

Contents

List of Figures	page viii
Acknowledgements	ix
Note on Transliteration	xii
Introduction: Schools as Sites of Lived and Imagined Citizenship	1
1 The Late Mubarak Era, Education and the Research	23
2 Living the Intensities of the Privatized State: Informal Marketization across the System	55
3 Everyday Violence and Punishment in the Schools	83
4 Gendered Noncompliance and the Breakdown of Discipline	107
5 Nationalism, Belonging and Citizenship in Official Textbooks	131
6 Performing the Nation, Imagining Citizenship: School Rituals and Oppositional Non-belonging	156
7 What Has Changed in Education Since the Revolution?	185
Conclusion: Schooling the Nation in the Shadow of the Uprising	208
Bibliography	231
Index	261