

The United Nations and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty

The Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty represents the cornerstone of efforts by the international community to prevent the proliferation of nuclear weapons while ensuring that the benefits of nuclear technology are readily available for peaceful purposes.

This publication details the Treaty and brings together, for the first time, key documents relating to the nuclear non-proliferation issue. Complementing the documents are a detailed chronology and an introduction by Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali, which provide an overview of the key role played by the Organization and its Member States in meeting the new and intrinsic challenges of the nuclear age.

The reproduced texts include:

- Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons
- Documents of the Review Conferences and list of parties to the Treaty
- International Atomic Energy Agency documents concerning safeguards
- Unilateral security assurances to non-nuclear-weapon states given by the nuclear-weapon states
- Treaties establishing nuclear-weapon free zones in Latin America and the Caribbean and in the South Pacific

THE DUTY TO EXTRADITE OR PROSECUTE IN INTERNATIONAL LAW

by M. Cherif Bassiouni and Edward M. Wise

The emergence of a global community is accompanied by a realization that greater cooperation is essential to its welfare. This is particularly true in the area of crime prevention and control. The increase in international and national crime has contributed to a genuine growth in the body of international criminal law. Until an effective system of international criminal justice is established, the duty to prosecute or extradite will remain the foundation for international criminal law enforcement.

This book examines in detail the variety of international instruments which impose a duty to prosecute or to extradite.

ISBN 0-7923-3349-7, $95.00

THE PRINCIPLES OF EUROPEAN CONTRACT LAW

Part I: Performance, Non-Performance and Remedies

prepared by The Commission on European Contract Law

edited by Ole Lando and Hugh Beale

The Principles have been drawn up by an independent body of academic lawyers from each country of the European Union, under a project supported by the European Commission. The Principles are stated as articles, each accompanied by a commentary to explain its purpose, its operation and its relationship to the other articles. Each article also has a note providing a survey of the national laws on the topic.

Part I of The Principles of European Contract Law deals with performance, and non-performance of contracts and the remedies available. Part II, which will be published in 1996, will cover formation, validity, interpretation and the authority of agents.

THE INTERNATIONALISATION OF INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION

by V.V. Veeder, Q.C. Martin Hunter, and Arthur Marriott

This book contains the papers presented at the Centenary Conference celebrating the foundation of the London Court of International Arbitration in 1893. Leading international experts on commercial arbitration seek to identify what can usefully be derived from past experiences to meet future challenges, opportunities and problems facing international arbitration in the next decade and into the 21st century.

ISBN 1-85966-107-6, $112.00

FOREIGN DIRECT INVESTMENT IN CHILE

by Roberto Mayorga and Luis Montt

This new title addresses all aspects of foreign direct investment in Chile, whose fast-growing economy is considered to be a model in Latin America. In the past few years, the phenomenal growth of foreign investment in Chile has enticed companies from over sixty of the world's nations. This book analyzes Chilean legal norms, offering a useful perspective on the regulations of each sector of the economy, and on foreign investment.

INTERNATIONAL TECHNOLOGY TRANSFERS

edited by Harry Rubin

This book offers a practical analysis of cross-border technology transactions and alerts parties to these agreements to the salient issues they should confront and resolve as they structure and implement their transactions. It also discusses many issues with reference to the laws of specific jurisdictions, such as the EU, the US, Latin America, China and Japan.

EVALUATING FEDERAL SYSTEMS

edited by Bertus de Villiers

Many countries are currently debating the merits and implications of a federal-type dispensation. Some fear that it may encourage regional apartheid and discrimination, while others see it as a cohesive force. Federalism, however, has many faces and applications, and it offers a host of ways to accommodate the constitutional needs of a particular country. This book illustrates and compares a variety of experiences that countries across the world have had in the practical application of federal principles, and moots a long-felt need by analysing recent international developments in federalism and regionalism.

BILATERAL INVESTMENT TREATIES

by Rudolf Dolzer and Margrete Stevens

Prepared under the auspices of the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes, this book examines BIT provisions with particular emphasis being placed on treatment, expropriation and the settlement of disputes. It shows that a great degree of uniformity exists in modern investment treaties and thus clearly establishes that the significance of these treaties lies not only in the extensive network of rights and obligations of their respective parties but also in the contribution of these treaties to an emerging international acceptance of common standards for the treatment of foreign investment.

