

News and Notes

THE INSTITUTE FOR ADVANCED STUDY: SCHOOL OF HISTORICAL STUDIES announces fellowships for research in the history, thought and culture of the western world. The Ph.D. (or equivalent) and publications are required. Qualified candidates of any nationality may apply for one or two terms. Some travel funds are available. Applications for 1988–89 are due before October 15, 1987. For further details, write the Administrative Officer, School of Historical Studies, Institute for Advanced Study, Olden Lane, Princeton, NJ 08540.

THE FOLGER SHAKESPEARE LIBRARY FELLOWSHIP PROGRAMS, 1988–89. Short-term doctoral fellowships with stipends up to $1,500 per month for a term of one to three months will be available during June 1988 to May 1989. A completed application requires three copies of the applicant's c.v., three copies of a 500-word description of the research project, plus three letters of recommendation submitted directly to the Fellowship Committee. The deadline for completed applications is March 1, 1988.

National Endowment for the Humanities Senior Fellowships and Folger Senior Fellowships: a limited number of these fellowships will be available to senior scholars who have made substantial contributions in their fields of research and who are pursuing research projects appropriate to the collections of the Folger. Fellowships are for six to nine months to be used between September 1988 and August 1989. They carry stipends of $13,750 and $20,625, respectively. Applicants should submit five copies of both a 500-word description and a c.v., including a list of publications, plus three letters of recommendation sent directly to the Fellowship Committee. The deadline for completed applications is November 1, 1987.

Application material should be addressed to The Fellowship Committee, Folger Shakespeare Library, 201 East Capitol Street, Washington, D.C. 20003.

THE COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY SOCIETY OF FELLOWS IN THE HUMANITIES, with grants from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and the William R. Kenan Trust, will appoint a number of postdoctoral fellows in the humanities for the academic year 1988–89. The appointment carries the expectation of renewal for a second year. Fellows newly appointed for 1988–1989 must have received the Ph.D. between January 1, 1985 and July 1, 1988. The stipend will be $27,500, one half for independent research and one half for teaching in the undergraduate program in general education. Additional funds are available to support research. Deadline for receipt of completed application forms is October 15, 1987. For further information and application forms, write to the Director, Society of Fellows in the Humanities, Heyman Center for the Humanities, Box 100, Central Mail Room, Columbia University, New York, NY 10027.

NATIONAL HUMANITIES CENTER FELLOWSHIPS 1988-89. The National Humanities Center, North Carolina, announces the availability of 35-40 fellowships. Most are for the academic year, but a few are available for the fall or spring semester. Senior scholars and younger scholars (several years past the doctorate) may apply. Scholars from any nation are eligible. In addition to fields normally associated with the humanities, applications are welcomed from representatives of the social sciences, the arts, the professions, and public life. While in residence at the Center and pursuing individual projects, scholars are invited to take part in the various activities offered: interdisciplinary seminars, lectures, conferences, etc. Stipends are based on the scholars' usual academic salaries and amounts vary according to the outside help given each scholar. All Fellows receive travel expenses to and from the Center for themselves and their families. Applications, postmarked by October 15, 1987, consist of a form (available from the Center), a curriculum vitae, a 1,000 word project proposal and three letters of recommendation. For information and application materials write to Kent Mullikan, Assistant Director, National Humanities Research Center, 7 Alexander Drive, Research Triangle Park, NC 27709.

THE DIVISION OF EDUCATION PROGRAMS OF THE NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES invites applications from colleges and universities for curriculum and faculty development in Renaissance Studies: art history, history, literature, philosophy or appropriate interdisciplinary combinations. Proposals that involve the incorporation of this material in western or world civilization courses or in the core curriculum are welcome (deadline, October 1). Scholars from several colleges, universities, museums or libraries may propose a summer or academic year institute for faculty in undergraduate or pre-collegiate teaching (deadline, December 1). Draft proposals for review should be received two months in advance. For further information, write or call Elizabeth Welles, Program Officer, Division of Education Programs, Room 302, 1100 Pennsylvania Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20506; tel.: (202) 786-0384.

THE JOHN SIMON GUGGENHEIM MEMORIAL FOUNDATION has awarded fellowships for 1987 to the following RSA members for the projects noted: Alan E. Bernstein (U of Arizona), A history of hell from the Bible to Dante; Melissa Meriam Bullard (U of North Carolina), An edition of the letters of Lorenzo de' Medici; Clark Hulse (U of Illinois), Poetry and painting in the Elizabethan Renaissance; William J. Kennedy (Cornell U), The reception of Petrarch's poetry in the Renaissance; Michael Lieb (U of Illinois), The visionary mode in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance; Carla Rahn Phillips (U of Minnesota), The Spanish wool trade, 1350-1780; Daniel Russell (U of Pittsburgh), Emblematic structures in Renaissance French culture.

THE BIBLIOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY OF AMERICA has awarded research fellowships for 1987 to the following RSA members for the projects noted: Martha W. Driver (Pace U), The image in print: The illustrated English book in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries; Wyman H. Herendeen (U of Windsor), Additional Manuscript 40, 676 and the Library of Thomas Cranmer.