FROM HOLOCAUST TO DIALOGUE:

A JEWISH-CHRISTIAN DIALOGUE BETWEEN AMERICANS AND GERMANS

Edited by
Leonard Swidler

From Holocaust to Dialogue is the scholarly distillation of a year-long intense seminar among Jewish and Christian religious scholars both at Temple University in Philadelphia and at nine German universities. It contains the best essays produced in that dialogue. These essays, however, are not just rigorous scholarly undertakings—though they surely are also that—but also in many ways they represent important breakthroughs in the encounter between Judaism and Christianity. New thoughts are conceived, new vistas are envisioned, new paths are pointed out—from both the Jewish and the Christian sides. After reading From Holocaust to Dialogue one would have to disagree with Qoheleth: There is something new under the Sun!

You are invited to order a copy of From Holocaust to Dialogue for $5.00. Or you can subscribe to the world's foremost journal of interreligious dialogue in the English language—the Journal of Ecumenical Studies—and receive From Holocaust to Dialogue free with your order for vol. 20 (1983). The quarterly J.E.S. contains many very informative and important articles, book reviews, article abstracts (from some 400 journals the world over), and reports of events, all dealing with some aspect of interreligious dialogue, be it Protestant-Catholic, Jewish-Christian, Muslim-Jewish-Christian, Buddhist-Christian, Christian-Marxist, etc. You may order vol. 20 for just $16 ($18, outside the U.S.).
