

Challenge and Decision

POLITICAL ISSUES OF OUR TIME, THIRD ED.

REO M. CHRISTENSON. In response to the events and shifting focus in domestic affairs during the past two years, this edition is virtually a new book. It applies balance and lucidity, which characterized the earlier editions, to major coverage of such topics as public employee strikes, the welfare system, housing, ghetto education, and programs for dropouts and the hard-core unemployed. Three new chapters probe the causes and characteristics of the student revolution, the mood and condition of Black America, and crime. Just published. 301 pp.; $3.95 paper

Politics as the Master Science: From Plato to Mao

HERBERT J. SPIRO. Based on all the subdisciplines, here is a new, integrated approach to political science. Ancient and modern political theories are related to policy problems in sophisticated Western nations and in developing political systems. Contemporary methodologies and concepts are examined as related phenomena. Discussions demonstrate how differing methods of political analysis alter practical policy. Basic questions about the "best life," the "best state," and the "position of man" are considered. February. 227 pp. + index; $2.95 paper

The Metropolis

ITS PEOPLE, POLITICS, AND ECONOMIC LIFE, SECOND ED.

JOHN C. BOLLENS and HENRY J. SCHMANDT. Thoroughly up to date, this edition includes the latest empirical investigations and theory and the authors' own research. February. Tentative: 600 pp.; $12.50

Modern Public Administration, SECOND ED.

FELIX A. NIGRO. Retaining the original framework, this edition has been extensively rewritten and updated (through 1968). February. Tentative: 350 pp.; $8.50
