Journal of Contemporary Religion

EDITOR

Dr Peter B. Clarke

Centre for New Religions, King's College
London, University of London, UK

Supported by an International Editorial Board

In 1995, Religion Today is to be relaunched as Journal of Contemporary Religion.

Since its inception in 1984, Religion Today has provided a forum for discussion and analysis of new religions. A wide range of new movements have been sampled, including Rastafarianism, Goddess worship, self-religions, the Unification Church ('Moonies'), Hare Krishna, the New Age Movement, New Japanese Religions and Rajneeshism. The philosophical, theological, educational and sociological aspects of these movements have been covered. Further, current developments in the major religions and, in recent times, the present situation of religion in Eastern Europe have been documented.

From 1995, the editorial coverage of the journal will be enhanced and expanded. While the focus will continue to be on new religions and new manifestations of religiosity and spirituality, there will be a place for articles covering trends and contemporary developments within mainstream churches and the world's major religions.

1995 - Volume 10 (3 issues). ISSN 1353-7903.

Listen to what readers are saying about the Mercer Dictionary of the Bible:

"Mercer University Press is to be congratulated on the offer of this judicious, comprehensive dictionary. I anticipate that it will be well received by those who want to know more about the Bible, and will be both a great help and a standard reference work for many years. . . . In the midst of current controversy about the Bible, this publication stands boldly for sanity, intelligence, and moderation. The book just might guard current conversation against destructive ideology."

—Walter Brueggemann,
Columbia Theological Seminary

"The Mercer Dictionary of the Bible is an up-to-date, thorough, one-volume dictionary of the Bible and related subjects and literature. Encyclopedic in scope, it covers each book of the Bible (including the deuterocanonical books) and most of the Bible's apocryphal, pseudepigraphical, archaeological, and philosophical/theological background. The quality of the articles is first-rate. Scholars, pastors, and church teachers everywhere will find it a welcome and useful tool."

A THEOLOGY FOR THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY

Theologia 21

EXPOUNDING THE SCIENCE OF DOMINION
THE CHRIST-JESUS WAY

Founded in 1970, this esoteric journal is now in its twentieth volume. It is issued intermittently in fascicles totaling about twenty 8½" x 11" pages per year, punched for three-ring binder. All back issues are available, in three binders @ $24.95 each or $69.95 the set. Purchase of Binder No. 3 includes subscription for the year in which purchased.

Single volumes (unbound) for any back year are available @ $10.00. Each volume is fully indexed and contains many cross-reference footnotes.

The editorial approach of THEOLOGIA 21 is solidly Christian. However, the publishers are unaffiliated with any denomination. The Bible is foundational but interpretations are often metaphysical, thus producing a content that is unique in religious literature.

"I really love your publication and am studying it with enthusiasm. I myself am a theologian, being an ex-Catholic priest. Your work is highly valuable."

--Bernard Cantlin, D.D., Montreal, Canada
