Reconfiguring American Political History

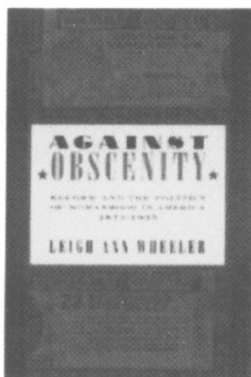

Black Power

Radical Politics and African American Identity
Jeffrey O. G. Ogbar

"A distinct contribution to the new scholarship on the Black freedom movement. Ogbar is among the best of a new generation of imaginative and critical scholars, probing past assumptions and challenging old understandings of such groups as the Black Panther Party and the Nation of Islam . . . Ogbar's analysis is bound to become the center of lively debates."

author of A Nation within a Nation: Amiri Baraka and Black Power Politics

$45.00 hardcover

Against Obscenity

Reform and the Politics of Womanhood in America,
1873–1935

Leigh Ann Wheeler

"Rather than portraying early twentieth-century debates over obscenity as a part of a continuous battle between the forces of 'repression' and 'enlightenment,' Leigh Ann Wheeler identifies key moments in these early sex wars, skillfully elucidating the changing significance of gender. Placing her subject in the broadest possible context, she analyzes its legacy for the sex wars of the 1980s and beyond . . . Scholarly, accessible—and relevant."

Indiana University

The Big Vote

Gender, Consumer
Culture, and the Politics of Exclusion,
1890s–1920s

Liette Gidlow

"A compelling account of the Get-Out-the-Vote campaigns of the 1920s, reminding us that concerns about turnout in American elections are not new. The Big Vote also suggests that the motivations and meaning of calls for greater participation may be far more complex than they appear to be on the surface."

author of The Right to Vote: The Contested History of Democracy in the United States
