

Volume 11 Part 1 January 1981

---

British Journal of Political Science

---

Cambridge University Press

British Journal of Political Science

Editor: IVOR CREWE, University of Essex

Review Articles Editor: JOHN GRAY, Jesus College, Oxford

Editorial Board

DON AITKIN, Australian National University, Canberra

BRIAN BARRY, University of Chicago

HUGH BERRINGTON, University of Newcastle upon Tyne

PIERRE BIRNBAUM, Université de Paris 1

ARCHIE BROWN, St Antony's College, Oxford

ROBERT DOWSE, University of Exeter

JACK HAYWARD, University of Hull

ANTHONY KING, University of Essex

RUDOLF KLEIN, University of Bath

KENNETH MINOGUE, London School of Economics and Political Science

SAMUEL C. PATTERSON, University of Iowa

AUSTIN RANNEY, American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, Washington

FRITZ W. SCHARPF, International Institute of Management, Berlin

GRAHAM WILSON, University of Essex

RAYMOND WOLFINGER, University of California, Berkeley

EDITORIAL POLICY

The British Journal of Political Science is an independent journal, whose policy is set by its editorial board. It is committed to no methodological orthodoxy over and above the normal canons of scholarship: clear and consistent use of words, logical and mathematical validity, and the use of appropriate evidence to substantiate empirical statements. Contributions are invited in all fields of political science, including political philosophy and political sociology. Work addressed to problems of general significance to students of politics will be published whatever the period(s) or place(s) drawn upon for evidence.

© Cambridge University Press 1981

COPYING

This journal is registered with the Copyright Clearance Center, 21 Congress St., Salem, Mass. 01970. Organizations in the USA who are also registered with C.C.C. may therefore copy material (beyond the limits permitted by sections 107 and 108 of US copyright law) subject to payment to C.C.C. of the per copy fee indicated in the code on the first page of the article. This consent does not extend to multiple copying for promotional or commercial purposes.

ISI Tear Service, 3501 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19104, USA, is authorized to supply single copies of separate articles for private use only.

For all other use, permission should be sought from the Cambridge or New York offices of the Cambridge University Press.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

British Journal of Political Science (ISSN 0007-1234) is published quarterly in January, April, July and October. The subscription price of a volume (which includes postage) is £19.50 (US $57.50) for individuals ordering direct from the publishers and certifying that the Journal is for their personal use; for institutions it is £36.00 net in UK (US $99.00 in USA and Canada). Single parts cost £10.50 net in UK (US $31.00 in USA and Canada) plus postage. Four parts form a volume. Orders, which must be accompanied by payment, may be sent to a bookseller, subscription agent or to the publishers: Cambridge University Press, The Edinburgh Building, Shaftesbury Road, Cambridge CB2 2RU, or in the USA and Canada to Cambridge University Press, 32 East 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10022. Copies of the journal for subscribers in the USA and Canada are sent by air to New York to arrive with minimum delay. Second class postage paid at New York, N.Y. POSTMASTER: send address changes in USA and Canada to Cambridge University Press, 32 East 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10022.

Claims for missing issues will be considered only if made immediately upon receipt of the subsequent issue.

Oxford University Press

---

TUC: The Growth of a Pressure Group 1868-1976

Ross M. Martin

This book describes the developing role of a political pressure group which possesses an unusually important position in contemporary British politics and at the same time has a particularly long history of continuous political involvement. It is relevant not only to the study of British political and social history and to the general field of pressure groups politics, but also to Labour history, industrial relations, and the sociology of large organizations. 'Interesting and readable book.' The Observer. £14

The Political Economy of Co-operation and Participation

A Third Sector

Edited by Alasdair Clayre

The search for a solution to the problems of industry is leading towards the possibility of a 'Third sector', distinct from private industry and from public nationalized enterprise. In a 'third sector' firm those who do the work have property rights over plant and premises, appoint the management in whose quality and success they have a direct interest and take responsibility for financial loss and gain. The contributors of this book examine the issues and arguments involved. £10 paper covers £4.95

Budgetary Reform in the U.K.

Report of a committee chaired by Lord Armstrong

'The objective of the independent committee on budgetary reform chaired by the late Lord Armstrong, was to present simple proposals for untangling the current imbroglio, and in the main its ideas . . . are eminently sensible. The Government could do worse than take on board their suggestions wholesale.' The Guardian. £3.00

Dissension in the House of Commons 1974-1979

Philip Norton

'Dr Norton's research method is simplicity itself, though the amount of work he has done is all but awe-inspiring. . . His findings are, to say the least of it, startling and fascinating.' The Economist. 'Important book . . . analyses the increased propensity of MPs to rebel against their party whips in recent years.' The Times. £28.50

Oxford University Press

---

Portrait of a Progressive

The Political Career of Christopher, Viscount Addison
Kenneth O. Morgan and Jane Morgan

'Without exaggerating Addison's importance, Kenneth and Jane Morgan have seen to it that he no longer remains "an unjustly neglected figure". They write with a quiet assurance, wholly appropriate to their subject. . . the tone is reasoned and the arguments, well fortified by fact, are judicious. Their book is a most fruitful collaboration, which brings Addison and his times into focus.' Stephen Koss in The Spectator. £15

British Interparty Conferences

A Study of the Procedure of Conciliation in British Politics, 1867–1921

John D. Fair

British interparty conferences were an informal procedure adopted on at least a dozen occasions between 1867 and 1921 to encourage conciliation between political parties. Party leaders or their representatives discussed a wide range of contentious issues, such as electoral reform, the House of Lords, devolution, and Ireland. 'Individually, these essays have much to commend them. Each reflects dedicated research and a lucid exposition.' Stephen Koss in The Spectator. £17.50

The Writings and Speeches of Edmund Burke

Volume V: India: Madras and Bengal 1774–1785

Edited by P. J. Marshall

This is the first of four volumes on Burke's involvement with India. It traces the beginnings of Burke's interest in Indian government and his awareness of what he saw as intolerable abuses to the point where he committed himself to the prosecution of Hastings. It consists of speeches, including the famous ones on Fox's Indian Bill and The Nabob of Arcot's Debts as well as others not previously published, parliamentary reports, and other writings. £35

A History of Russian Thought from the Enlightenment to Marxism

Andrzej Walicki and Hilda Andrews-Rusiecka

This comprehensive handbook, by one of the leading scholars of Russian thought, will prove indispensable to students of political theory and Russian culture. £12.50