

Studies in Ephesians

Edited by F. L. CROSS, D.D.

J. N. SANDERS, Dean of Peterhouse, and Professor NINEHAM respectively argue for and against Pauline authorship. The BISHOP OF LEICESTER writes on 'The Pauline Catechesis', D. E. H. WHITELEY on 'Christology', E. K. LEE on 'Unity in Israel and Unity in Christ', S. M. GIBBARD on 'The Christian Mystery' (the Eucharist), S. F. B. BEDALE on 'The Theology of the Church', and C. P. M. JONES on 'The Calling of the Gentiles'. 12s. 6d.

God and Us

JEAN DANIELOU

Translated from the French of Dieu et Nous by Walter Roberts

The author has set himself in this book to examine all the different ways of approach to the knowledge of the Deity. He deals in succession with the God of the Religionists, the God of the Philosophers, and the God of the Christian faith. This completeness of perspective gives a special character to a learned work which has come to be regarded as an indispensable introduction to the subject on the Continent. Forthcoming, 21s.

I Peter

A Paschal Liturgy

Professor F. L. CROSS, D.D.

A new study of the Epistle from a liturgical and patristic angle. He traces a fascinating connection between this puzzling book and the celebration of Easter in the Early Church. 'The essay is a stimulating study of first-class importance.' Expository Times, 2nd Imp., 3s. 6d.
