

People in Political Science

Activities

Richard A. Brody, professor at Stanford University, has been reappointed a member of the College Board Development Committee in Advanced Placement Government and Politics for the 1986-87 academic year.

Glen Browder, professor of political science at Jacksonville State University, won election in November as Alabama's Secretary of State. Browder previously served as State Representative.

Jeanne Nienaber Clarke, associate professor of political science at the University of Arizona, has been appointed to be a member of the Fellowships to American Women Awards Panel of the American Association of University Women Educational Foundation for the period October 1, 1986 to June 30, 1988. The American Women Awards Panel gives out fellowship awards of about $1.7 million annually to women graduate students and women professors, with the largest amount of money going to women graduate students.

Hanna J. Cortner, Executive Assistant, Pima County Board of Supervisors (Tucson, Arizona), and adjunct associate professor, School of Renewable Natural Resources, University of Arizona, has received a Universities Council on Water Resources Professional/Government Fellowship. Under the fellowship, she will work with the Institute for Water Resources of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in Ft. Belvoir, Virginia and participate in the American Association for the Advancement of Science Congressional Science Fellows Program.

Robert B. Denhardt, research professor of public administration at the University of Missouri-Columbia is president-elect of the American Society for Public Administration. He will take the office of president at ASPA's Annual Conference in Boston in March 1987.

Richard S. Hillman, professor of political science at St. John Fisher College, has been awarded a Fulbright Award to teach in Venezuela during the 1986-87 academic year.

James B. Holderman, president of the University of South Carolina, has been named by President Reagan to serve a six-year term on the National Science Board, the policymaking body of the National Science Foundation.

Edward T. Jennings, Jr., associate professor and chair of the Department of Public Administration, began a three-year term on the National Council of the American Society for Public Administration in April 1986.

Bruce W. Jentleson, assistant professor of political science, University of California, Davis, has received an International Affairs Fellowship from the Council on Foreign Relations. Jentleson, a specialist in U.S.-Soviet relations and international political economy, will join 11 other fellows from the U.S. working and conducting research in American foreign policy.

People in Political Science

Ellen Mickiewicz, professor of political science at Emory University, has been named president-elect of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavonic Studies.

Daniel Patrick Moynihan, U.S. Senator from New York, has been elected to membership in the American Antiquarian Society.

Michael Nelson, associate professor of political science at Vanderbilt University, will be editor and coauthor of a Congressional Quarterly book, Guide to the Presidency, and will be editor of a series of books titled Interpreting American Politics, to be published by The Johns Hopkins University Press.

Richard Rose, director of the Centre for the Study of Public Policy at the University of Strathclyde, has been named honorary vice president of the Political Studies Association of the United Kingdom. During the second semester of the current year he is the Hinkley Visiting Professor at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

Nicholas Wahl of New York University is the first American appointed to the Bartholdi Lectureship on Liberty. (Photo by Anne Chauvet)

Ellen Mickiewicz of Emory University is president-elect of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavonic Studies.

Victor G. Rosenblum has been elected president of the board of directors of the Consortium of Social Sciences Associations for 1987-88. Rosenblum is a political scientist and professor of law at Northwestern University Law School.

J. David Singer, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, traveled to Poland in October 1986 for a meeting to plan the next World Assembly of the International Studies Association, and then visited Egypt and Israel in connection with the establishment of ISA affiliates in those countries.

Donley T. Studlar, associate professor of government at Centre College, Kentucky, received a grant from the Kentucky Humanities Council to prepare and teach a 1987 summer course for secondary school teachers, Comparative Race Relations: United States, Britain, and South Africa.

Irvin L. (Jack) White, president of the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority, has been appointed to the Board on Mineral and Energy Resources of the National Research Council.

Maria Falco has been named vice president for academic affairs and dean of faculty at DePauw University.

Allen S. Whiting, professor of political science at the University of Arizona, attended a Conference on Sino-American Relations, 1945-1955, in October 1986, jointly sponsored by the Committee for Scholarly Exchange with the People's Republic of China (under the National Academy of Sciences) and the host university, Beijing National University. Whiting served as senior adviser and also discussant at the conference.

Nicholas Wahl, Petrie Professor of European Studies, Director of the Institute of French Studies, New York University, is the first American appointed to the Bartholdi Lectureship on Liberty, sponsored by the Gannett Foundation in association with the United States Information Agency (USIA). The Bartholdi Lectures, honoring the sculptor of the Statue of Liberty, will henceforth be given by French scholars in the U.S. and by American scholars in France.

Administrative Appointments

J. Edwin Benton, chairperson of the department of political science at the University of South Florida for a three-year term, effective August 1986.

Maria J. Falco, former dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Loyola University in New Orleans, has been named vice president for academic affairs and dean of faculty at DePauw University.

F. Chris Garcia, dean of the University of New Mexico College of Arts and Sciences, has been named vice president for academic affairs.

Jerry D. Gilbert, acting head, department of political science, Jacksonville State University.

Marianne Githens, chair, department of politics and public policy, Goucher College.

E. Clarke Ross, associate director for National and Federal Activities for the National Association of State Mental Health Program Directors.

Richard F. Rosser, former president of DePauw University, has been selected as president and chief executive officer of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities.

David H. Tabb, chairperson of the department of political science at San Francisco State University for a term of three years.

F. Chris Garcia has been selected to be vice president for academic affairs at the University of New Mexico.

Richard F. Rosser has been named president of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities.

David B. Walker, head of the Institute of Public and Urban Affairs, University of Connecticut.

