Stories for Discussion

By Rev. W. L. DOTY. 176 pages. 16/-

Each story has a series of questions for discussion. The stories are intended to suggest some point of Christian teaching which may serve as a subject for analysis and discussion after they have been read.

The method is simple. A story is read aloud by a group member. Then, using the questions, the whole group, under the guidance of the director, join in a round-table discussion of the Christian teaching implied.

The stories are varied and topical. Charity, chastity, obedience, marriage, Catholic education, delinquency, Catholic Action, vocation to the religious life and so on, are the topics treated.

Lest We Forget*

Courtesy in the Convent. By the Sisters of Notre Dame. 11/-

A handy, persuasive, practical manual of etiquette to serve all sisters as a guide in their daily actions. For example there are directions for the portress, the housekeeper, the sacristan, the teacher, even for the traveller.

The Spiritual Exercises of St Ignatius*

A New Translation. Based on Studies in the Language of the Autograph. By Rev. L. J. PUHL, S.J. 229 pages. 17/-

Every effort has been made to produce a clear, idiomatic and readable translation, adding nothing to the original and omitting nothing.

Walking with God*

By Rev. KILIAN J. HEALY, O.Carm. 11/-

It is hoped that in this book all will find some inspiration and encouragement to grow in prayer that leads to intimate friendship with God.

The Laws of the Spiritual Life*

By Rev. B. W. MATURIN. Wrapper. 281 pages. 9/6

A well-ordered spiritual life must be founded on very definite laws. From a careful study of the Beatitudes of the Sermon on the Mount, Fr Maturin finds them in the words of the Divine Teacher Himself and thus he is able to draw sincere, sensible lessons whereby religious can attain union with God.

An Outline of Roman History

Constitutional—Economic—Social. By Rev. C. W. REINHARDT, S.J. With 4 Maps. 287 pages. 15/-

Presents the teacher with a lecture outline which is orderly, logical, and full.

BLACKFRIARS REPRINTS

THE EVERYDAY CATHOLIC by Martin Harrison, O.P. 'The laity (and priests who give talks to sodalities) can have no saner guide to the practice of virtues than The Everyday Catholic by Martin Harrison. "This is a miniature and simple Summa", writes Father Hilary Carpenter, O.P., in his preface, "for the work-a-day Catholic, for the tens of thousands of quiet ordinary folk who are the pillar and support of the Catholic Church in this country". There are seventy-six straightforward, practical, and pleasingly written talks—dogmatic, sacramental, devotional, moral, and ascetical . . . easily grasped and with the points all well made. It is a book to be thoroughly recommended.'
Now ready. Clergy Review

Demy 8vo, viii plus 376pp., Cloth

18s. 6d.

RELIGIOUS SISTERS. A reprint of the English translation of Directoire des Supérieures and Les Adaptations de la Vie Religieuse, written by distinguished members of the French clergy, secular and regular, and consisting of seventeen essays, falling under four main headings: 'The Theology of the Religious Life', 'The Idea of a Superior', 'Vocation and Formation of Subjects', and 'Adaptations in Modern Religious Life'. An English doctor also contributes an essay on psychology. Ready during April.

Demy 8vo, xii plus 314pp., Cloth

18s.

EYE AND THE GRYPHON by Gerald Vann, O.P. A reprint of Father Vann's work on the vocation of the Christian woman in the world today. Taking St Catherine of Siena, our Lady, and St Monica, he indicates the basic facts by which the life of the Christian woman living in the world must be guided and shaped. The fourth section is on Dante's Beatrice, 'that great symbol of Catholic womanhood'. Ready during April.

Crown 8vo, 72pp., Cloth
