

Writings on Irish history, 1951

The following list includes books and articles on Irish history in which the year 1951 is given in the work itself as the date of publication. It excludes current works of reference, parliamentary publications, writings on contemporary politics, and items in newspapers; articles of a purely derivative character; reports of archaeological finds and literary and linguistic studies, presented without reference to their historical context. The inclusion of an item does not imply any judgment of its value. Reviews or short notices of many of the items listed will be found in this journal.

'Writings on Irish history, 1951' has been compiled by Dr Ludwig Bieler and Miss Ann MacCabe, B.A., in cooperation with the bibliographical sub-committee of the Irish Committee of Historical Sciences. The compilers gratefully acknowledge the collaboration of Dr Kurt Reindel, Basel, for valuable information concerning publications on Irish history in Germany.