New Appointments

Mohammed E. Ahrari, formerly of East Carolina University, has accepted an associate professorship in the department of political science at Mississippi State University, as of fall 1986. Ahrari is also affiliated with the Center for International and Strategic Studies as a Senior Research Fellow.

Paul Brace, assistant professor, department of politics, New York University; formerly of Colorado State University.

Charles E. Davis, associate professor, department of political science, Colorado State University; formerly University of Wyoming.

Sandra K. Davis, assistant professor, department of political science, Colorado State University; formerly University of Wyoming.

Olga Hayward-Ryer, assistant professor, department of political science, Grambling State University.

Allan McBride, assistant professor, department of political science, Grambling State University; formerly of Waverly College of Iowa.

Scott T. Moore, assistant professor, department of political science, Colorado State University; formerly Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Glendon Schubert, university professor at the University of Hawaii at Manoa, has accepted the additional position of research professor of political science and scholar in residence at the College of Law at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Eric Singer, assistant professor, department of politics and public policy, Goucher College.

Eric R. A. N. Smith, formerly assistant professor at Columbia University in New York, has been appointed assistant professor of political science at the University of California, Santa Barbara.

Michael P. Smith, professor of community studies and development and chairperson, department of applied behavioral sciences, University of California, Davis; formerly professor of political science, Tulane University.

Bradford P. Wilson has left his position as a tenured associate professor at California State University, San Bernardino, to accept an appointment as research associate to Chief Justice Rehnquist at the U.S. Supreme Court.

James Q. Wilson, Collins Professor of Management, Graduate School of Management, University of California at Los Angeles.

John T. Woolley, assistant professor, department of political science, University of California, Santa Barbara; formerly Washington University in St. Louis.

Promotions

Emily R. Gill, professor, department of political science, Bradley University.

Martin Schain, professor, department of politics, New York University.

Gary V. Smith, professor of political science, Alabama State University, Montgomery.

Rick Tilman, professor, department of economics, University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Retirements

Henry P. Caulfield, department of political science, Colorado State University, May 1986.

J. Leo Cefkin, department of political science, Colorado State University, May 1986.

Rita W. Cooley, professor emerita of politics, New York University.

Phillip O. Foss, department of political science, Colorado State University, May 1986.

Louis W. Koenig, professor emeritus of politics, New York University.

Jackson W. Selman, professor of political science and department head at Jacksonville State University, retired August 1986.

Norman I. Wengert, department of political science, Colorado State University, May 1987.

Visiting and Temporary Appointments

Joan B. Aron, on leave from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission where she is a Senior Policy Analyst, has accepted a one-year position with the Center for Public Administration and Policy, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, Blacksburg.

Betty Glad, visiting professor, department of politics, New York University.

Andre Liebich, on sabbatical leave from the Universite du Quebec a Montreal, is a visiting scholar at the Russian Research Center, Harvard, and in the spring will take up a research scholarship at the Kennan Institute, Woodrow Wilson Center.

Michael J. Malbin, adjunct scholar at American Enterprise Institute, is a visiting scholar at the department of government and politics, University of Maryland, College Park, for 1986-87.

Z. Uri Ullmann, visiting assistant professor, department of political science, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, 1986-87.

Deil S. Wright, Alumni Distinguished Professor of Political and Public Administration at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, has been appointed as the Carl Hatch Visiting Professor of Public Administration at the University of New Mexico for the spring semester of 1987.

Bradford P. Wilson has accepted an appointment as research associate to Chief Justice Rehnquist.

Deil S. Wright has been appointed as the Carl Hatch Visiting Professor of Public Administration at the University of New Mexico.

Award Recipients

Editor's Note: For a listing of National Science Foundation awards to political scientists in FY 1986, see "News of the Profession" in this issue of PS.

Eugene V. Debs Foundation

The Debs Foundation has awarded its Bryant Spann Memorial Prize for 1986 to Richard A. Cloward and Frances Fox Piven for their two-part article on registration strategy, "Trying to Break Down the Barriers" and "How to Get Out the Vote in 1988," published in The Nation on November 2 and November 23, 1985, respectively. The prize recognizes "published work which evidences social vision and commitment to social justice."

Fulbright Distinguished Fellows

To celebrate its 40th anniversary, the Fulbright Exchange Program has selected 40 American scholars and 40 foreign scholars as Distinguished Fellows. Following are the political scientists from the U.S. with their current affiliation, lecture topic, and country of visitation.

John Brademas, president, New York University. International Education and the Future of Education in the United States; Greece.

Robert A. Dahl, Sterling Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science, Yale University. American Government and Democratic Institutions; Venezuela.

Theodore J. Lowi, John L. Senior Professor of American Institutions, Department of Political Science, Cornell University. American Democracy and Government; Ecuador.

Norman J. Ornstein, Resident Scholar, American Enterprise Institute. American Constitutionalism; Hong Kong, Malaysia, Philippines, and Taiwan.

Ellis Sandoz, professor, Department of Political Science, Louisiana State University. American Government and the U.S. Constitution; Italy.

Robert Scalapino, Director, Institute of East Asian Studies, University of California, Berkeley. U.S. Foreign Policy; Korea.

Myron Weiner, Ford International Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science, Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Politics and Development; Sri Lanka.

Fulbright Scholar Program

The political scientists listed below are among 1,000 academics who have received awards under the Fulbright Scholar Program to travel, lecture, consult, and conduct advanced research abroad in 1986-87. The scholars are listed with their home institutions and the country they will visit.

Nicholas O. Berry, professor of political science, Ursinus College: New Zealand.

Laurie A. Brand, assistant editor of the Journal of Palestine Studies, Institute for Palestine Studies (Washington): multi-country award.