YEATES, N. T. M. The breeding season of the sheep, with particular reference to its modification by artificial means using light. (With Plates 1-4 and Five Text-figures)	1
BARNICOAT, C. R., LOGAN, A. G. and GRANT, A. I. Milk-secretion studies with New Zealand Romney ewes. Parts I and II. (With Eight Text-figures)	44
MATHER, K. and HASKELL, G. Breeding cold hardy sweet corn in Britain. (With Two Text-figures)	56
BURNS, MARCA. Studies on follicle population in relation to fleece changes in lambs of the English Leicester and Romney breeds. (With Plates 5-7 and Eight Text-figures)	64
HEINTZE, S. G. and MANN, P. J. G. Studies on soil manganese. Part I. Pyrophosphate as extractant of soil manganese. (With Three Text-figures)	80
COOKE, G. W. Placement of fertilizer for potatoes. (With One Text-figure)	96
BONDI, A., ETINGER, R. and MEYER, H. The pantothenic acid content of poultry feeding stuffs. (With One Text-figure)	104
HOWIE, J. W., BIGGAR, W. A., THOMSON, W. and COOK, R. An experimental study of pig rearing. (With Plate 8)	110
HUNTER, H. and CARSON, G. P. The breeding history of Picton oats and observations on the behaviour of certain oat crosses	119
GREER, E. N. A milling character of home-grown wheat	125
HOLMES, W. The intensive production of herbage for crop-drying. Part II. A study of the effect of massive dressings of nitrogenous fertilizer and of the time of their application on the yield, chemical and botanical composition of two grass leys. (With One Text-figure)	128

PART 2 (APRIL 1949)

MCGILLIVRAY, W. A. The vitamin content of Romney ewes' milk. (With Two Text-figures)	143
DRUCE, EDWARD and WILLCOX, JAMES STUART. The determination of cellulose in nutritional studies. Part I. A new method for the determination of cellulose. (With Two Text-figures)	145
DRUCE, EDWARD and WILLCOX, JAMES STUART. The determination of cellulose in nutritional studies. Part II. A comparison of the applicability of three methods for the determination of cellulose	153
BRAUDE, R. and WALKER, D. M. Mortality, weight and body measurements at birth of Dairy Shorthorn calves	156
DONALD, H. P. The inheritance of a tail abnormality associated with urogenital disorders in pigs. (With Plate 9 and One Text-figure)	164
WAITE, R. and SASTRY, K. N. S. The carotene content of dried grass. (With Six Text-figures)	174
BREMNER, J. M. Studies on soil organic matter. Part I. The chemical nature of soil organic nitrogen. (With Four Text-figures)	183
SMITH, A. U. The control of bacterial growth in fowl semen. (With Two Text-figures)	194
BURKHARDT, JOHN. Sperm survival in the genital tract of the mare	201

	PAGE
BONSMA, JAN C. Breeding cattle for increased adaptability to tropical and subtropical environments. (With Plates 10–16 and Four Text-figures)	204
HAMMOND, JOHN. Induced twin ovulations and multiple pregnancy in cattle	222
BOOTH, V. H. and DARK, S. O. S. The influence of environment and maturity on total carotenoids in carrots. (With Six Text-figures)	226
BARNICOAT, C. R., LOGAN, A. G. and GRANT, A. I. Milk-secretion studies with New Zealand Romney ewes. Parts III and IV. (With One Text-figure)	237

PART 3 (JULY 1949)

PAUL, H. Some observations on the mechanism of phosphorus fixation in some soils of British Guiana	249
HALLSWORTH, E. G. The relationship between the crude-fibre content of pasture and other feeding-stuffs and their digestibility and starch equivalent. (With One Text-figure)	254
READ, D. R. A study of the accuracy of simple sampling methods for the estimation of egg production and mean egg weight	259
PALMER, R. C. Some properties of the wool from copper-starved Merino sheep. (With One Text-figure)	265
BREMNER, J. M. and LEES, H. Studies on soil organic matter. Part II. The extraction of organic matter from soil by neutral reagents. (With Two Text-figures)	274
BREMNER, J. M. Studies on soil organic matter. Part III. The extraction of organic carbon and nitrogen from soil. (With Two Text-figures)	280
THOMSON, W. and TOSIC, J. 'Fodder Yeast' as a dietary supplement for sheep maintained on poor-quality hay. (With Two Text-figures)	283
EL-SOKKARY, A. M., SIRRY, I. and HASSAN, H. A. Composition and variation of the milk of Egyptian sheep. (With Five Text-figures)	287
ROTHSCHILD, LORD. Electrical measurement of bull sperm activity. The effect of small electric currents on fertilizing capacity	294
MOON, F. E. and PAL, A. K. The composition and nutritive value of bracken	296

