Habeas Corpus in America The Politics of Individual Rights Justin J. Wert

“A significant and original contribution to our understanding of American constitutional law. Wert’s sophisticated and nuanced analysis serves as a window onto not only habeas corpus but also the nature and processes of American constitutional development more generally.”—Ken I. Kersch, director of the Boston College Clough Center for the Study of Constitutional Democracy
Constitutional Thinking
296 pages, Cloth $34.95

Pat Nixon Embattled First Lady Mary C. Brennan

“This engaging and eye-opening biography digs beneath popular characterizations of Patricia Ryan Nixon as a victim and martyr and assesses this reluctant first lady on her own terms.”
—Susan M. Hartmann, author of From Margin to Mainstream: American Women and Politics since 1960
Modern First Ladies
256 pages, Cloth $34.95

The Presidency of Theodore Roosevelt Second Edition, Revised and Expanded Lewis L. Gould

“A clear, balanced, insightful account that establishes itself as the best treatment yet done of its subject.”—American Historical Review
American Presidency Series
360 pages, 25 photographs, Cloth $37.50, Paper $24.95

The Fate of Cities Urban America and the Federal Government, 1945–2000 Roger Biles

“This is the most comprehensive and knowledgeable account of post New Deal urban policy in decades. Biles looks beyond the intricacies of policy to capture the politics, ideological battles, and competing interests behind Washington’s ever-shifting response to the challenges of industrial and white middle-class flight, fiscal shortfalls, decaying infrastructure, and deepening racial and class segregation. An excellent resource for all who care to understand the shape of metropolitan America, past, present, and future.”—Alice O’Connor, author of Urban Inequality
464 pages, Cloth $39.95

Presidential Leadership in Political Time Reprise and Reappraisal Second Edition, Revised and Expanded Stephen Skowronek

A bestselling classic with a new chapter on President Barack Obama
“With this brilliant work, Skowronek scans the centuries to illuminate the dynamics that have made some presidents the master of political time—and others its victim.”—Ron Brownstein, Los Angeles Times national affairs columnist
“Brief, accessible, and captivating, this is an important contribution to our understanding of presidential leadership in American politics.”—Political Science Quarterly
240 pages, Cloth $34.95, Paper $17.95

The Detroit School Busing Case Milliken v. Bradley and the Controversy over Desegregation Joyce A. Baugh

“An illuminating work that does an excellent job of describing the politics and controversies surrounding the entire busing issue of the late 1960s and 1970s.”—Paul A. Sracic, author of San Antonio v. Rodriguez and the Pursuit of Equal Education
248 pages, Cloth $34.95, Paper $17.95

Landmark Law Cases and American Society Peter Charles Hoffer and N.E.H. Hull, series editors

The Free Press Crisis of 1800 Thomas Cooper’s Trial for Seditious Libel Peter Charles Hoffer

“A terrific piece of work by one of our very best historians. Written with verve and authority, it provides a masterful account of a little-known story with powerful implications for the subsequent history of free speech.”—Peter S. Onuf, author of Jefferson’s Empire: The Language of American Nationhood
168 pages, Cloth $34.95, Paper $16.95

Blacks and the Quest for Economic Equality
The Political Economy of Employment in Southern Communities in the United States

James W. Button, Barbara A. Rienzo, and Sheila L. Croucher

"This is an exceptional work of scholarship that presents a comprehensive and compelling study of racial inequality in employment that also provides prescriptions for change. It's both highly readable and meets rigorous academic standards. It's not to be missed by anyone with a genuine interest in race and employment inequality."

—T. Wayne Parent,

Capabilities, Power, and Institutions
Toward a More Critical Development Ethics

Edited by Stephen L. Esquith and Fred Gifford

The essays in Capabilities, Power, and Institutions extend, criticize, and reformulate the capabilities approach to development to better understand the importance of power—especially institutional power. In addition to the editors, the contributors are Sabina Alkire, David Barkin, Nigel Dower, Shelley Feldman, Des Gasper, Daniel Little, Asunción Lera St. Clair, A. Allan Schmid, Paul B. Thompson, and Thanh-Dam Truong.

