

CONFERENCES ON CATHOLIC SOCIAL THOUGHT

Call for Papers

Office for Mission Effectiveness
Villanova University

As part of its commitment to exploring the contemporary relevance of Catholic Social Teaching, the Office for Mission Effectiveness will sponsor a series of conferences and invites interested parties to explore the contribution of Catholic Social Thought on a variety of issues.

CONFERENCE THEMES:

Catholic Social Thought and Racism

November 18-19, 2004

*Papers must be submitted by August 2, 2004
for consideration.*

Catholic Social Thought and Ecology

November 10-11, 2005

*Papers must be submitted by June 1, 2005
for consideration.*

Contributors are encouraged to explore:

Themes in Catholic Social Thought which illuminate and inform the causes and consequences of each issue.

Theoretical or empirical research that advances the discourse of Catholic Social Thought.

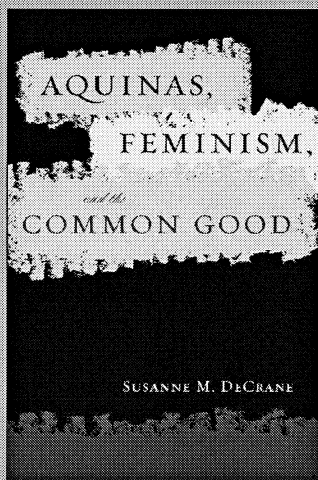

Analysis of existing documents in Catholic Social Thought that is particularly relevant to the issue.

Recommendations on how future documents might advance our understanding of the selected topic.

Papers may be selected for presentation at these conferences and/or be included in a future issue of the Journal of Catholic Social Thought, published by Villanova University.

For more information concerning preferred topics and submitting a paper, visit our web site at:
www3.villanova.edu/mission/journal/calls/2004.htm

Come Marching In.

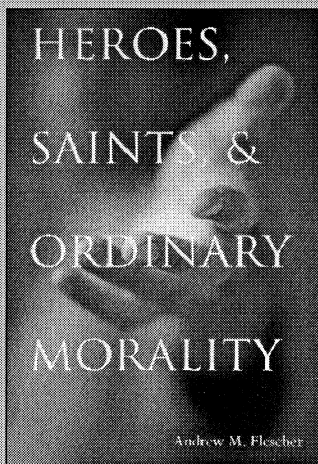

Aquinas, Feminism, and the Common Good

SUSANNE M. DECRANE

“DeCrane offers an impressive feminist ethics of the common good. Her foundations are laid carefully and her scholarship is precise. The result is a feminist hermeneutic with broad value for theological ethics, especially in a time when justice and rights must be debated cross-culturally, and human suffering hangs in the balance.”—Lisa Sowle Cahill, Boston College

0-87840-349-3, paperback, $27.95
Moral Traditions series

Heroes, Saints, and Ordinary Morality

ANDREW MICHAEL FLESCHER

“[A] sustained and learned argument in support of the centrality of altruistic behavior in the moral lives of ordinary people. Equally at home in moral philosophy and theological ethics, Flescher offers a powerful critique of the division in ethics between moral duty and supererogation. This work should open a significant debate over the validity of this distinction.”—Stephen G. Post, Case Western Reserve University, and president, Institute for Research on Unlimited Love

0-87840-137-7, hardcover, $49.95
Moral Traditions series

GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY PRESS

c/o Hopkins Fulfillment Service
P.O. Box 50370 Baltimore Maryland 21211-4370
1.800.537.5487 or 410.516.6956 FAX: 410.516.6998

www.press.georgetown.edu