Municipal Securities can no longer be treated as "dead assets," locked away in a box and forgotten until maturity; they must be as carefully selected and managed as any other investments.

Thousands of new tax-exempt securities are issued each year, and only a firm that is continuously involved in the marketplace has the ability to research issues, evaluate strategies, design a portfolio, execute purchase and sale orders and report the status of each account on a regular, timely and professional basis. All compensation is structured on the basis of a simple annual fee.
