Mao Tse-tung in the Scales of History

Edited by Dick Wilson

Editor of The China Quarterly

A specially commissioned volume offering an assessment of the career and place in history of Mao Tse-tung. Ten individual chapters, each written by an internationally known scholar and past contributor to The China Quarterly, concentrate on a particular aspect of Mao's life or thought. The volume is intended for the general reader as well as the specialist and undergraduate. It is too soon for a final evaluation of Mao's remarkable life but this comprehensive collection of the best of contemporary Chinese scholarship will be an essential part of that evaluation.

Manuscripts

The China Quarterly welcomes the submission of manuscripts from all scholars, including research students, on all aspects of contemporary China and from all points of view, including those which deal with Taiwan and Overseas Chinese. Articles on China prior to 1949 are also welcome, particularly, but not exclusively, when these relate directly to contemporary China or to the history of the Chinese Communist Party. Articles should be submitted, together with a duplicate copy, to the editorial office. They should be typed in double spacing and, preferably, conform to the styling of The China Quarterly.

The China Quarterly is published by the Contemporary China Institute of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London University. The views expressed in articles are those of individual authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the Contemporary China Institute.
