International Decisions

Disruption, Special Climate Considerations, and Striking the Balance

(Ole W. Pedersen)

This Review Essay focuses on the Grand Chamber's decisions in the three cases of Verein KlimaSeniorinnen Switzerland et al v. Switzerland, Carême v. France, and Duarte Agostinho and Others v. Portugal and 32 Others. The cases arise from novel and exceptional legal questions, giving the Grand Chamber an opportunity to establish an authoritative framework on the nexus between climate change and human rights.

(Buhm-Suk Baek and Hosung Ahn)

This decision by the Constitutional Court of the Republic of Korea is the first high court ruling on climate change in both Korea and Asia. The decision provides insights into the global spread of human rights-based climate change litigation. In particular, it found that the National Assembly and president of the Republic of Korea violated the obligation to protect the environmental rights of the complainants.

M.K. Ranjitsinh and Others v. Union of India and Others. 2024 INSC 280

(Aman Kumar)

147

This decision of the Supreme Court of India exemplifies the development-environment dichotomy, especially as it relates to wildlife. The case illustrates how the Indian government keeps its Intended Nationally

Determined Contribution (NDC) to the UNFCCC in mind while carrying out any wildlife conservatory efforts in the wider context of climate change.

- Request for an Advisory Opinion Submitted by the Commission of Small Island States on Climate Change and International Law*
(Benoit Mayer) 153

The final international decision in this issue focuses on the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea's important advisory opinion on the obligations of states to mitigate climate change and to promote adaptation to the impacts of climate change.

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

The American Society of International Law (ASIL) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, educational membership organization founded in 1906 and chartered by Congress in 1950. Headquartered in Washington, D.C., its mission is “to foster the study of international law and to promote the establishment and maintenance of international relations on the basis of law and justice.” ASIL holds Special Consultative Status with the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations and is a constituent society of the American Council of Learned Societies.

ASIL’s 3,500 members come from more than one hundred nations with nearly 40 percent residing outside the United States. Its members include scholars, jurists, practitioners, government officials, leaders in international and nongovernmental organizations, students, and others interested in international law. Through its many publications, conferences, briefings, and educational events, ASIL seeks to serve the needs of its diverse membership and to advance understanding of international law among policymakers and the public.

ASIL is a volunteer-led organization governed by an elected Executive Council and administered by an executive director and professional staff.

JOURNAL INFORMATION

AJIL is published in print and digitally by Cambridge University Press on behalf of the American Society of International Law. To reduce time between acceptance and publication, contributions may appear online as FirstView publications in advance of their scheduled publication in an issue. Discover the entire AJIL back archive at www.cambridge.org/ajil/issues.

Subscriptions

The electronic version of AJIL is available to all members of the American Society of International Law by login to the ASIL website www.asil.org. Print copies are also supplied to all members.

To subscribe as a non-member or recommend a subscription to your librarian go to www.cambridge.org/ajil.

Submission of Manuscripts

AJIL invites submission of manuscripts on international law subjects. AJIL's coverage extends beyond public international law to closely related issues of global governance, transnational law, and national or sub-state law. It generally does not publish manuscripts focused on purely private or commercial law or on comparative or foreign law, including the internal law of the European Union. AJIL will not consider submissions whose content has been, or will be, published before it appears in this journal.

AJIL welcomes submissions for Articles, Essays, and Current Developments via AJIL's electronic submission website mc.manuscriptcentral.com/ajil or through Scholastica at ajil.scholasticahq.com/.

Editorial Comments are written by members of the Board of Editors. Content for the Contemporary Practice of the United States Relating to International Law section of AJIL is generated by the editor of that section, Jacob Katz Cogan, and outside submissions are not accepted. The Recent Books on International Law section contains book reviews that are solicited by invitation of the editor, Jeffrey L. Dunoff.

The International Decisions section, edited by Olabisi Akinkugbe, focuses on final decisions (not subject to further appeal) of international courts or national courts on international law issues. It consists of contributions that are mostly proposed to the editor by readers of the AJIL. Proposals for International Decisions should be sent to Olabisi.Akinkugbe@dal.ca.

AJIL Unbound, an online initiative to supplement AJIL by publishing short, original essays, periodically issues open calls for short contributions on specified topics.

AJIL is committed to publishing a diversity of authors, whether based in the United States or abroad, and to covering a wide range of subjects and approaches. Suggestions for topics for AJIL* symposia or Agora should be sent to admin\_ajil@columbia.edu.
