

Editorial Board (as of 1 August 2021)

Ian ALSOP (Editor), University of Aberdeen Tectonics/structural geology

Kevin EDWARDS (Editor), University of Aberdeen Environmental change in northern Europe & North Atlantic; Palynology; palaeoecology; Quaternary science; environmental archaeology

Rob M. ELLAM (Editor), Scottish Universities Environmental Research Centre Isotope geochemistry, igneous petrogenesis

Fiona FORDYCE (Editor), Environmental geochemistry, sediment, soil and water quality, environment and health

Allan LILLY (Editor), James Hutton Institute Soil hydrology, soil science, soil survey

Alistair MCGOWAN (Editor), BioGeoD, Edinburgh
Palaeobiology; biodiversity; invertebrate palaeontology; the Fossil Record

Emrys PHILLIPS (Editor), British Geological Survey Glacial sciences, soft-sediment deformation

Andrew ROSS (Chairman & Editor-in-Chief), National Museums Scotland, Edinburgh Invertebrate palaeontology; palaeobiology; palaeoecology; palaeoenvironment; palaeoclimate

Chris SOULSBY (Editor), University of Aberdeen
Hydrogeology; biogeochemistry

Rachel WALCOTT (Editor) National Museums Scotland, Edinburgh
Mineralogy, geomorphology, structural geology and tectonics

Stig WALSH (Editor), National Museums Scotland, Edinburgh
Vertebrate palaeobiology; vertebrate palaeontology

Earth and Environmental Science

Transactions of the Royal Society of Edinburgh

Volume 112 September 2021 Issue 3–4

Kevin J. EDWARDS James Croll – bicentenary and biography, from janitor to genius	159
Mike ROBINSON Dr James Croll: a product of his environment? An exploration of the natural, social, personal and economic factors that influenced his extraordinary life	165
Kevin J. EDWARDS and Mike ROBINSON James Croll – a man 'greater far than his work'	171
Kevin J. EDWARDS James Croll and 1876: an exceptional year for a 'singularly modest man'	191
Laura BRASSINGTON The 'janitor-geologist' and the 'cold materialistic scientific men': James Croll's navigation of scientific societies	209
Diarmid A. FINNEGAN Science, metaphysics and Calvinism: the God of James Croll	221
Malcolm LONGAIR James Croll, celestial mechanics and climate change	231
James R. FLEMING Cosmic connections: James Croll's influence on his contemporaries and his successors	239
James CROLL and David SUGDEN On the thickness of the Antarctic ice, and its relations to that of the glacial epoch	245
Alastair DAWSON The oceanographic contribution of James Croll	253
James ROSE Lyell, the Geikies and Croll's observations on terrestrial glacial sediments and landforms	261
Polychronis C. TZEDAKIS and Eric W. WOLFF James Croll and geological archives: testing astronomical theories of ice ages	275
Roy THOMPSON Croll, feedback mechanisms, climate change and the future	287
Jo WOOLF Popularising Croll: an opportunity for expression and creativity	305
Kevin J. EDWARDS In search of James Croll: archives, genealogy, publications and other resources	309

