APSA STATE OF THE PROFESSION SERIES Publishing Political Science

This guide to publishing in political science provides practical advice from leading political scientists and publishers. The book opens with a discussion of the state of publishing and review of publishing opportunities for political science.

The second part covers writing for particular venues and audiences such as literature reviews, textbooks, journals, blogs, and reference books. The third section provides practical advice from publishers on how to get your work published, including writing successful book proposals, establishing sound contract with a publisher, and understanding the journal peer review process.

A useful guide for ALL political scientists

Politics & Gender

Published for the Women and Politics Research Section of APSA

Editors:

Kathleen Dolan
University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, USA

Aili Mari Tripp
University of Wisconsin, Madison, USA

Politics & Gender is an agenda-setting journal that publishes the highest quality scholarship on gender and politics and on women and politics. It aims to represent the full range of questions, issues, and approaches on gender and women across the major subfields of political science, including comparative politics, international relations, political theory, and U.S. politics. The Editors welcome studies that address fundamental questions in politics and political science from the perspective of gender, as well as those that interrogate and challenge standard theoretical approaches, methodologies, and analytical categories.