June 1995. 352 Pages, Cloth,
ISBN 90-411-0065-2, $124.00

INTERNATIONAL HARMONIZATION OF COMPETITION LAWS

edited by Chia-Jui Cheng, Lawrence S. Liu, Chib-Kang Wang

This collection of papers delivered to a symposium on International Harmonization of Competition Laws examines the policies and practices of competition laws in major industrial jurisdictions and emerging industrialized economies. World class scholars and leading enforcement officials contributed to this volume, which examines the difficult issues of harmonizing competition laws.

ISBN 0-7923-3279-2, $181.50

SEEKING ASYLUM

Comparative Law and Practice in Selected European Countries

by Hélène Lambert

The human and political problems presented by refugees and asylum are acute. This is reflected in international concern and the existence of a treaty framework. The emergent body of refugee law is an amalgam of international, regional and national rules and procedures. But it is national law and practice which in reality determines an individual's right to asylum.

This book is a comparative study of the relevant law and practice of six European States, it is a timely work which has no existing parallel in terms of its focus and range.

Issue Papers on World Conferences

The Issue Papers on World Conferences offer information of interest to government officials, representatives of non-governmental organizations and other individuals on the conduct and outcome of the conferences. The conferences are selected for the cross-cutting character of the topic addressed and for the opportunity to develop international legal frameworks. The Issue Papers are a cost-effective method of providing important materials in a timely fashion to decision-makers, the media and the public.

INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS REPORTS

Editors: Professor D. Harris; Dr M. Craven; Dr A. Lister

International Human Rights Reports (IHRR) aims to provide ready access to a comprehensive range of international documentation relating to human rights that is of use to both academics and practitioners alike.

As a matter of course, IHRR provides a comprehensive coverage of the following material:

- * The decisions / views of all United Nations treaty bodies concerning individual and State petitions including, in particular, the decisions of the Human Rights Committee.
- * The general comments / recommendations of all the UN human rights Committees.
- * The concluding comments / observations of the UN human rights Committees following their consideration of State reports.

In addition, it provides a range of other UN material including pertinent resolutions of the UN General Assembly and the Commission on Human Rights, and a selection of other material such as treaties and reports that appear to be of particular interest or importance.

IHRR also provides documentation relating to regional human rights systems that is not otherwise widely available. In particular, it provides the decisions and opinions of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, the Recommendations of the Committee of Ministers under the European Social Charter, and the text of any new regional instruments.

*IHRR is published in three parts every year, (each approx. 250pp)
The annual subscription rate is: UK, £56; Overseas, $115 (inc. p&p)

Steven J. Burton

"Public law scholars and political theorists interested in jurisprudence will find this book rewarding on at least three counts—the originality of its substantive contribution respecting a central and much-debated jurisprudential issue, the lucidity of its argumentation, and its careful reckoning with much of the relevant literature....All three counts together make it a delight to read."

DOES ANYONE KNOW WHY THIS IS HAPPENING IN CHECHNIA?

The most learned minds are scratching their heads about this; and the deeper you delve, the more complex it becomes.

However, everyone agrees that nothing can be understood without a clear and accurate account of this subject or any other where human rights are involved.

The Helsinki Monitor goes to the source for its information. This is the only way we can be sure we are giving our readers a first-hand report - and reliable analysis - on questions of security and cooperation in Europe.

Articles in the next issue of the Helsinki Monitor include:

- Aspects of national and international law regarding Russia's action in Chechnia
- The situation in Kosovo
- The relationship between the European Union and the OSCE
- The European security structure and the Russian Federation.

FORDHAM UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

MASTER OF LAWS PROGRAM

LL.M. degrees in:

*BANKING, CORPORATE & FINANCE LAW
INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS & TRADE LAW*

The Graduate Program of Fordham University Law School offers two courses of study leading to graduate degrees. Students may pursue either course of study on a full or part-time basis.

International business and trade law, along with banking, corporate and finance law, are vitally important and expanding areas of law today, given the interdependence of the United States and its trading partners and the convergence of the banking, corporate, insurance and other financial sectors. Fordham Law School has developed special resources and expertise in these areas. Fordham University School of Law has been the leading U.S. center for the study of European Community Law for two decades. It is also one of the few law schools in the country with advanced curriculum in banking law and regulation.