PART 4 (OCTOBER 1949)

TAYLOR, J. A valid restriction of randomization for certain field experiments. (With Three Text-figures)	303
TRIBE, D. E. The importance of the sense of smell to the grazing sheep	309
TRIBE, D. E. and GORDON, J. G. The importance of colour vision to the grazing sheep. (With One Text-figure)	313
BURNS, MARCA and CLARKSON, HILDA. Some observations on the dimensions of follicles and of other structures in the skin of sheep. (With Plates 17–20 and Four Text-figures)	315
THOMAS, BRYNMOR and ARMSTRONG, D. G. A study of some methods at present used for the determination of lignin	335
CALLOW, E. H. Comparative studies of meat. III. Rates of fattening in relation to the percentage of muscular and fatty tissue in a carcass. (With Four Text-figures)	347
COOKE, G. W. Placement of fertilizers for row crops. (With Plate 21 and Two Text-figures)	359
DOWLING, D. F. Problems of the transplantation of fertilized ova. (With Plates 22–25 and Three Text-figures)	374

British Crop Husbandry

H. G. SANDERS

- When this standard work first appeared in 1939 Farmer and Stockbreeder said of it "This book will always be valuable as a vast store of agricultural knowledge of the kind that goes to make good husbandry." This second edition, entirely revised to bring it up to date, confirms that opinion. Farmer and Stockbreeder. 18s. net

British Grasses

S. F. ARMSTRONG

The first part of this book is botanical: in it all native species are described and illustrated. The second part is agricultural, and deals with the choice and cultivation of grasses as crops. The book was first published in 1917; the fifth printing of the third edition of 1937 is now ready. 18s. net

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

COMMONWEALTH AGRICULTURAL BUREAUX

The journals and occasional publications of the two Institutes and ten Bureaux in this organization provide an introduction to the world literature on all aspects of crop, grassland and animal husbandry, horticulture, dairy science, forestry, and the health of crops and animals.

RECENT TECHNICAL COMMUNICATIONS

THE PRODUCTION AND UTILIZATION OF SILAGE

A REVIEW OF WORLD LITERATURE IN ABSTRACTS 1950. 10s.

While it has not been possible to produce a balanced review of the whole problem, abstracts of all papers and other publications which have appeared over a period of some 15 to 20 years have been brought together, in order that this may serve as a reference book to the very extensive literature.

RECENT ADVANCES IN FRUIT JUICE PRODUCTION

By V. L. S. Charley and others 1950. 15s.

In this publication experts combine in filling out in detail the latest discoveries in technique of production, particularly as they effect methods of deaeration and clarification; concentration; retention of vitamins and the fortification of juices with these accessory food factors; and the function and use of enzymes in modern juice production.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF VEGETATION ON INDUSTRIAL WASTE LAND

By R. O. Whyte and J. W. B. Sisam 1950. 10s.

This publication is the ultimate outcome of a study of the problems and techniques of reclamation of industrial waste land by the study of vegetation. The great majority of the information has been collected from unpublished sources from those who have undertaken the work or are interested in its execution.

The Journal of Agricultural Science is issued in quarterly parts of about 120 pages with plates and figures, four parts constituting a volume.

Volumes XVI-XX (1926-1930) are out of print. Quotations can be given for other back volumes and parts.

Quotations can also be given for buckram binding cases. (Suspended.)

Papers for publication should be typewritten or written in a very legible hand, and may be sent to Dr J. HAMMOND, School of Agriculture, Cambridge, or to the associate Editors. Other communications should be addressed to the University Press, Cambridge.

Bibliography should be given under the heading of "References" in the following form:

Surname of authors (in alphabetical order), initials, date of publication (in brackets), title of Journal (abbreviated according to the World List of Scientific Periodicals), volume and pages of reference. In the text a reference should be quoted by the author's name and date (in brackets).

All names of Journals and books should be in italics.

Contributors will receive twenty-five copies of their papers free.

The subscription price for each volume, payable in advance, is 40s. net per volume (post free); single numbers 15s. net. Subscriptions may be sent to any Bookseller, or to The Cambridge University Press, Bentley House, 200 Euston Road, London, N.W.1.