216 pages | $60.00 cloth

Empathy and Democracy
Feeling, Thinking, and Deliberation

Michael E. Morrell

"Empathy and Democracy demonstrates the importance of empathy in the deliberative practices that make democratic government legitimate. Deftly interweaving empirical research on the role of empathy in deliberation with a normative theory of democratic legitimacy, Michael Morrell delivers a thoroughly researched, carefully argued book that makes important contributions to the field of political theory as well as to empirical political science."

—Sharon R. Krause, Brown University

232 pages | $60.00 cloth

The Political Responsibilities of Everyday Bystanders

Stephen L. Esquith

"The Political Responsibilities of Everyday Bystanders is an imaginative, practical, well-argued, and wonderfully written work of moral philosophy, political theory, and democratic education, all at once. . . . It is eminently thoughtful, and it promises, in the hands of citizen teachers, to help inculcate or evince the political responsibilities that 'everyday bystanders' (including students and citizen teachers themselves) have in the face of political challenges and even 'severe violence.'"

—James Farr, Northwestern University

256 pages | 9 illustrations | $54.95 cloth

Second-Wave Neoliberalism
Gender, Race, and Health Sector Reform in Peru

Christina Ewig

"Christina Ewig has written a first-rate book that makes contributions on several different levels. . . . Ewig's analysis is all the more impressive because it is informed by extensive fieldwork that she conducted in Peru over the course of several years. Besides the obvious appeal this book will have for specialists in Peru, it should be of great interest to students of comparative social policy and of the complex politics of gender, intersectionality, and historical legacies."

—Robert Kaufman, Rutgers University

272 pages | 3 illustrations | $67.95 cloth

Dapper Dan Flood
The Controversial Life of a Congressional Power Broker

William C. Kashatus

"Bill Kashatus has written the first comprehensive biography of Dan Flood, northeastern Pennsylvania's colorful and legendary congressman. This fascinating book sheds light on a vanished era in Congress—when the nation's business was done under the cover of darkness by those with seniority who knew the system and used it to their own ends."

"By insisting that we move beyond decentralization—and by showing how we should apply a common analytical framework to the study of decentralizing and recentralizing changes—Decentralization and Recentralization in the Developing World significantly broadens the scope of the literature on intergovernmental relations. This is a must read for students of subnational politics."

Ethics & International Affairs

for the Carnegie Council for Ethics in International Affairs

Editor-in-Chief:

Joel H. Rosenthal

Carnegie Council for Ethics in International Affairs, USA

Ethics & International Affairs aims to help close the gap between theory and practice (and between theorists and practitioners) by publishing original essays that integrate rigorous thinking about principles of justice and morality into discussions of practical dilemmas related to current policy developments, global institutional arrangements, and the conduct of important international actors. Theoretical discussions that originate in philosophy, religion, or the social sciences should connect with the interests of journalists, activists, policy-makers, and citizens who are primarily concerned with assessing and reforming specific policies, as well as existing rules and institutions such as the United Nations, the World Bank, and the International Monetary Fund; arrangements governing trade, environmental protection, and the use of force; and the International Criminal Court and ad hoc tribunals that address genocide and past societal injustices.

The Life and Rise of Barack Obama
by David Remnick

Now in Paperback with a New Epilogue

“Remnick deserves credit for telling Obama’s story more completely than others, for lending a reporter’s zeal to the task, for not ducking the discussion of race and for peeling back several layers of the onion that is Barack Obama.” —Gwen Ifill, The Washington Post

“Without sermonizing or sentimentalizing, Remnick sheds light on the complicated role of race in Obama’s rise and victory and, perhaps most relevantly, in the conduct of his presidency.”
