Books and Journals from
Cambridge University Press

Cambridge is one of the leading publishers in ecology and conservation biology and publishes high quality texts and research across the breadth of the life sciences, focusing particularly on animal behaviour, biological anthropology, evolutionary biology, computational and systems biology, as well as statistics and professional development titles for biologists.

We also have an extensive portfolio of established journals in agriculture, ecology and conservation, and animal science.

Instructions for Contributors

Bird Conservation International publishes papers and communications on subjects relevant to the conservation of birds, with a general preference for those addressing international or high national priorities.

Submission of manuscripts. Electronic versions of papers should be submitted online at <https://www.cambridge.org/bci> or, in exceptional circumstances, via email to bcieditor@bto.org. Please follow the guidelines in the Instructions for Authors.

Proofs. The corresponding author will receive, by email, page proofs for checking which they are required to return within three days of receipt. Textual changes in proof cannot normally be countenanced and the publisher reserves the right to charge authors for excessive correction of non-typographical errors.

Copyright. Authors of articles published in the journal assign copyright to BirdLife International (with certain rights reserved) and a copyright assignment form will be sent to the author for signature on acceptance of a paper.

Printed in the UK by Bell & Bain

This journal issue has been printed on FSC-certified paper and cover board. FSC is an independent, non-governmental, not-for-profit organization established to promote the responsible management of the world's forests. Please see www.fsc.org for information.
