Robert L. Nelson) is located at 750 North Lake Shore Drive, 4th floor, Chicago, Illinois 60611. Further information about Foundation programs and activities can be found at: www.americanbarfoundation.org. For information specific to Law & Social Inquiry choose the publications menu on the ABF website, go directly to www.abfn.org/lawsoc.html, or go to www.wileyonlinelibrary.com.

Manuscripts submitted to Law & Social Inquiry by ABF Research Fellows are evaluated in the same fashion as all other manuscripts received, and are accorded no special privilege or priority in publication.

ARTICLES: To submit an article manuscript, please go to the Journal's ScholarOne Manuscripts homepage (<http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/lasi>). Log in, or click the "Create Account" option at the top-right corner of the log-in page if you are a first-time user of ScholarOne Manuscripts. After submitting your manuscript, you will receive a confirmation e-mail. You can also access ScholarOne Manuscripts any time to check the status of your manuscript. The Journal will inform you once a decision has been made.

Send general queries to: lasi-abf@abfn.org. The mailing address: Law and Social Inquiry, The American Bar Foundation, 750 North Lake Shore Drive, Suite 400, Chicago, Illinois 60611. Telephone: 312-988-6517. Fax: 312-988-6611.

REVIEW ESSAYS: Review Essays do not undergo traditional peer review, so please do not use ScholarOne Manuscripts to submit your essay.

Send books for review and inquiries regarding review essays to: Howard S. Erlanger, Review Section Editor, Law & Social Inquiry, Institute for Legal Studies, Law School, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI 53706.

Telephone: 608-263-7405. Fax: 608-238-8003. E-mail: erlanger@ssc.wisc.edu. Please note that Law & Social Inquiry publishes review essays and short book notes but not traditional book reviews.

Law & Social Inquiry will not consider any manuscript concurrently submitted for publication elsewhere. Submission of a manuscript commits the author to publish the manuscript in Law & Social Inquiry if accepted for publication by the Editors.

Manuscript Preparation and Submission Guidelines: Article manuscripts submitted to Law & Social Inquiry should be prepared using MS Word. Please use Times New Roman 12pt font for text, notes, and references. Article manuscripts must be double-spaced throughout, including notes and references. Article manuscripts must be accompanied by an abstract of no more than 150 words. LSI strongly prefers submissions to adhere to a 15,000 word limit. If your manuscript is over 15,000 words, please submit a letter with the submission explaining the length. We will allow up to 17,500 words for papers using qualitative, historical, narrative, or multiple methodologies. For complete submissions instructions, please see www.wileyonlinelibrary.com.

Accepted Manuscripts: Manuscripts that are accepted for publication must be brought into full conformity with Law & Social Inquiry style. Detailed instructions can be found at www.wileyonlinelibrary.com.

Accepted manuscripts are copy edited for style but not substance; authors remain responsible for citation accuracy and for all statements of fact or opinion. Authors are given an opportunity to review edited manuscripts and/or proofs.

Off-Prints to Authors: Free access to the final PDF offprint of articles will be available via Author Services only, an automated system. Please sign up for Author Services if you would like to access your article PDF offprint and to access the other benefits the service offers. Authors are encouraged to sign up for Author Services when their article enters production in order to receive a clear explanation of the benefits, including the ability to access their final article. To sign up, visit <http://authorservices.wiley.com/bauthor/>.

Republication Rights: It is a condition of publication that authors assign copyright in their articles to the American Bar Foundation. Authors retain rights of re-use, as long as re-use does not include sale or reproduction of the article or any part of it for commercial purposes. These rights apply without needing to seek permission from the Foundation or Wiley Blackwell. In addition, provided that authors give appropriate acknowledgement to the Journal, the American Bar Foundation and Wiley Blackwell, and full bibliographic reference for the Article when it is published, they may use all or part of the article and abstract, without revision or modification, in personal compilations or other publications of their own work.

All requests by third parties to re-use the Article in whole or in part will be handled by Wiley Blackwell. Any permission fees will be retained by the Journal. All requests to adapt substantial parts of the Article in another publication (including publication by Wiley Blackwell) will be subject to the author's approval.

2016 Law & Social Inquiry Graduate Student Paper Competition

The editors of Law & Social Inquiry are pleased to announce our annual competition for the best journal-length paper in the field of sociolegal studies written by a graduate or law student. Law & Social Inquiry publishes empirical and theoretical studies of sociolegal processes from a variety of disciplinary perspectives. Entries will be accepted starting January 1, 2016 and must be received by March 1, 2016.

LSI invites direct submissions from graduate and law students and nominations of student work from faculty. The author must be a graduate student or law student at the time the paper was written and when submitted. Faculty nominations should include a short description along with the paper and contact details for the student. The winning paper will be published in Law & Social Inquiry and the author(s) will receive a total cash prize of $500 (US). Submissions will be judged by the editors. The winning submission will be sent to selected scholars for advisory reviews to aid with revisions prior to publication.

Please send your best work in Microsoft Word or as a PDF to: lsi-abf@abfn.org. Please indicate (1) your intention is to be considered for the prize competition; (2) confirm your graduate student status; and (3) that the paper is a sole submission to Law & Social Inquiry, meaning that you have not submitted it to other journals for potential publication. Submission is limited to one paper per student; articles may not be altered or resubmitted with corrections once it has been received by our office.

Submissions must include a title page with a complete mailing address, e-mail address, and phone number(s). The second page should include a 100-150 (maximum) word abstract. Beginning on the third page, all pages should be paginated. Text, footnotes, endnotes, and references should be double-spaced, in Times New Roman 12 font, with 1.5" margins on all sides with no headers or footers. Properly formatted submissions must be no more than 60 manuscript pages.

For additional information go to <http://blackwellpublishing.com/LSI>, or <http://abfn.org/LSI>, email us at lsi-abf@abfn.org, or call our office directly at (312) 988-6517.

Acknowledgments to Reviewers

The Editors wish to thank the following reviewers whose careful evaluations and helpful recommendations have greatly assisted us during the past year. We are grateful for their willing contributions of expertise and judgment, which help maintain Law & Social Inquiry's high standards for scholarly work in sociolegal studies.
