The British Association for American Studies was founded in 1955 to promote the study of the United States within the United Kingdom. It welcomes applications for membership from people interested in the history, society, government and politics, economics, geography, literature and thought of the United States. It publishes a Newsletter twice yearly, holds an Annual Conference, and provides other services for its members from time to time. Enquiries concerning current subscription rates and applications for membership should be addressed to the Secretary, Mr. Mark Leaf, Department of English, University of Durham, Elvet Riverside, Durham DH1 3JT, England.

The Journal of American Studies publishes work by scholars of various nationalities on American literature, history, institutions, politics, economics, geography and related subjects. Articles which cross the conventional borders between academic disciplines are particularly welcome, as are comparative studies of American and other cultures. It also publishes review essays, book reviews and, biennially, a list of theses on American topics in progress and completed at British universities.

Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Decisions on articles submitted are normally made within three months and those accepted published within a year. Details about the submission of manuscripts are given on the inside of the back cover.
