goes well beyond the specific community of SLA researchers. The detailed argument is developed with exemplary clarity. The way in which the thesis is structured makes it easy for the reader to find their way about, and data are presented in a very user-friendly manner'.

Christopher Brumfit Ph.D./Ed.D. Thesis Award 2013

Sponsored by Cambridge University Press and promoted by Language Teaching

Aim To recognise doctoral thesis research that makes a significant and original contribution to the field of SLA and/or foreign/second language teaching and learning.

Award Cambridge University Press books to the value of £500

Eligibility To be considered for the award:

- The candidate's institution must have accepted the thesis for the PhD/Ed.D. NO MORE THAN TWO YEARS BEFORE the date of the award application.
- The research must have been completed as part of the requirements for a doctoral degree or its equivalent at a university.
- Although the thesis under consideration must be in English, the research may be related to work concerning any second/foreign language.
- Candidates should not have applied for the award on a previous occasion.

Application Process In the first instance, applicants must submit the following:

- Two files: ONE MS WORD FILE CONTAINING A SUMMARY OF THE THESIS, not to exceed 17 double-spaced pages, with references, font size 12, AND A SEPARATE MS WORD FILE CONTAINING A 150-WORD ABSTRACT of the thesis. Both files should be clearly labelled with the candidate's name. Neither file sent should exceed 2 MB.
- Care should be taken in drafting the summary so that the referees are provided with as detailed a report as possible on the work undertaken. Candidates should prepare the text for an audience that may not be expert in all the specific concepts or methods used in your specialist topic area.
- The summary should include a brief description of the theoretical background of the research and (where appropriate) specify the research questions, the research methods (including data analyses) used and why these were chosen, the results and implications of these outcomes. Examiners will pay particular attention to: whether the study makes a significant and original contribution to knowledge and understanding of the field concerned; whether the problem tackled emerges naturally and clearly from the review of the theoretical background of the research; whether the method is presented in sufficient detail and with enough explanation of why the methods used were chosen; whether the analytic methods used are justified and shown to be sufficient for the task and clearly linked to the explicit hypotheses, predictions or questions which formed part of the stated research problem; whether the discussion and/or conclusion evaluates the project's contribution to the local and wider field of research; finally, whether there is a clear and significant contribution to the field of SLA and/or second or foreign language teaching and learning.

- PROOF OF THE AWARD OF THE DEGREE by the candidate's university. This can be a scanned copy in pdf form of the degree certificate or a scanned official letter/transcript from the university in question stating clearly the date of conferment of the degree.

Only electronic applications are accepted.

Evaluation criteria

- Scholarly or professional significance to the field of second or foreign language
- Originality and creativity
- Quality of presentation.

Read the full evaluation criteria at http://journals.cambridge.org/images/fileUpload/documents/Brumfit_published_evaluation_criteria.pdf

Dates

30 November 2013 Deadline for receipt of summary and abstract and official proof of thesis acceptance

20 February 2014 Feedback given to all candidates and call for electronic submission of theses of short-listed candidates

3 March 2014 Deadline for receipt of theses

1 August 2014 Announcement of award winner by the Editorial Board of Language Teaching

Contact details for application and further information

Dr Graeme Porte, Editor Language Teaching
E-mail: editorlanguageteaching@gmail.com