

EDITORIAL POLICY & GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

In the tradition of the HOGENDORPcentre, the European Constitutional Law Review (EuConst) follows the classical approach of constitutionalism, to discuss EU law's developments as well as comparative public law of the member states, political and constitutional theory and history. The journal is a platform for scholarly discussion of European constitutional events and evolution. It is open to contributions in this field from any country in the world and from any discipline. These contributions should satisfy as to substance, apart from the common scholarly criteria, two specific conditions, to a) have a distinctly European relevance and b) include a reference to and discussion of legal aspects involved.

Submission of Material

Authors are requested to send their manuscript to the Editorial Office European Constitutional Law Review, c/o HOGENDORPcentre, P.O. Box 1030; NL – 1000 BA Amsterdam, E-mail: EuConst@uva.nl. All submitted materials should be in English. Materials may be submitted at any time of the year and, if accepted for publication, will be published at the earliest available opportunity.

Copyright

Copyright is exclusively vested in EuConst and the author(s) jointly. Acceptance of the Board of Editors' offer to publish implies, however, that authors agree to an embargo on publication elsewhere, either in English or another language, for a period of two years following the date of publication in EuConst. The agreement of the Board of Editors will be necessary before the article can be subsequently published elsewhere.

Revision

Articles accepted will be edited, linguistically and substantively, subject to author's approval.

Books for Review

These should be sent to Dr. Lars Hoffmann, Tilburg Institute of Comparative and Transnational Law (TICOM), Tilburg University, P.O. Box 90153, 5000 LE Tilburg, the Netherlands. E-mail: Lars.Hoffmann@uvt.nl.

The G.K. VAN HOGENDORPcentre FOR EUROPEAN CONSTITUTIONAL STUDIES, short: HOGENDORPcentre, is a Jean Monnet centre of excellence at the University of Amsterdam. Founded in 1996, it promotes research and course development in the field of European Constitutional Studies, bringing together the disciplines of constitutional (including comparative) law, history, political theory. Gijsbert Karel van Hogendorp, 1762-1834, is the auctor intellectualis of the Dutch Kingdom's first constitution, of 1814.

Apart from editing the European Constitutional Law Review, the HOGENDORPcentre hosts or co-hosts yearly conferences and runs a series of publications, the Hogendorp-papers, published by Europa Law Publishing <http://www.europalawpublishing.com/european_law/erad.htm>.

CAMBRIDGE

JOURNALS

European Review

A Journal of the
Academia Europaea

Editor

Theo D'haen, Leuven University, Belgium

journals.cambridge.org/erw

The European Review is a unique interdisciplinary international journal covering a wide range of subjects. It has a strong emphasis on Europe and on economics, history, social science, and general aspects of the sciences.

The 2009 individual subscription price has now been cut to only: £30 / $80 (previously £46 / $80).

If you are a member of the Academia Europaea, why not recommend to your friends and colleagues that they subscribe at the new lower rate?

Further information can be found on the journal's homepage. Orders can be placed by email at: journals@cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

CAMBRIDGE

JOURNALS

Review of International Studies

Published for the British International Studies Association

Review of International Studies
is available online at:
<http://journals.cambridge.org/ris>

To subscribe contact Customer Services

in Cambridge:
Phone +44 (0)1223 326070
Fax +44 (0)1223 325150
Email journals@cambridge.org

in New York:
Phone +1 (845) 353 7500
Fax +1 (845) 353 4141
Email
subscriptions_newyork@cambridge.org

Editor

Nick Rengger, University of St Andrews, UK

Review of International Studies serves the needs of scholars in international relations and related fields such as politics, history, law, and sociology. The Review publishes a significant number of high quality research articles, review articles which survey new contributions to the field, a forum section to accommodate debates and replies, and occasional interviews with leading scholars.

Price information is available at:
<http://journals.cambridge.org/ris>

Free email alerts

Keep up-to-date with new material – sign up at <http://journals.cambridge.org/alerts>

For free online content visit:
<http://journals.cambridge.org/ris>

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

T · M · C · A S S E R P R E S S

Participation in EU Decision Making Implications on the National Level

by

Tamara Takács

This book explores the European Union decision-making processes from the perspective of the Member States. The participation of Member States in these procedures poses serious tasks and challenges to their national institutions (i.e., governments and parliaments) and requires significant institutional and operational adaptation. The book offers a detailed account of the decision-making processes in the first, Community pillar of the EU and an insight in the general practices of some Member States participating therein. The analysis then turns to specific practical experiences in both the domestic and Brussels arena, through a detailed case study on Hungary, a relatively new Member State.

