Fighting over Fidel

The New York Intellectuals and the Cuban Revolution

Rafael Rojas
Translated by Carl Good

New York in the 1960s was a hotbed for progressive causes of every stripe, including women's liberation, civil rights, opposition to the Vietnam War—and the Cuban Revolution. Fighting over Fidel brings this turbulent cultural moment to life by telling the story of the New York intellectuals who championed and opposed Castro's revolution.

PITT LATIN AMERICAN SERIES

“An indispensable account that tracks the troubled contours of one of the bloodiest borders in the New World. Paulino’s scrupulously researched, vigorously argued history is a bridge that reaches back to our island’s agonized past but also, hopefully, to its brighter future.”

CUBAN STUDIES 44

Edited by Alejandro de la Fuente

Cloth • $45.00 • 432 pp. • ISBN 978-0-8229-4447-8

Cuban Studies 44 features a dossier on the Cuban economy that covers economic problems and causation since 2010 and their possible remedy; tax reform from 2010 to 2014; the reconfiguration of social and economic actors since 2011 and the prospects of a market economy; the functioning of state-owned companies within current restructuring policies; and changes in Cuba's trade deficit since 2009.

Other topics include the consequences of the "Special Period" and the de/reconstruction of the "New Socialist Man"; public health care policies in the post-Soviet era; the Wallace Stevens poem "Academic Discourse at Havana"; U.S. General Fitzhugh Lee's role in Cuban independence; José Martí's death as a myth of the Cuban nation-building project; "Operation Pedro Pan" and the framing of childhood memories in the Cuban American community; and the social and political control of nonconformists in 1960s Cuba.

The Native Conquistador

Alva Ixtlilxochitl's Account of the Conquest of New Spain

Edited and translated by Amber Brian, Bradley Benton, and Pablo García Loaeza

"This excellent translation accomplishes a 'decentering' of the conquest of Mexico. It makes available a text with an alternate indigenous view of the fall of Tenochtitlan that not only reveals the social, ethnic, and regional divisions in preconquest society but also makes clear the religious and political imperatives in the creation of the new colonial regime." —Stuart B. Schwartz,

Yale University

152 pages | 4 illustrations/3 maps

Translated Christianities

Nahuatl and Maya Religious Texts

Mark Z. Christensen

"Mark Christensen expertly guides the reader through a rich selection of little-known religious writings in native languages, unfolding multiple dimensions of this intercultural confrontation. . . . Concise, yet ranging broadly in time and space, this book shows that, indeed, the processes of translation and adaptation yielded not one but many 'Christianities.'"

—Louise M. Burkhart,
University at Albany, SUNY

The Improbable Conquest

Sixteenth-Century Letters from the Rio de la Plata

Edited by Pablo García Loaeza and Victoria L. Garrett

"The Improbable Conquest . . . [offers] readers an excellent and needed translation of little-known letters from the Spanish conquest of an immense territory. . . . This book is a necessary tool for all Spanish American scholars, particularly those specializing in the first half of the sixteenth century and the Spanish and Portuguese discovery, conquest, and colonization of South America."