The book is a valuable tool for academics and researchers in the fields of European Constitutional/Institutional law, European politics, Comparative Constitutional law, European and Comparative Public Administration. It is also of interest for national civil servants dealing with EU affairs or organisations training national civil servants for the coordination of EU policies, the representation of the national position in Brussels and the implementation of European Union law at the national level.

Tamara TAKÁCS is presently working as a Lecturer International and European Institutional Law at the Utrecht University School of Law (The Netherlands). She is a member of the Ius Commune Research School (the Netherlands), and the European Union Studies Association (EUSA).

www.asserpress.nl/cata/takacs/fra.htm

2009, ISBN 978-90-6704-294-9

388 pp., hardbound

GBP 65.00

Distributed for T.M.C. ASSER PRESS by Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

JOURNALS

Knowledge is no longer shelved

The Cambridge Journals Digital Archive contains more than 160 journals, more than 3 million pages and more than 8 million linked references. Knowledge is now more visible and more searchable than ever.

journals.cambridge.org/archives

 CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

T · M · C · A S S E R P R E S S

Fifty Years of European Integration: Foundations and Perspectives

Edited by

Andrea Ott and Ellen Vos

On the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the European Economic Community and the 15th anniversary of the European Union, this book brings to the fore 50 years of European integration. It reflects on the foundations of these entities, their present state and their future. It focuses on three important themes that have gained particular importance throughout the years: (1) the constitutional architecture of the Treaties and the role of the institutions and other bodies within the institutional setting; (2) the need for further integration and the possible limits or needs for a more differentiated approach to integration, and (3) the EU's borders and identity, including the issues of enlargement, European neighbourhood policy and EU citizenship. In conclusion, the book raises the question whether the European integration process can serve as a model for other regional integration processes. Hence, it compares the South American, African and Asian integration processes and tries to detect commonalities and differences in relation to the European Union integration process.

The unique character of this book will be particularly appealing to practitioners working in or with the EU institutions and law, both inside the EU as outside, in America, Africa and Asia. It is a valuable source of information for master and graduate students in European law and European studies, and those interested in other regional integration processes.

The Editors of the book are both affiliated to Maastricht University, Maastricht, The Netherlands, and working in the department of European and International Law. Andrea Ott as a Senior Lecturer in European Union Law and Ellen Vos as a Professor of European Union Law.

www.asserpress.nl/cata/9789067042543/fra.htm

2009, ISBN 9789067042543

455 pages, hardcover

GBP 80.00

Distributed for T.M.C. ASSER PRESS by Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org

EUROPEAN CONSTITUTIONAL LAW REVIEW

2009 VOLUME 5 ISSUE 2

CONTENTS

Editorial

Internet Piracy and the European Political and Legal Orders 169

Articles

Steve PEERS – Free Movement, Immigration Control and Constitutional Conflict 173

Mathias MÖSCHEL – Race judicata: The Ban on the Use of Ethnic and Racial Statistics in France 197

Giacomo DELLEDONNE & Giuseppe MARTINICO – Handle with Care! The Regional Charters and Italian Constitutionalism's 'Grey Zone' 218

Samantha BESSON – European Legal Pluralism after Kadi 237

Bruno DE WITTE – International Law as a Tool for the European Union 265

Erika DE WET – The Role of European Courts in the Development of a Hierarchy of Norms within International Law: Evidence of Constitutionalisation? 284

Thomas COTTIER – International Trade Law: The Impact of Justiciability and Separations of Powers in EC Law 307

Case Note

Peter VAN ELSUWEGE & Stanislas ADAM – Belgium. Constitutional Court. The Limits of Constitutional Dialogue for the Prevention of Reverse Discrimination. Judgment 11/2009 of 21 January 2009 327

Distributed by:

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge Journals Online
journals.cambridge.org

1574-0196 (2009) 5:2;1-4

